Invaded Again by Mystery Planes.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, June 6.—The danger zone in Europe shifted from Czechoslovakia to the Franco-Spanish frontier today as mysterious air raiders from Spain violated French territory for the third time in a fortnight.

Nine planes penetrated three or four miles into French territory and were sighted over Puymorens and Bourg-Madame in broad daylight. They returned to Spanish territory only after French anti-aircraft guns at the border towns of Ur and Nahuja had opened fire.

Fired on By Loyalists.

When the planes reached the Spanish frontier at the town of Puigcerda, Spanish loyalist batteries opened fire, indicating the planes did not belong to the Spanish government forces.

[Other dispatches said the planes were unmarked and apparently were the same ones which bombed French territory near Orlu, Orgeix and Axles-Thermes on Sunday, and penetrated 50 miles into French territory. Planes from Spain on May 26 bombed Cerbere, French frontier town on the Mediterranean, wounding three Frenchmen and damaging houses.]

Premier Edouard Daladier, who is also minister of war, flew to the Axles-Thermes frontier district to investigate the incidents and ordered further strengthening of the military forces there. As a first measure, a company with 15 anti-aircraft guns was immediately dispatched to the border territory where the raids occurred.

Premier Visits Scene.

After personally inspecting the new anti-aircraft company and visiting the scene of Sunday's bombings, Daladier had a lengthy conference with civil and military authorities and issued orders to all garrisons along the frontier that under no circumstances should raiding planes be allowed to penetrate French territory.

Upon the government's orders the prefect of the frontier department of Pyrenees Orientales motored to the Cerdagne district and consulted local authorities concerning a new military airfield which the government intends to establish next to the Spanish frontier.

The long peaceful French-Spanish border, with the towering Pyrenees forming a natural barrier between the two traditionally friendly nations, had been unfortified for centuries.

Franco Denies Responsibility.

BURGOS, Spain, June 6.—(AP)—Gen. Francisco Franco's general staf issued a statement today that no rebel planes had been in the air near the French frontier.

"Not a single nationalist [insurgent] plane has flown nearer than 100 kilometers [62½ miles] from the Spanish-French frontier," the statement said. It added that all rebel air activity had been confined to the South Barcelona parallel.

SPANISH COAST RAIDED

ALICANTE, Spain, June 6.—(AP)—Spanish rebel air raiders swept down the Mediterranean coast today leaving at least 84 dead and 300 injured in a bomb pocked trail from Castellon de la Plana to Alicante.

Results of the swift aerial attacks were:

Alicante—30 dead, 118 injured.
Valencia—17 dead, many injured.
Segorbe—12 dead, 28 injured.
Small coastal villages—25 dead, approximately 100 injured.

Alicante's dead included three British seamen aboard the 5,775 ton British freighter St. Winifred when it was struck and set afire.

A family of seven was wiped out at Valencia, former provisional capital of government Spain, when a bomb hit a waterfront area.

Die in Air Raid Shelter.

Flames quickly enveloped the St Winifred after the noon-day raid, but were brought under control early tonight. The ship was damaged in a previous rebel raid a fortnight ago.

A nonintervention committee observer aboard the St. Winifred was stunned by the bombardment and still was unconscious several hours after the attack.

Most of the Alicante victims, ironically, were in an air raid shelter on which the rebels scored a direct hit.

HOUSE LEADER BALKS AT ADDED PRIMING OUTLAY

Assails Hasty Piling On of Millions.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 6.—[Special.]—A house leader's sharp attack upon the senate for adding more than a half billion dollars to the already huge total of the administration's pump priming bill today foreshadowed a struggle on the measure between conferees representing the two houses of congress.

It had been expected that senate amendments to the bill would be agreed to readily by the house conferees, but Acting Chairman Clifton A. Woodrum [D., Va.] of the lower chamber group referred scornfully to the casual manner in which the senate added seventy-six amendments to the bill.

Carrying approximately 3 billion, 100 million dollars for spending and lending when it passed the house, the measure was increased to $3,617,905,000 by the senate. The differences must be worked out in conferences, which are to begin tomorrow.

Assails Farm Payments.

Woodrum particularly was critical of the senate amendment providing for farm parity payments totaling $212,000,000.

"The senate committee wrote this provision into the bill virtually without hearings on the subject, without any budget estimate and over the specific statement of the President, when the agricultural bill was under consideration, that if such payments were to be authorized, taxes must be levied to meet them," said Woodrum.

"This action is in contrast with the refusal of the senate to provide processing taxes when the tax bill was under consideration recently in that body. This amendment particularly is far reaching and fundamental. It was not embodied in any way in the President's request for legislation. There has been no budget consideration of the item and only the most casual reference to it was made in the senate hearings.

Foresees Lengthy Hearings.

"So far as I am concerned, if this amendment is to be considered seriously by the conferees, then certainly we shall have to go into full hearings on the subject in order that we may have some idea of what it is all about. This will take time.

"However, I am just one congressman and in these views I may be in a hopeless minority. We shall see."

Several other senate amendments to the bill will require "very deliberate and careful thought," Woodrum declared.

The house appropriations committee today whipped into shape the last big spending bill of the session—the so called "deficiency appropriation" bill which will carry from 300 to 500 million dollars.

SOUTH FIGHTS WAGE LAW

Senate and house conferees on the minimum wage and maximum hour legislation reported progress today and predicted early agreement. There remained, however, the possibility of a southern revolt over the question of sectional differentials, which would cause trouble in the senate, delay adoption of the conference report and defeat the plan of administration leaders to adjourn congress by the end of this week.

Although in the minority, southern representatives on the committees insisted on provision for flexible wage standards.

Seek to Protect North.

Northern Democrats and Republicans, on the other hand, were determined to abolish sectional differentials, one of the major objectives of the legislation from their viewpoint being the protection of northern industry from the competitive advantage enjoyed by the south because of its low wage standards.

The northern Democrats and Republicans are supported by the American Federation of Labor, which strongly opposes any geographical differentials or any administrative board in Washington with political power over wages and hours.

The bill passed by the house makes no provision for differentials and would set up no administrative board. Minimum wages would start at 25 cents an hour and be increased automatically 5 cents a year up to 40 cents. The bill would establish a maximum work week of forty-four

Anvils clanged merrily and white sparks flew in showers yesterday as seven mighty men who had marched into Andy Tait's smithy at 1125 South California avenue proved their ability to fit shoes scientifically to the 1938 horse.

All were seeking state horseshoers' licenses, required by a law passed in 1916, and all were successful.

"This is the finest lot of blacksmiths we've examined in years," asserted Jesse Hall of Aurora, one of the three members of the examining board. "It's not often we are able to certify every man taking the tests."

Uncle Billy Makes the Grade.

Uncle Billy Williams of Louisville, Ky., who is 70, was one of the applicants. He wasn't a bit surprised when he was told he had passed.

"Well, I reckon a man ought to learn something about shoeing if he puts plates on race hosses for fifty years," he said.

Fitting shoes to horses these days is as exacting an occupation as, for instance, the repair of an automobile engine. The smith must know the anatomy of the horse's foot. He must be able to tell at a glance what size shoe the steed ought to have, and there are eight sizes. If he just casually picks up a shoe and then trims the foot to fit it he gets a black mark.

The candidates yesterday were graded 20 points on the dressing of the foot, 40 for calking and fitting, 15 for nailing and finishing, and 25 for proficiency in the oral examination on the theory of their calling.

Same as in Old Days.

"It really isn't so different now from what it was thirty-two years ago, when I started," said Tait. "The rubber pad for the horse's foot has been in use since 1900, and it's the one great advance in blacksmithing since the civil war. And there are just as good smiths now as there ever were."

Chicago has sixty blacksmith shops, each with a master smith, and in addition there are 23 journeymen workers. In the state 4,000 smiths hold licenses.

Nazis Smear Jewish Shops in Berlin with Red Paint

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, June 6.—A new anti-Semitic campaign made its appearance in Berlin today. Windows of many Jewish shops were smeared with red paint as a warning to the public that their owners are not Aryans. The word "Jew" was painted on most windows while on others were daubed "Owner is a Jew."

ELMER GLIDES DOWN FROM THE CLOUDS TO FIND A FRIEND INDEED

Detroit, Mich., June 7.—(AP)—Elmer Zook, 21 years old, looking for a place to land his glider when he saw Lake St. Clair ahead, picked the expansive lawn of a large estate. The owner hurried to the young man with offers of help. The glider was stored in a garage and the flyer received a ride back home. "Say, who was that guy who helped me?" Zook asked the man's chauffeur. "That guy," the driver replied, "is Edsel Ford."

Jersey City, N. J., June 6.—[Special.]—With a third of his city's population of over 300,000 either looking on or marching, Mayor Frank Hague tonight led Jersey City citizens, whose mayor he has been for twenty-five years, in a display of what he called "Americanism."

Director of Public Safety Daniel C. Casey estimated the crowd at 100,000.

Paris Workers Strike Gold in Ruins of House

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, June 6.—Demolishing an old building in the Rue Mouffetard, an ancient and shabby street not far from the Latin quarter, nine workmen found a mass of what they thought were medals hidden in a wall. They filled their pockets with them to take home to the children.

The medals have turned out to be gold coins of the time of Louis XV., placed in the wall by one of that king's equerries. So far more than 5,000 have been found, worth somewhere between $55,000 and $85,000, and the workmen seem to have a good chance of dividing half the amount among them, the city taking the other half because it owns the building.

Wrapped in Cloth.

The workmen had got down to the first floor wall. They backed their truck up against it so that when it fell as much as possible of the débris would tumble into the truck. If the coins had fallen into the truck they would have been dumped on some rubbish heap and probably never would have been found. But they just missed the truck, and Flaminio Mores, a laborer, saw them. They were wrapped in long sausagelike packages of coarse cloth.

He called his fellow wreckers and one of them cut open the cloth. Dull yellow slugs poured out. One workman said, "The kids at home will like these to play with," and they all filled their pockets.

But when Mores got home a neighbor insisted they were gold and persuaded him to go to a jeweler, who pronounced them gold coins of Louis XV. Mores hurried to his local police captain. The police quickly surrounded the wrecked building and took charge of the coins.

Will Also Found.

One of the lots was wrapped in parchment in which was written a will by Louis Nivelle, king's equerry, bequeathing his money to his daughter, Anne Louise Claude Nivelle. The will is in fragments, some of which are missing, but it plainly refers to 16,500 gold pieces, and this is assumed to be the amount bequeathed. Hence a search is being made for the remainder of the fortune.

San Juan Shuts Off Water at Night Because of Drouth

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, June 6.—The prolonged drouth has caused officials to order the water supply cut off each night, with heavy fines for the use of water for gardens or washing automobiles. Slight showers were reported on the south side of the island today, the first since November.

2d Mrs. Crabb Tells Story of Bride's Slaying

BY MARCIA WINN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pekin, Ill., June 6.—[Special.]—Mrs. Catherine Crabb took the stand in defense of her stepson, James Warren Crabb II., on trial on a charge of manslaughter, before a crowded courtroom in the Tazewell county courthouse here today.

Mrs. Crabb, the second wife of Willis W. Crabb, James' banker father, is 29, only seven years older than her impassive stepson, whose bride, Betty Collison Crabb, was found mysteriously shot to death on March 1 in his father's home in nearby Delavan. Members of the Crabb family insist Betty killed herself. The state contends James fired the fatal shot.

High Point in Trial.

Catherine's day on the stand was a high point of interest in the trial. Not only was she the last member of the Crabb family to testify [with the exception of James' younger brother, Daniel, who was not at home at the time of the tragedy], but she was a central figure in the events of the morning of March 1.

No matter which of the versions of the slaying may be true, all agree, as the former Catherine Steinmetz testified today, that James ran to her after the fatal shot, crying, "Catherine, Catherine, Betty shot herself." It was Catherine, various state witnesses testified, who was seen later apparently comforting him.

She, however, added even more. She told of persuading James to leave his dying wife while they ran across the hall together to telephone for a doctor. She told of burning the bed clothes on which young Betty Crabb died, at the suggestion, she testified, of Sherif Ralph C. Goar.

Adds Other Details

She threw in, too, a good many details that others, in their supposed complete narration of events, missed.

Through almost four hours of direct examination, she was demure, suave, smiling. Her voice, although low, was decisive. As Special Prosecutor John E. Cassidy cross-examined her she faltered in minor details. In her sparring she showed quick wit.

There was, for instance, the little matter of how long it took her to unlock her dressing room and get to the room where Betty lay dying. She told the grand jury "about half a second." Her answer today, to a fierce series of questions, was one already made famous by her stepson: "I wouldn't know." Asked about her grand jury response she came back quickly with "I did not testify that today."

Letters Created Stir.

Mrs. Crabb's testimony on one apparently trivial incident on direct examination created a stir in the courtroom. This was when Defense Attorney W. J. Reardon asked whether she was familiar with the dead girl's handwriting. She said she was.

Reardon then produced two letters for identification, at the sight of which the prosecution roared in protest. The jury and witness both were excluded and a verbal battle ensued.

It came to an abrupt end when Judge Joseph E. Daily summarily ruled out the letters as evidence.

Prosecutor Cassidy was not yet content. Turning back to the judge, he declared, "They'll be in half the newspapers before morning anyway."

At this Judge Daily replied sternly, "If the letters appear in print I'll lock up the jury."

With this threat, after the jury has been at large for three weeks, the value of the letters apparently trebled. It is known they were written by Betty Crabb to James. The The general opinion is they are in connection with the defense's opening

VOTERS GIVE BIG O. K. TO FOE OF COURT PACKING

Dickinson Favored in G. O. P. Race.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Des Moines, Ia., June 7 [Tuesday].—[Special.]—Victory for Senator Guy M. Gillette was conceded by the forces of Representative Otha D. Wearin early today as returns from more than half the state gave the senator, foe of President Roosevelt's court packing bill, a lead of nearly 20,000 in yesterday's primary. The other three candidates trailed far behind.

J. Don Kerlin, secretary and campaign aide to Wearin, announced he had sent a telegram of congratulation to Senator Gillette for "the senator's victory at the primaries."

Representative Wearin was at his home in Hastings and could not be reached immediately for comment.

Returns from 1313 of the state's 2,447 precincts gave Gillette 44,114 and Wearin 24,636. Gillette's total was a little more than 50 per cent of the Democratic vote. Wearin had 28.33 per cent in the 1,313 precincts.

Dickinson Far in Lead.

The vote from 1,270 precincts for Republican senator gave former Senator L. J. Dickinson, uncompromising foe of the Roosevelt administration, 77,734; Representative Lloyd Thurston, 57,359.

In the 1,313 precincts the other three Democratic candidates vote was as follows: Beyerhoff, 3,717; Meyers, 9,108, and Richardson, 5,395.

Under the Iowa law a candidate must receive 35 per cent of the total vote cast to be nominated, otherwise the nomination will be made in a party convention. It is possible at the convention to nominate any one of the candidates or some one who did not enter the primary.

Gillette was leading in most of the counties from which returns have been tabulated. Wearin, who bore on his sleeve the indorsement of Harry L. Hopkins, head of WPA and the "My friend Otha" accolade of James Roosevelt, the President's oldest son, was getting his largest vote in southwest Iowa, his home district.

Gillette Backers Claim Victory.

As the early returns came in giving Gillette a substantial lead, his headquarters here claimed his nomination by a sweeping vote.

E. H. Birmingham, state Democratic chairman, early today declared that victory was in the bag for Gillette, making him victor over an attempted purge of anti-court packer senators by the so-called kitchen cabinet headed by Jimmie Roosevelt.

The total vote was light. The Democratic poll is estimated at about 150,000. The Republican vote is figured at about 265,000. This in a state which in the 1936 election cast 1,139,000 votes for President.

In the 9th district to the northwest, old home of radicalism where Smith Wildman Brookhart used to run like a house afire, Gillette had large margins in the early reports. This is his home district. In Sioux City he was far ahead.

Wearin Behind in Dubuque.

Wearin was counting upon the vote in the populous river counties, especially Dubuque, where about 10 per cent of the Democratic vote is cast. So far it has failed to materialize. Precinct after precinct now in give Gillette leads along the Mississippi.

Des Moines and Polk county were yielding Gillette leads, so were Cedar Rapids, Mason City, Davenport, and Fort Dodge.

In the returns so far reported Gillette had 50 per cent of the vote, and Wearin 30 per cent. The total poll of the other three candidates Joseph Jud Meyers, Wilson G. Byerhoff, and Mrs. Ellsworth Richardson was 20 per cent of the Democratic vote.

Governor Has No Opposition.

Gov. Nelson Kraschel was renominated without opposition by yesterday's vote. So was George A. Wilson of Des Moines, who was Republican nominee in 1936. Two years ago Kraschel beat Wilson by only 2,431 votes, although Roosevelt carried the state by 133,779 plurality.

The day was a battle between two groups of Democrats now split by a chasm. Behind Gillette was Gov. Kraschel and the state organization. There are 28,000 state employés. Followers of Senator Herring were backers of Gillette.

Back of Wearin was the federal machine, and the possible influence of the Hopkins indorsement upon the 33,521 WPA workers.

Blame Presidential Advisers.

In the Democratic controversy the so-called kitchen cabinet at the White House has been assailed by the Gillette forces as endeavoring to liquidate Gillette because he fought the court packing bill.

Special targets have been Hopkins for his indorsement of Wearin, and Thomas Corcoran, called "Tommy the Cork" by President Roosevelt, a presidential adviser and accordion player for the White House. In his speeches Senator Gillette has insisted that President Roosevelt, Jim Farley and Secretary Wallace have remained neutral.

The kitchen cabinet, headed by Jimmie Roosevelt, has been denounced by Gillette speakers as a gang of termites seeking to bore from within Iowa politics. "Tommy the Cork" has been pictured as master mind of the supermind kitchen cabinet. The indorsement by Hopkins, followed by the "My Friend Otha" message of Jimmie Roosevelt has led to charges that radical advisers of the President are after the scalps of Democratic senators who refuse to be rubber stamps. In the background is 1940.

No White House Rebuke.

President Roosevelt himself is strong among the populace. In declaring the President has maintained strict neutrality in the Iowa scrap, Gillette's friends with a grimace privately declaim they were not born yesterday and that it seems to be a new technique of the White House. Hopkins, Gillette followers point out, got no rebuke from the White House, nor was Jimmie Roosevelt's message of friendship for Wearin frowned on.

In the contest labor has followed its regular split. William Green, president of the Federation of Labor, has called for renomination of Gillette on his 100 per cent labor record. The C. I. O. groups of John Lewis, especially in the river counties, have thrown in with Wearin. But with most of the Iowa counties Republican so far as county offices are concerned, lots of the labor folks today voted Republican.

Most of the Democratic state officers were renominated without opposition. They include John K. Valentine for lieutenant governor, C. W. Storms, state auditor, Leo J. Wegman, state treasurer. He is a supporter of Wearin. Attorney General John H. Mitchell had no primary opponent.

Congressional Contests.

For congress Representative Edward C. Eicher, Democrat, of Washington, was without primary opposition. So it was with Representative Fred Bierman, Democrat, of Decorah, in the Fourth, who will be opposed by H. O. Talle, Republican.

Ben F. Jensen, Republican, of Exira, shot into a long lead over five opponents in first returns in the 7th district. The district now is represented in congress by Wearin. Carl A. Zellmer of Atlantic held a slight lead over the nearest of his five opponents in the Democratic race in the same district.

In the 9th district, where the Republicans are laying plans for a drive to unseat Democratic Congressman V. F. Harrington, the three G. O. P. candidates for the nomination were running almost neck and neck. Harrington was ahead of Ray Murphy in the Democratic contest.

JURY FINDS TWO GUILTY OF KILLING ANTIOCH FARMER

A jury in the Circuit court at Waukegan early today convicted Michael Karapournos and Joseph Russo of the holdup murder six years ago of William Hancock, a farmer, in his home at Antioch in Lake county and fixed their punishment at 14 years each in the penitentiary—the minimum sentence for murder.

Judge Ralph J. Dady immediately sentenced the two men after denying their motion for a new trial. "You got off easy," the judge commented. "Not only were you found guilty by the jury but I am satisfied you are guilty."

The state had demanded the death penalty. Two other men are involved in the crime. Joseph Nemmer has pleaded guilty and his case is pending, while Edward T. Leonard is awaiting trial. Both were state's witnesses.

hours, which would decrease two hours a year to forty hours in two years.

Senate Bill Political.

The senate bill would create a five man board for the political regulation of wages and hours. It would have power to establish minimum wages by industries, with geographical differentials, up to 40 cents an hour, a maximum work week by industries of not less than forty hours.

The compromise proposal which met with most general approval today was advanced by Senator Elbert D. Thomas [D., Utah], chairman of the senate labor committee. It calls for a nation-wide statutory minimum wage of 25 cents an hour the first year, 27½ cents the second year, and 30 cents the third.

Provides for Boards.

At the outset of the third year, the President or the secretary of labor would appoint industrial boards for given industries in which the hours were more than forty a week and the pay was less than 40 cents.

The boards would function for five years, after which there would be a rigid nation-wide minimum wage of 40 cents an hour and a rigid, nation-wide maximum working week of forty hours.

A majority of the house conferees, including Chairman Mary T. Norton [D., N. J.], regarded this as a major concession on the part of the senate group and were delighted. The plan, however, was not put to a test among senate conferees, and it is opposed by the southern members. They object to the fixing of any statutory time limit for the application of nation-wide labor standards.

WINDOW BROKEN 3 TIMES, SO STORE DISPLAYS SIGNS

Karl W. Keefer, manager of the Vim sporting goods store at 907 East 63d street, announced yesterday that an unusual display which he arranged in the store's window two weeks ago will remain for several weeks more, despite protests of the Woodlawn police.

Instead of merchandise, several signs are displayed which state that the window is an unsafe place to put sporting goods because the panes have been smashed three times and goods valued at $750 have been stolen. Prospective customers are invited in to look around.

Keefer said that several policemen have protested against the display. "I don't expect a policeman to stand in front of the store, but I think that they ought to catch the thieves once in a while," he asserted.

E. R. SHAW BECOMES ILLINOIS HIGH COURT CHIEF JUSTICE TODAY

Justice E. R. Shaw.

Springfield, Ill., June 6.—[Special.]—Elwyn R. Shaw, who lives on a farm near Freeport, will take his seat tomorrow as chief justice of the Illinois Supreme court, succeeding Paul G. Farthing of East St. Louis, under the annual rotation system practiced by the court. Justice Shaw, who will be 60 years old on Oct. 19, never held judicial office until he was elected to the high court in June, 1933, his term running until 1942. The new chief justice married Edith Griffith on June 26, 1933, in Battle Creek, Mich. They have two daughters.

FINES HEIRESS OF VANDERBILTS IN DIVORCE ROW

[Copyright: 1938: By the New York Times.]

VEVEY, Switzerland, June 6.—The district court today fined Guy Baer, a Swiss artist, 100 Swiss francs [about $22.70] for adultery and fined the former Cornelia Vanderbilt 50 Swiss francs [about $11.35] for complicity. It ordered him to pay two-thirds and her one-third of the costs of the suit brought against them by his wife. The court further ruled they must pay Mme. Baer's lawyer 200 francs [about $45.40].

The court transferred to the civil court the other charge of Mme. Baer, brought exclusively against her husband—that he had taken away their daughter, Gladys, 14 years old.

Baer, his wife's lawyer maintained, had sought a divorce for some time in order to marry the former Cornelia Vanderbilt, who it was brought out, had legally changed her name to Baer after meeting him.

WRIT IS ISSUED AGAINST BERRY IN UNION ACTION

A temporary injunction restraining Senator George L. Berry of Tennessee, president, and other officials of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants union from taking any action against four members who have brought suit against the officials on behalf of the union, was ordered yesterday by Superior Judge Grover C. Niemeyer.

The suit demands an accounting of funds handled by the union heads and asks a permanent injunction against their interference in local union affairs. The temporary injunction granted yesterday is to remain in force until disposition of the accounting suit.

BUMPER WHEAT CROP THREATENS '39 ACREAGE CUT

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

American wheat growers are confronted with a gloomy outlook for the next year. This was indicated in information brought by Washington experts to the four day regional conference of Agricultural Adjustment administration officials and field workers, opening in the Stevens hotel yesterday.

Representatives of the AAA are holding their meeting preliminary to the launching of an educational campaign in the north central states to encourage growers to make a drastic cut in the acreage of fall and spring sown wheat under provisions of the new farm law. Ten states are represented by more than 100 men from AAA agencies. The sessions are all executive and are conducted under the direction of Claude R. Wickard of Camden, Ind., AAA director of the north central region.

Warn of Acreage Cut.

Farmers are warned by federal men that a big crop of wheat is now being harvested. Wickard gave out a statement at the end of the first day's meeting in which he pointed out that the prospective total 1938 wheat crop of around a billion bushels, together with a carryover from last year of 200 million bushels, may make it necessary for wheat farmers to reduce their wheat crop for harvest in 1939 to around 50 to 52 million acres.

Farmers likely will be asked to reduce their fall and spring wheat plantings for harvest next year approximately 30 million acres under this year's crop of about 80 million acres. Wickard indicated that such a big reduction in the planting of wheat might be necessary to protect growers against excessively low prices.

The AAA men are holding day and night sessions to discuss the details of the establishment of wheat acreage allotments under the new farm law affecting the seeding of wheat this fall and next spring. They also are considering wheat loans on the 1938 crop, government crop insurance as it affects wheat, and parity payments—all means of encouraging farmers to curtail their production of wheat. They are laying plans for their work of checking individual farms in the north central region to see how many farmers have complied with the AAA crop control program this year.

Price Adjustments Studied.

Wheat farmers are expected to be encouraged to join the government's crop curtailment plan by price adjustment or parity payments that may be made by the federal government. Director Wickard told the conferees that the senate recently adopted an amendment to the relief appropriation bill which provided 212 million dollars for making price adjustment payments to farmers next year.

The amendment provides that the government pay coöperating farmers a bonus in addition to the market price for their restricted crops in an effort to bring the total price to the farmer up to 75 per cent of parity. These bonuses would not exceed 10 cents a bushel for wheat, 5 cents a bushel for corn, 2 cents a pound for tobacco, and a fifth of a cent a pound for rice, Wickard said.

BRIDGE TENDER SEES RIVER PLUNGE; MAKES QUICK RESCUE IN BOAT

Ernest Magnuson.

Ernest Magnuson, 2925 North Linder avenue, bridge tender at the Clark street bridge over the Chicago river, saw a man plunge into the water early yesterday from the lower level of Wacker drive. Magnuson speedily put out in a row boat and rescued the man, who was unable to swim. He was identified at the County hospital as Joseph Maslowsky, 65 years old, a former inmate of the Oak Forest infirmary, who is on relief. Magnuson was aided in the rescue by his fellow bridge tender, Carl Weinert, 1610 North Luna avenue.

BURY SUICIDE TODAY.

Coldwater, Mich., June 6.—[Special.]—Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon for Mrs. Pearl Clobensky, 66 years old. She shot herself at her Union City home, near here, yesterday.

ASK SUPREME COURT TO STOP VOTE CONTEST

Attorneys for Adam S. Mioduski yesterday filed a petition in the Illinois Supreme court at Springfield asking that Judge Stanley H. Klarkowski of the Circuit court be ordered to dismiss a primary election contest suit against Mioduski. He was chosen for state representative from the 13th senatorial district in the Democratic primary last April.

John G. Powers, who lost to Mioduski by 140 votes, contends in the suit that thousands of Republicans were induced to cast their ballots illegally in the Democratic primary on the basis of County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki's interpretation of the two year primary vote switch law.

The Mioduski petition, which will be heard this afternoon, alleges that Judge Klarkowski has illegally assumed jurisdiction to pass on the validity of the primary. The next hearing before Judge Klarkowski is set for Monday.

LYONS TO START TRAILER SPEECH TOUR THIS WEEK

Before going to Springfield yesterday for the resumption of the special session of the general assembly, Richard J. Lyons, Republican nominee for United States senator, said that his first trip in the automobile trailer in which he plans to spend much of the summer will be made this week.

He will leave Springfield with State Senator Simon E. Lantz, a nominee for congressman-at-large, in time to arrive at Olney for a meeting at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. From there he will drive to Flora for an evening meeting. Other candidates on the state ticket are expected to attend both meetings.

On Friday the group will appear at Marion in the afternoon and at Pontoon beach, near Granite City, in the evening. The final meeting of the week will be in Jacksonville Saturday afternoon.

ALDERMEN APPROVE CHANGES IN LA SALLE ST. ENTRANCE TO PARK

The city council committee on trafic and public safety yesterday approved plans of the Chicago park district for changing the La Salle street entrance into Lincoln park. The project is part of a general rearrangement of park drives which would confine all north and south express trafic to lake front highways between Belmont and North avenues.

Clark and La Salle streets are affected by the improvements, which include relocation of a trafic island and widening of the pavement at the park entrance. Aldermanic consent is necessary for this part of the program. The cost of the work will be borne entirely by the park district.

Northbound trafic entering the park from La Salle street would be routed in a new drive curving across the south end to Lake Shore drive, according to plans submitted by Otto Jelinek, district engineer. Local trafic would use Clark street going north and going south would continue in Stockton drive to La Salle street.

STREET CAR MEN FIGHT PAY CUTS; THREATEN STRIKE

Members of the street car division of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employés voted last night to oppose vigorously any reduction of pay by the Chicago Surface Lines. Leaders were instructed to call a strike vote if necessary.

The union's yearly wage contract ended May 31 and negotiations for a new contract are pending. The union is seeking an increase of 10 cents an hour for its members. Basic hourly rates now start at 75 cents for beginners to 80 cents for experienced men and 88 cents for operators of one man cars. Union leaders were also instructed to seek immediate vacations to forestall company layoffs.

TRANSIT BATTLE OF ULTIMATUMS FOUGHT IN COURT

Final Showdown Delayed for a Week.

Amid a barrage of ultimatums, the final showdown on the Chicago traction problem took the stage yesterday before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson. Action was postponed for a week.

Judge Wilkerson was among those most irritated by the proceedings. His ultimatum in the matter was that unless something is done very quickly toward unification of Chicago's local transportation system, he may throw out the Abbott plan drawn two years ago for reorganization of Chicago street car lines, which has awaited his approval pending negotiations for unification.

Franchise Threat Issued.

William H. Sexton, special traction attorney for the city, was even more wroth. He threatened that unless there is action by the end of the month, the city council may refuse to renew the day to day permit, under which street cars have been operated since collapse of the 1931 unification effort. Technically, this might stop street car operation.

The principal sticking point in the present negotiations is the fact that the Chicago Rapid Transit company, operating the elevated lines, is, by reason of its physical and financial condition, the relief client of the local transportation companies, with no one willing to take on the rôle of Harry Hopkins.

Rehabilitation at Issue.

Engineers agree that rehabilitation of the "L" lines will cost many millions of dollars. The Chicago Surface Lines have $30,000,000 in cash. Their lawyers made it plain yesterday that they will not assent to any unification plan which would use this cash to rehabilitate the "L" They even disputed the legality of using the city's $68,000,000 traction fund for this purpose. They likewise refused to bind their security holders in advance to any unification plan which may be proposed by the court's committee, headed by Walter A. Shaw.

The hearing yesterday opened with a statement by Mr. Shaw. He outlined a series of questions propounded by D. F. Kelly, representing the reorganization committee of the "L" lines, and answered by Guy A. Richardson, for the surface lines.

Legal Opinion Quoted.

In response to Mr. Kelly's question, Mr. Richardson had quoted legal opinion holding that the "L" and surface lines can be consolidated within the framework of the Abbott reorganization plan. Then, however, he quoted a previous report to the court by Mr. Shaw. It found that the "L" lines have not cash or credit with which to undertake modernization and extension, and that their only hope of increased earnings is either merger with the surface lines or extension of facilities into territory now lacking fast transportation.

Mr. Shaw suggested that his committee, consisting of representatives of the surface, "L," and motor coach lines, and the city, continue meetings to determine just what funds are available for unification and modernization of the whole local transportation system. In addition to funds of the "L" and street car companies and the traction fund, account would be taken of possible federal grants, such as Mayor Kelly is seeking for his subway program.

At the close of the hearing the Shaw committee was instructed to hold such hearings and report next Tuesday. This did not come about, however, until there had been some bitter debate before the court.

Accuses Surface Lines.

Mr. Sexton opened by charging that the Chicago Surface Lines attitude was the basis for a philosophy of despair. It shocked him, he said, and he charged that the Surface Lines' suggestion of further conferences was only a policy of delay.

"We have come against a blank wall," he charged. "We have the right of self-defense, to strike back. Chicago may abandon street cars. I am not an expert, but other cities have done it. Sooner or later somebody in a position of official responsibility will be put to it to propose a plan that may be revolutionary."

Attorneys Henry F. Tenney and U. S. Schwartz, representing the street car companies, in response to a question from Judge Wilkerson, then asserted that they have no authority to commit their security holders in advance to a plan which may be proposed as a result of the pending negotiations.

DEFENDANT TOLD TO HOLD TONGUE OR GO TO JAIL

Judge Philip L. Sullivan in federal District court yesterday threatened to jail John M. Minnec for contempt if he persisted in calling government witnesses liars. Minnec, who lives at 2721 Wesley avenue, Berwyn, is on trial before a jury on charges of mail fraud in connection with two insurance companies he operated.

On cross-examination Minnec asserted that Miss Marie Tony, his former bookkeeper, had lied when she testified for the government that he often issued policies without regard to the age or health of his clients. Minnec admitted paying fines on two previous convictions, once for larceny by bailee and the other for operating an insurance company without a license.

DANIEL TUZZOLINO.

Daniel Tuzzolino, 21 years old, executive officer on the Yankee Clipper, a 42 foot cabin cruiser owned by the Sea Scouts, and eight of his fellow officers were just breaking up a meeting aboard ship last night. They are anchored near the State street bridge in the Chicago river.

They heard a splash in the water, and the conductor of a passing street car crying that a young woman had jumped in. Tuzzolino, who lives at 2143 North 73d avenue, Elmwood Park, saw her struggling in the water.

Taking off his coat he dived in, and brought her to the cruiser where his mates lifted her aboard. At Henrotin hospital the young woman said she is Miss Dale Ray, 21 years old, of the Coolidge hotel, 2950 Jackson boulevard, and that she was disappointed in love.

LIGHTNING KILLS MAN AS STORMS HIT CHICAGOLAND

Thunderstorms that swept over the Chicago area yesterday caused the death of one man, injury to two others, and much property damage.

Edwin Gustafson, 40 years old, 514 South Elmwood avenue, Waukegan, was killed by lightning four miles northwest of Waukegan. He and two other WPA workers, Charles Garvin and Roman Wendt, were standing under a tree. Garvin and Wendt were knocked unconscious.

The roof of the Lucy Flower High school at Fulton street and Central Park avenue, was struck by lightning in the evening. A chimney at the home of Fred Hartung, 9400 Gross Point road, Niles Center, was destroyed. Heavy rains on the south side flooded underpasses and basements and there were a few sections where electric service was temporarily interrupted. Hail fell in the northern suburbs. Three youths whose sailboat was overturned by a squall a half mile off Jackson park were rescued by coast guardsmen.

Temperatures considerably lower than yesterday's maximum of 81 and partly clouded skies are predicted for today.

SLIP SOVIET WAR PLANE PICTURES PAST THE CENSOR

Show Types of Fighting Machines in China.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

This morning's TRIBUNE has on its back page three photographs which are believed to be the first of their kind published in the United States. They depict the latest types of Russian military airplanes which have proved themselves the equals of the best German and Italian machines in Spain, and far superior to Japanese air forces in China.

The pictures were brought to Chicago from China by Lyman Voelpel, former Chicago flyer, who has just returned to this country after flying for four months with the 14th bombardment squadron, China national air force. They were snapped secretly by the foreign pilots of the 14th squadron in defiance of Chinese and Russian regulations which forbid photography near any airport.

Censorship Policy Successful.

This censorship policy which is enforced wherever there is Russian intervention today, has been so successful that it is said no other photographs of these ships have ever been obtained in this country.

Voelpel's pictures were made at Hankow airport in March of this year. At that time there were 12 Russian bi-motored bombers and 40 Russian pursuit planes, flown by Russian crews and served by Russian mechanics, with the Chinese aviation forces at that field. It was this squadron of 12 Russian bombers that flew 600 miles from Hankow to Formosa last Feb. 24 to inflict the first aerial raid upon a Japanese civilian population.

Considered Proof of Treaty.

The presence and activities of these Russian squadrons in China is considered proof of the existence of a nine point treaty between the Chinese and Russian governments as disclosed June 2, by Donald Day, THE TRIBUNE'S correspondent at Riga, Latvia. This treaty, which was signed recently, assures soviet aid to China against Japan.

Voelpel, in describing the machines yesterday, said that the Katuska bomber was similar to the Martin bomber used by the United States army air corps. It has a range of about 1,500 miles with a 1,200 pound bomb load, a top speed of about 210 miles an hour. It is a midwing monoplane build entirely of metal with retractile landing gear and two liquid cooled in-line engines of Russian design, each developing about 700 horse power.

Top Speed Is 290 M. P. H.

The Moska single seat fighter is one of the best fighting machines of its class in the world. It has an 850 horse power Cyclone engine built in Russia from American designs, retractile landing gear, and is fitted with two machine guns. It is extremely fast, having a top speed of about 290 miles an hour at sea level. It lands at 100 miles an hour, Voelpel reported.

There are four machine guns on the Russian biplane fighter called the Chato. It is a development of the American Boeing P-12 fighter, has a fixed landing gear and the same Cyclone engine used in the Moska. The Chato is slower, but more maneuverable than the monoplane. Its top speed is said to be 240 miles an hour, and it lands at 65 miles an hour, Voelpel said.

Voelpel said yesterday that this squadron flew off Hankow airport for the entire period he was in China. He said the pictures he brought back were snapped by another member of the group who had a miniature camera.

Vacation Queen

FLORENCE LIEBERZ.

Selected from among 4,000 women workers in the Hawthorne telephone plant of the Western Electric company, Miss Florence Lieberz of La Grange was named yesterday as the girl worker whose picture will adorn the vacation stickers on the cars of Western Electric vacationing employés this summer. The vacation sticker is designed to enable employés to recognize fellow workers encountered on vacation trips. Such stickers have been used since 1929.

BURY CHILDREN BEATEN TO DEATH BY MAD FATHER

Medical men and officials responsible for the release of a maniac father, George Joksus, were denounced yesterday by the Rev. Anastasius Valancius as he stood over the white coffins that contained the bodies of two Joksus children, hammered to death by the father on June 2, the day after he was released from Kankakee State hospital. They were Leonard, 5½ years old, and Eleanor, 18 months. The tragedy occurred in their home at 536 West 33d street.

George Joksus.

Joksus was arraigned yesterday in Felony court and the case was continued until June 30, when it is hoped the condition of Mrs. Joksus, whom he also beat with the hammer, will have improved sufficiently to allow an inquest. She is in critical condition at the County hospital.

FREUD ENABLED TO FLEE BY USE OF RANSOM FUND

New York, June 6.—[Special.]—Dr. Sigmund Freud, 82 years old, famous psychoanalyst, who has established himself in a new home in London, virtually was ransomed from the Nazi Austrian authorities, it was learned here today.

A fund handled by the emergency committee of relief and immigration of the American Psychoanalytic association has been used to assist many scientists out of Austria, it was said, and special efforts were made in Dr. Freud's behalf. How much money was turned over to Austrian Nazis for the release of Dr. Freud could not be learned, but it is known that the state department coöperated in obtaining his release.

The New York City representative of the emergency committee of relief and immigration of the American Psychoanalytic association is Dr. Lawrence S. Kubie. Dr. Catharine Bacon is in charge of the fund collection in Chicago, with assistants in Philadelphia, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Boston, Washington, Baltimore, and other cities.

A BROKEN DOOR LETS OUT SECRET IN HARRY'S LIFE

Brings Wives Together; Puts Him in Jail.

Mrs. Anna Stokes hammered and hammered on the front door of her bungalow at 1814 Wenonah avenue, Berwyn, last Tuesday, but no one answered. Fearing that her ever loving husband, Harry, had met with some mishap, she called police.

In a few minutes police brawn had made splinters of the front door, but Mr. Stokes was not inside. This angered Mrs. Stokes, who rushed down to the police station and swore out a disorderly conduct warrant for her husband.

Mr. Stokes Is Annoyed.

While she was there Mr. Stokes appeared at the bungalow. It was his turn to be annoyed. So Mr. Stokes started for the station to complain about citizens who break down other citizens' front doors.

But before he could even make a complaint he was arrested on his wife's warant. Then it was the policemen's turn to be confused when Mr. Stokes introduced the woman with him as Mrs. Stokes.

"Stokes? Stokes?" said Mr. Stokes' companion. "Why you told me and the minister your name was Schultz when we were married May 28."

[At this point the drama reaches an intermission, denoting the passage of six days' time and a change of scene to yesterday in the Berwyn court of Police Magistrate Frank Pavek. Mr. Stokes now has two charges of bigamy against him.]

Mr. Stokes speaks:

"Why, I didn't mean to do any wrong. Mary and I were going to tell Anna all about us. I'm sure Anna wouldn't have minded. She wanted me to be happy. That's what she would always say when we had any trouble. I was never very happy with Anna, but Mary is my perfect soul mate. We had two days of wedded bliss. Then came the police and Anna."

Mary is Mrs. Mary Ruzicka, 34 years old, of 2224 Gunderson avenue, Berwyn, a divorcée and mother of a 5 year old son. When they met last March, Mrs. Ruzicka said, Stokes introduced himself as Harold Schultz, a lonely widower.

Gets His Shirts Back.

When Stokes asked for time to get a lawyer, Magistrate Pavek continued the hearing until June 20.

"And by the way, Mrs. Ruzicka," he inquired, "what's in the package you have there?"

"This," replied Mrs. Ruzicka as she handed the package to the meek, sandy haired defendant, "is his laundry. "If I can't have my man I don't want his clothes around."

DEPRESSION WITHOUT JUSTIFICATION, FRANK TELLS BUSINESS MEN

Milwaukee, Wis., June 6.—[Special.]—Dr. Glenn Frank, chairman of the Republican party's program committee and former president of the University of Wisconsin, told a convention of feed men here today that the most tragic phase of the present business depression is that there is no justification for it. He demanded an abandonment of governmental policies which have been shown to be unworkable.

Communism no longer is a threat in America, Dr. Frank said. Stalin's purges, he declared, have rid the party of its most dangerous members, its sincere fanatics. America's future will be a contest between democracy and Fascism, he said.

AIR CONDITIONING PAYS, INDUSTRIAL PHYSICIANS TOLD

Raises Efficiency, Cuts Illness, Says Maker.

Air conditioning has brought a sharp increase in worker efficiency and a decrease in time lost through sickness, 1,500 members of the American Association of Industrial Physicians and Surgeons were told last night at the opening session of their annual meeting in the Palmer house.

Dr. Willis H. Carrier, chairman of the Carrier corporation of Syracuse, N. Y., which manufactures air conditioning equipment, drew on studies to show that air conditioning is of major importance in industrial health.

Days Lost Cut in Half.

The Los Angeles Times, he said, experienced a 46 per cent decrease in days lost in the first year that its building was air conditioned. A corresponding saving was made in the cost of sick benefits paid under the newspaper's mutual insurance plan.

The Chicago Title and Trust company reported that the afternoon lag among its employés during the summer months had been almost eliminated by the installation of air conditioners.

Dr. Carrier cited experiments made in British coal mines, which showed that miners working in temperature of 82 degrees could produce only 59 per cent as much as they produced when the temperature was kept at 66 degrees. At 75 degrees their output fell to 91 per cent of the amount produced at 66 degrees.

"Ability to work rapidly decreases at temperatures above 75 degrees," he said.

Accident Rate Reduced.

In the Moro Velho gold mine in Brazil, he continued, there were twenty fatal accidents in the sixteen months prior to use of a refrigerating and air conditioning system and only six accidents in the sixteen months afterward. The output increased 13 per cent.

Dr. Carrier said that when the Robinson Deep gold mine on the Rand, South Africa, mechanically reduced temperatures of air entering an 8,500 foot shaft to 35 degrees to increase production so that the temperature at no place in the mine exceeded 86 degrees it was feared that the native miners would be more susceptible to pneumonia since they had to pass through the colder air in coming to the surface.

But in comparing the unconditioned Chris shaft with the air cooled Turf shaft, the company's medical director found that there was a slight increase for 1936 in pneumonia among the Chris workers. The pneumonia rate among workers in the Turf shaft dropped from 58.4 to 34.4 per 1,000.

Commission U. S. Cruiser Nashville at Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Pa., June 6.—(AP)—The cruiser Nashville was commissioned today in a brief ceremony at the navy yard. While the crew of 600 and 200 officers stood at attention, Rear Admiral Watt Cluverius, navy yard commandant, delivered the command to Capt. W. W. Wilson of New Castle, Del.

EIGHT FINED $5 ON CHARGES OF MAYWOOD GIRL

Eight men who had been arrested on charges of contributing to the delinquency of Patricia Germaine, 14 years old, of Maywood, pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct yesterday in the court of Police Magistrate Edward Markham in Maywood. Each was fined $5 and costs.

They are Benjamin Leak, 33 years old, 212 South 5th avenue, Maywood; Wilson Robins, 18, of 1601 South 14th avenue, Maywood; Goon Vickie, 35, a Chinese, 505 Lake street, Maywood; Andrew Leo, 18, of 1406 North 20th avenue, Melrose Park; Vito Nardrello, 22, of 1017 North 22d avenue, Melrose Park; Patrick Gannon, 17, of 417 Lake street, Maywood; Renny Celli, 19, of 173 North 24th avenue, Melrose Park, and Ralph Pasquerella, 21, of 1028 North 21st avenue, Melrose Park.

Eighteen others also accused of having relations with the girl pleaded not guilty and their cases were continued. Charges against all men were reduced to disorderly conduct after the grand jury refused to indict them. The Germaine girl, who escaped last Tuesday from juvenile authorities, is still missing.

G-MEN EXAMINE 2D EXTORT NOTE SENT TO WIDOW

Government agents last night examined a letter received by Mrs. Mary Muto, 38 years old, 518 South Western avenue, which she believed was the second attempt to extort money from her.

Last Friday Mrs. Muto, who owns a small candy store, received a letter demanding payment of $2,000. Protected by federal officers, she kept the rendezvous, but the extortionist failed to appear.

In keeping with instructions Mrs. Muto did not open the second letter, but wrapped it in cellophane to preserve any finger prints and turned it over to government men. She said it was addressed in the same handwriting as the first letter. The agents refused to discuss its contents.

Describes Night of Tragedy.

When Mrs. Crabb first took the stand she related the events of the night of the tragedy. She said she retired at 8 p. m. and was awakened at about 2:30 a. m. by loud noises as James and his wife returned from a party. Her husband got up, the witness said, went into their dressing room, and lit a cigaret. She followed, going into an adjoining bathroom.

When she emerged, she testified, she saw Betty sitting on a davenport smoking a cigaret.

Q.—[By Reardon]—What, if anything, was said by Betty Collison Crabb? A.—She said she had enjoyed the party. She told us people she remembered were there. I can't remember the conversation.

Then, Mrs. Crabb related, Betty went to her bedroom while James and his father were having an argument. When the argument continued, she said, the elder Crabb called the Delavan police.

Tells of Hearing Shot.

Two officers arrived, and as Banker Crabb leaned out the bathroom window to converse with Town Marshal R. T. Burbidge a shot rang out.

Q.—Then what happened? A.—Jimmy cried, "Catherine, Catherine, Betty's shot herself." I turned to Willis and said, "It's a shot." Then I ran to the dressing room door and unlocked it, and there was Jimmy standing there.

Q.—What then? A.—Jimmy was there and I went back to the bedroom with him. We both called Betty and of course she didn't answer. Jimmy went around to the other side of the bed and I was afraid he was going to pick her up. [This remark was stricken from the record.] I said, "Hurry, Jimmy, we have to go call a doctor," and we went out.

Q.—What was his condition? A.—He was crying—shocked, nervous, and crying.

Q.—What was the first thing Jimmy said to you? A.—"Catherine, Catherine, Betty's shot herself."

Q.—Anything further? A.—When we were in the room he said, "Well, I don't know why she should do it."

Describes Betty's Position.

Asked to describe the position in which the dying girl lay, the witness said one leg was hanging over the side of the bed, the other in a bent position. Her right hand, she testified, was "up like this," gesturing until her own arm was bent over her head.

Q.—Where was her left arm? A.—I didn't pay much attention.

Several state's witnesses, including the two Delavan officers and Dr. H. W. Brink, had testified Betty's right wound.

Q.—From that time you came out that door, did James at any time go back into the bedroom? A.—No, sir.

[E. W. Ringo, Delavan constable, testified for the state that he saw Crabb emerging from the bedroom some ten minutes after the shot. In his unsigned confession, read to the jury last week, James admitted going back to the room.]

Questioned About Revolver.

Later the defense sought to bring out through her the fact that Betty Crabb knew how to use the heavy .45 Colt revolver with which she was killed.

The revolver, Mrs. Crabb said, had been on the bedside table for more than two months, and about two weeks before her death Betty ran and grabbed it one night to frighten prowlers away.

Q.—What did she do? A.—Well, she had the gun lying on her lap.

Q.—How long did she keep her hands on it? A.—About an hour and a half.

When the prosecution objected to questioning about how deftly she held it, Defense Attorney Reardon switched quickly back to the morning of March 1.

Crowd Stirs in Surprise.

"What," he asked, "became of the bed clothes that Betty Crabb died on?"

"The sheets, blanket, and mattress were burned," Mrs. Crabb replied.

"At whose suggestion was that done?" Reardon asked.

As the courtroom stirred in surprise, Defense Attorney Reardon asked, with double emphasis: "When?"

"Right after he left [the morning of March 1]," Mrs. Crabb said.

Q.—Describe the sheets with reference to powder marks. A.—I saw nothing of the kind.

Q.—Did not Sherif Goar say, "Destroy the sheets. This is a clear case of suicide?"

Before Reardon could complete his sentence, the prosecution had objected and Judge Daily cried sternly, "The jury will disregard that."

Asked whether Sherif Goar had the gun in his hands while she was there, Mrs. Crabb said he did not, but, hitting her left hip, she said, "He said, 'I have it right here'."

FORMER CITY EMPLOYE CONVICTED BY JURY IN JOB SELLING SWINDLE

A jury in the court of Judge Rudolph Desort yesterday found John T. Malahy, 54 years old, formerly an assistant superintendent in the city's water pipe extension department, guilty of operating a confidence game. The conviction carries a penalty of one to ten years in the penitentiary.

John T. Malahy.

Malahy, who was a city employé for twenty-seven years, was accused of accepting payments from six persons on his promise that they would be appointed to state or city jobs. The complainant in the case ended yesterday was Raymond J. Fligel, 2228 South Kostner avenue. He testified that he gave Malahy $600, which was to be returned if he was not made a policeman. The appointment didn't materialize and Malahy didn't return the money.

The defendant's plea was that he had accepted the money only as middleman and had turned it over to another city employé who has since died. A motion for a new trial will be argued June 21.

FAVOR INCLOSED FIRE ESCAPES IN BUILDING CODE

The city council subcommittee on the building code yesterday recommended passage of the chapter in Chicago's new code covering the requirements for various means of exit from buildings. Deputy Commissioner of Buildings Robert Knight explained that the chapter encourages the use of inclosed fire escapes in large buildings. Where such escapes are built the number of ordinary stairways and exterior fire escapes required is reduced.

Inclosed fire escapes are protected on all sides by fireproof walls and are devised so as to remain free from smoke. They are required in tall buildings where fire escapes on outside walls are prohibited. The chapter will be submitted to the committee on building and zoning today.

DIES AT SYNAGOGUE DOOR.

Dr. Aaron Weinberg, 70 years old, 1321 South Troy street, fell dead, apparently of heart disease, yesterday as he was leaving the Shaarei Torah synagogue at 1301 South Sawyer avenue. He was a retired optometrist.

60 VISITORS SEE GOOD AND BAD OF ILLINOIS PRISONS

Tour Joliet-Stateville in Drive for New Institution.

Joseph Ragen, superintendent of prisons, yesterday was host and guide to sixty persons who were shown through the old penitentiary and diagnostic depot at Joliet and the relatively new prison at Stateville. The group had been invited by A. L. Bowen, director of the state department of public welfare, who asked their assistance in obtaining a new prison for Illinois.

The contrast between the Joliet and Stateville prisons was expected to convince the visitors that the Joliet institution is obsolete, insanitary and unfit for further use as a penal institution. The contrast was sharp. At Joliet the cells are narrow and dreary and without plumbing or running water; at Stateville all is light and airy.

Used for Hardened Convicts.

Superintendent Ragen said only repeaters and hardened convicts are now kept at Joliet. First term convicts more than 26 years old are held at Stateville; those less than 26 go to Pontiac reformatory.

Yesterday the prison count was as follows:

At Joliet, 1,768; at Stateville, 3,916; at the diagnostic depot where newcomers are held and studied for several weeks, 185, and at the farm, 146; total, 6,015. Many cells intended for one contained three inmates yesterday.

"In 1907 when I asked the legislature to provide for a possible prison population of 2,000, I was laughed at," said Senator Richard J. Barr of Joliet, member of the state senate for thirty-six years. "No one ever dreamed we would have over 6,000 at this prison."

Operated As One Unit.

The Joliet and Stateville prisons are a mile apart but are operated as one institution. The diagnostic depot is across the road from the old prison; the farm is just west of the newer prison.

Representative Raymond O'Keefe, chairman of the committee on public welfare and three other members of the committee, Representatives Matt Franz, Mason Sullivan, and Michael Hennigan, were among the visitors. Other Chicagoans in the group were Judge Harry M. Fisher, Jessie Binford of Hull House, Mrs. William E. Lewis of the Woman's City club, Howard Van S. Tracy of the Citizens' association, and Prof. E. W. Burgess of Chicago university.

Parole board members Michael Howlett and Guy McGaughey were in the party, as was U. S. Collector of Customs Joseph A. Ziemba, Helen M. Hazard, warden of the woman's prison at Dwight, and Warden O. H. Lewis of the Pontiac reformatory. The visitors had luncheon at the prison farm.

Warning! The grocery of Michael J. Flynn at 1225 Devon avenue is not a soft touch for robbers.

A young man with a pistol walked into Flynn's yesterday while the proprietor was bending over a basket of apples and said, "Give me your money or I'll blow your brains out." Flynn reached for the cash register with one hand and slammed it shut. With the other he seized the pistol, pushing its barrel up. The robber fired twice, but the bullets plunked into the ceiling.

A clerk, Emil Jung, ran to Flynn's assistance. After being pommeled by both men the bandit fled with his nose bleeding. The grocer turned the pistol over to the police.

Too feeble to march, Daniel Wedge of Aurora, nevertheless, will be in the parade tomorrow at the Illinois G. A. R. encampment in Aurora. Mr. Wedge, who is 96 years old, has hired himself an ambulance. Mr. Wedge and James E. Lord, 90 years old, are the only members of the Aurora post left. They are co-chairmen of the encampment. They said yesterday that they expect 25 to attend.

Bandit Captured

Francis E. Smith. George Duncan.

PARISIAN TAKES STAND IN TRIAL OF DRESSMAKERS

New York, June 6.—[Special.]—Suzanne Capurro, a Paris dressmaker, testified today in Federal court that one coat was the only garment made in the New York workroom of Marcel Rochas, Inc., a French dress house, when it opened in September, 1937. Rochas and Guy Guerin de Fontjoyeuse, manager of the store, are on trial charged with smuggling in high priced Paris dresses for sale in this country.

The government maintains that most of the dresses sold in the Rochas shop were made in France and brought into this country duty free on the backs of mannequins and in trunks of various employés of the firm. Among the mannequins waiting to be called as witnesses were Ann Naylor Challe and Ethel Chamberlain.

PICK JURY TODAY FOR TRIAL OF 2 IN POLICE SCANDAL

Selection of a jury to try Detectives Earl Flannery and Frank McKune in the Town Hall police scandal case is to begin today before Judge Rudolph Desort in Criminal court. The trial had been scheduled for yesterday, but Judge Desort was hearing another case.

Flannery and McKune have been suspended from the police department until the charges have been heard. They are charged with conspiracy as a result of the liberation of a prisoner arrested by two Town Hall uniformed policemen. Judge Desort indicated he will grant the plea of Harold Levy and George Crane for permission to withdraw as the defendants' lawyers.

SLAYER ADMITS RAPE; ANOTHER IN PRISON FOR IT

Nixon Tells of 2 Attacks on Women in Hotel.

Thomas McCall.

Robert Nixon, colored rapist-killer, told Chief of Detectives John L. Sullivan at the detective bureau last night that he was the prowler who attacked two women in the Washington hotel, 167 West Washington street, in the fall of 1936.

His new confession—he already had admitted the brick slayings of five women and numerous rapes—came as a surprise to police, for in one of the Washington hotel cases the alleged attacker was caught, signed a confession, and now is serving a sentence of five years in the penitentiary. He is Thomas McCall, 39 years old, an engraver who resided in the hotel.

McCall was convicted by a jury last Dec. 14 for the rape of Miss Virginia Austin, a doll designer, in her hotel room on Aug. 15, 1936. He was arrested about a year after the attack when another woman resident told of seeing him on the fire escape outside the window of her room.

Insists on His Innocence.

During his trial McCall maintained his innocence and insisted police had forced him to sign the confession. Miss Austin also was unable to identify him. She told police she had seen only the silhouette of the rapist and thought at first he was a colored man.

In the second attack admitted by Nixon the victim was Miss Alda Deery, 29 years old, an actress. She was beaten and raped in her room in the hotel on Sept. 25, 1936.

Both of the colored slayer's confessions were made voluntarily. Chief Sullivan was called to Nixon's cell and there the killer gave him an elaborate drawing showing how he had climbed the fire escape of the adjoining four story Musicians' union building and from its roof got into Miss Austin's hotel room.

Brick Found in Room.

Nixon also said he carried a brick each time and slugged the women when they awoke. In each case police found a brick in the room.

Chief of Detectives Sullivan and Assistant State's Attorney John Boyle said they were impressed with the apparent truth of Nixon's statement. They added, however, that a careful investigation of the confession will be made and if it is verified every effort will be pointed to obtaining freedom for McCall.

"I only want to clear things up," was the Negro's laconic explanation.

Nixon and Earl Hicks, who have confessed the brick slaying of Mrs. Florence Johnson in her bedroom at 4631 Lake Park avenue on May 27, are to be taken to the coroner's inquest today.

Habeas corpus proceedings in behalf of the pair were continued yesterday in Criminal court when Prosecutor Boyle said he expected the coroner's jury would order murder charges placed against them. Boyle said the state will seek to send both to the electric chair for the killing of Mrs. Johnson.

AURORA COLLEGE YOUNG IN YEARS, MATURE IN AIMS

Goal of Service Makes Up for Lack of Tradition.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Aurora, Ill., June 6.—[Special.]—Aurora college is a child of this century, but what it lacks in tradition is met with an attitude and an atmosphere that is fruitful of effective service in the needs of this democracy today.

Dr. Theodore Stephens.

In the college physics laboratory Prof. Clarence R. Smith will show the carefully preserved evidence of the pre-historic, dug from nearby pits, while in the pleasantly furnished offices upstairs, in an atmosphere of fine paintings and selected books, Dr. Theodore Pierson Stephens, the vigorous young president of the college, a product of Yale, the Presbyterian seminary, and the University of Chicago, will talk of a life of service, the development of personality, which seeks to be the end of education and the end of evolution.

Enjoys Steady Growth.

This college of 160 students, mostly from the suburban area, but representative of the country from Massachusetts to California, has had a slow but steady growth since it was opened in 1912. During the last five years it has begun to function as a community as well as a denominational institution, and now has as its advisory committee seventeen of the leading citizens of the city.

It was begun in 1892 as the result of an adcational movement among the Advent Chritsian churches of the central west. A school was started at Mendota, Ill., in 1893 and when this was outgrown the move was made to Aurora, where citizens gave the ground and subscribed to the building fund.

The thirteen acre campus on the edge of town has three substantial buildings with plenty of room for growth. Last April the college was admitted to the accredited list of the North Central association, and recently has been raised to grade A by the University of Illinois examiners.

Liberal Arts Curriculum.

The curriculum remains a basic four years liberal arts training, with special emphasis on guidance and individual work. All the latest tests are used in distinguishing differences and abilities among the students.

The faculty of seventeen includes Dr. Orrin Roe Jenks, former president, now professor of Biblical literature. All but 10 per cent of the students earn part of their way through this college.

About one-half go into teaching and 10 per cent into the ministry. The aim is to give them something that will make them want to go on. Many enter graduate work at Chicago, Northwestern, Harvard. They become school superintendents and principals. Three are teaching in Chinese colleges, one in India.

Goal Is Gracious Living.

The college credo states:

"We believe in the small liberal arts college as an introduction to gracious and effective Christian living. It should bring the student to that intellectual majority which allows him to enter into the heritage of forty centuries of human experience. It should make him appreciatively and critically aware of the significant elements of the contemporary social order which constitutes the greater part of that inheritance, ready and able in the light of the past to help reshape the institutions of the present to the needs of the future."

The note of social service rather than financial eminence is struck here.. Socially liberal but religiously conservative is the characterization given by President Stephens. Chicago is its great social laboratory.

Students are led to a sense of responsibility, toward the integration first of personal lives and then a contribution to the social body.

[This is the ninth of a series of articles on liberal arts colleges of the middle west. The tenth will appear soon.]

Although his wife shot him in the neck last October, causing him to file suit for divorce, Tony Pinzine, 28 years old, 236 South Ashland avenue, was ordered to pay $6.50 a week temporary alimony yesterday by Judge John J. Lupe. The award was made on a cross bill filed for Bertha Pinzine, 35 years old, by Attorney Samuel Starr. It was granted because Mrs. Pinzine testified Tony had taken $3,700 from her at the point of the same gun she had used to wound him.

NORTHWESTERN'S 1888 GRADUATES WILL CELEBRATE

Northwestern university graduates of the class of 1888 will celebrate their fiftieth anniversary late this week with special events as part of the university's commencement program. There will be a luncheon Friday, followed by a tour of the north shore, and a dinner Saturday evening. Robert O. Vandercook of Evanston is chairman of the class committee and fifteen alumni of '88 have promised to help him celebrate. Their homes are in many parts of the United States, from California on the West to Massachusetts on the east.

68 AT MUNDELEIN COLLEGE GIVEN THEIR DEGREES

Sixty-eight girls were awarded degrees at Mundelein college, Sheridan road at the lake, yesterday. Among them was one award of a degree of bachelor of music education, four of bachelor of fine arts, and nine of bachelor of science. The other degrees were of bachelor of arts, two of which were granted cum laude. Candidates for degrees were presented by the Rev. William A. Finnegan, dean of the college of arts and sciences at Loyola, and the commencement address was made by the Very Rev. Michael J. O'Connell, president of De Paul.

Kansas City Girl Chosen Miss American Aviation

Birmingham, Ala., June 6.—[Special.]—From a field of sixteen beauties, Dorothy Quackenbush of Kansas City, Mo., was chosen "Miss American Aviation for 1938" at the eighth annual national air carnival held here. The winner, "Miss T. W. A.," was selected from girls representing airline companies, aircraft manufacturers, and others in the aviation industry. The judges decided Miss Quackenbush had the most beauty, charm, and interest in aviation.

"TALL STORIES"—No. 5

"Riding to hounds one day I fell far behind the other huntsmen. I sat down on a log to quench my thirst with a bottle of Blatz Old Heidelberg beer. Suddenly along came the poor fox with his tongue hanging out. I was horrified to discover it was Albert, the pet fox of the gardener's children. The hounds had lost the wild fox and had switched off on poor Albert's trail. I had to save Albert! I offered him what was left of my Blatz Old Heidelberg beer—and he eagerly seized it in his paw and drank it up. With a grateful wink in my direction, Albert was off again, swift as a breeze! To this day those hounds are probably wondering whatever became of that fox."

Their Whole Fishing Trip Spoiled

because they used the wrong lures

Such a fishing trip they had! Using wet flies, they sat and sat and sat, without getting a strike. Had they only known that a twitching surface plug would have kept them busy! Impatient, they rowed to mid-stream near a weed bed, where they whipped the water with dry flies—while the fish settled deep to avoid the midday sun. Here, if ever, was a spot for a weighted bucktail with a pork rind strip added! . . . Before they knew it, their holiday was over. And so they packed their shiny new tackle, paid the boat owner, their hotel bill, and bought their tickets back home, wondering as they settled wearily in their seats what the boys at the office would say when those promised fish were not delivered.

And yet—for a few cents, they could have made their fishing trip a grand success, with fish, fun, excitement and honors aplenty. In a few minutes they could have learned the secrets of successful fishing from a seasoned angler—a man who has known the difficulties and discouragements of all fishermen—and has found ways to overcome them.

Fishing Secrets Revealed

Bob Becker, Chicago Tribune Outdoors editor for more than fifteen years, has hooked countless bass, trout, muskies, and panfish from Alaska to Brazil. He has trolled lakes and brooks and rivers, shared dory seats with sea-going fishermen. He knows the wiles and the tactics of fish under hundreds of different circumstances. Now he has condensed his experience in a beautifully printed and illustrated 84-page handbook, "Which Lures and Where."

This handbook of practical fishing methods is the result of more than a year's work of editing a huge collection of notes accumulated during years of action with rod and line. Months have been devoted to selecting from thousands of lures those which have proved to be most popular with the fish. Weeks have been given to selecting photographs of typical fishing locations, which Bob Becker has diagrammed to show where fishing is likely to be best considering time of day, season, and depth of water. All of this information is now available to you—a liberal education in how to catch fish—for the sum of twenty-five cents.

FIRST DUTCH SHIP DOCKS IN CHICAGO AND LOADS CARGO

Prins Maurits Will Take Soy Meal Abroad.

First Dutch ship ever to arrive in Chicago, the Prins Maurits of Rotterdam is loading in the Chicago river and will sail for Antwerp, Belgium, tonight or tomorrow. The freighter is the first of three ships of the Orange line coming to this city. The others, the Prins Willem van Oranje and the Prins Frederik Henderik, are expected in July.

Brought Coal Cargo.

The Prins Maurits, which is one of the largest cargo ships that has ever come here from abroad, left Rotterdam on May 5 and loaded coal at Swansea, Wales, leaving there May 8. After a rough crossing, she docked and unloaded coal at Toronto May 29, after stopping at Quebec and Montreal. The ship reached Chicago early Sunday.

She was originally built for the Fjell line of Norway, in 1936, but was later sold to the Orange line. All steel construction, a single smokestack and special ventilators for fruit cargoes are features of her design. Her speed is 11½ knots and she is 258 feet long and weighs about 2,500 tons. With this length she has only one foot clearance in Canadian locks and cannot carry full cargo through the locks. Capt. W. P. G. Helsdinger is captain, and the crew includes 24 officers and men. First mate is Theodore Arkesteyn.

Takes Back Cattle Feed.

The freighter will carry back a cargo of 1,200 tons of soy bean meal and 600 tons of corn gluten feed from the Glidden company. The cargo, which will be used to feed cattle, is valued at $40,000. It is being loaded at the Seng Waterway warehouse, 310 West Polk street. Soy bean meal was formerly sent by train to Baltimore and shipped from there, according to William Kuiper, of the Muir Brothers of New York, grain brokers. Shipping direct from Chicago saves $5 a ton.

Bar Urges Limit of Nine Supreme Court Justices

Proposals to limit the number of United States Supreme court justices to nine, and set a compulsory retirement age for all federal judges, have just been approved by the board of managers of the Chicago Bar association. Members of the board said yesterday the plan would prevent future court packing schemes. The proposals are embodied in recommendations of the Association of the Bar of New York City.

Mr. Gallagher, president of the American Washing Machine Manufacturers' association, completed plans for National Ironer-Washer week, Oct. 23 to 29.

UPPER MISSISSIPPI RIVER TO HAVE BOAT LINE AFTER JUNE 18

McGregor, Ia., June 6.—[Special.]—The Mississippi river counties of Iowa and Wisconsin soon will echo to the whistle of a passenger boat, the first to ply the upper river in years.

A regular schedule between Clinton, Ia., and La Crosse, Wis., is to be maintained, starting June 18.

The new boat, powered by two 300 horse power motors and capable of 15 miles an hour speed, has been christened Chief Blackhawk. Capt. Jack Slyfield of McGregor, Ia., is head of a company owning the boat. Cabins will accommodate 60 passengers and the deck will handle 40 more.

Even a cocktail lounge, done in the modern manner, is provided.

Fire in Cubs' Grill Drives Three Families to Street

Three families were routed from bed and damage estimated at $6,000 was caused early today when a 2-11 fire broke out in the basement of a two story building at 1059 Addison street, across the street fro mthe main entrance of the Cubs' ball park, and housing the Cubs' Grill. The tavern, an imposing place, was remodeled last week in preparation for the Cubs-Giants series to open today.

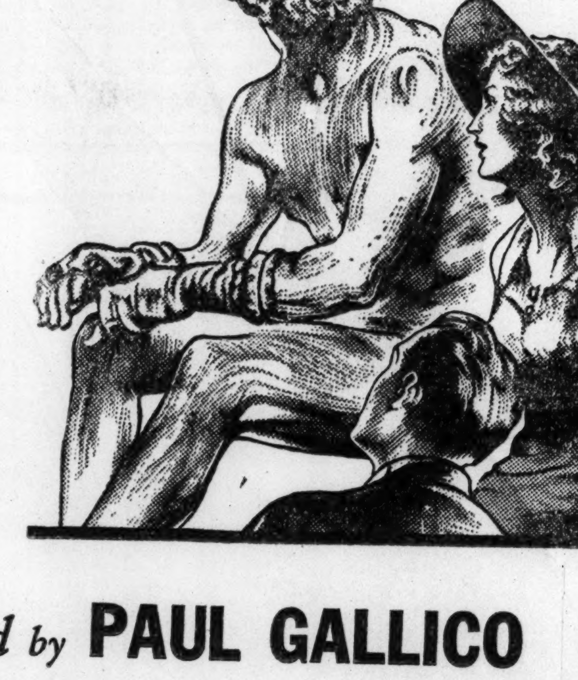
K.O.'D 2000 YEARS AGO, ROMAN PUG STAGES COME-BACK!



WAS THE STATUE of the Resting Boxer a genuine "discovery"? Or a modern fraud? Professor Lisschauer staked his career on its antiquity, but archaeologists disagreed. In desperation, his daughter Leni turned to Tommy Thompson, American sports writer vacationing in Rome. Tommy took one look at the statue, and two at Leni, then set out to bring that slap-happy slugger from the Appian Way back to life for one last battle. It was a honey of a fight, but none of them, even Tommy, could have predicted its surprising finish. See page 5 of your Post.

Moving Forward

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

SEVEN ACTS; SEVEN AGES

By CALEB

ALL THE world's a stage—and most of its properties and settings sooner or later pass across the floors of our store. Man, whose acts are seven ages, makes his exits and his entrances through varying doors according to his immediate and growing interests through life.

The equipment and the panoply for man's seven acts are gathered and displayed here so that in his progress he becomes in effect an explorer. With each new act in the pageant of his life, he discovers new and fascinating things in the store to enlist his interest, pique his curiosity, and inspire his progress.

First, the infant: the color and the activity of the toys catch his eye. The trinkets there are his store world. Then the schoolboy—and girl: their interest progressing from dolls and blocks to bicycles, saddles, and baseball bats.

And so through life. Suddenly the young man and woman discover home furnishings. Objects that once were extremely dull pieces of lumber develop a fascination worth hours of absorbed deliberation.

All through the store, every day, men and women go on voyages of exploration and discovery, finding here a fertile field for both. The young woman who long has known only hosiery counters, perfumes, handbags, gloves and dress departments, suddenly discovers our books— and a new world opens. The young man, straying in lunch-hour respite from a desk, idly fingers a slender fishing rod—and life can never be the same again.

A young couple, vaguely dissatisfied with ordinary home furnishings, one day chances to find the row on row of antiques in our furniture department. A new world dawns for them. Another pair suddenly sees in the bold, colorful brush strokes of an oil painting new vistas in life. They learn that even a small budget permits its addition to their store of treasure.

New acts—new worlds! Every day we watch them trace a plan of life for our patrons. Many of them have played acts three, four and more—and now are in their seventh upon the ever-changing, growing stage we set for them. Do you wonder that we find each day of our service here replete with new opportunity and interest?

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD

Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts

The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or chew poorly—your stomach pours out too much fluid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over.

Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes those little black tablets called Bell-ans for Indigestion to make the excess stomach fluids harmless, relieve distress in 5 minutes and put you back on your feet. Relief is so quick it is amazing and one 25c package proves it. Ask for Bell-ans for Indigestion.

HULL PORES OVER BRITISH PLAN FOR AIR BOMB INQUIRY

Will Ask More Details on Joint Action Proposal.

Washington, D. C., June 6.—(AP)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull said today he is examining every phase of the British proposal that the United States join in an international investigation of aerial bombings in Spain.

The proposal was communicated to the state department by British Ambassador Sir Ronald Lindsay, in an interview with Undersecretary Sumner Welles. Lindsay suggested that this government agree to be represented on an international investigating committee.

After studying the proposal, state department officials decided to ask Great Britain for further details.

New Japanese Reports Arrive.

The continued Japanese bombing of Canton shared interest here with the British proposal.

There are 340 Americans listed in state department records as living in the Canton consular area. No word has been received by the department to indicate any of these Americans have been killed or injured.

Reporters asked Secretary Hull whether, in view of the continued bombings, he contemplated any steps beyond the statement issued Friday by Undersecretary Wells, denouncing aerial attacks on civilian populations. Hull replied he had nothing new in mind in this connection.

Regard Observer Possible.

Previous invitations to this government to join with Great Britain and France in enterprises like the proposed inquiry have encountered the immediate reaction that this government could not accept. This immediate reaction is lacking in the present instance. Nevertheless the feeling prevails that the administration does not desire to intervene so directly in European affairs.

Many diplomatic experts believe the most this government might be disposed to do would be to attach a military observer to the international commission after Great Britain had set it up.

Britain Awaits Reply.

LONDON, June 6.—(AP)—The government was reported anxiously awaiting replies to British approaches to the United States, Sweden, and Norway inviting them to name representatives to a commission which would go to Spain to determine whether aerial bombings have military objectives.

Both pro-government and opposition newspapers bristled at attempts of the Berlin and Tokio press to ridicule the British anti-bombing move because Britain has bombed native villages on the rebellious northwest frontier of India. The British press pointed out that the Indian villages were bombed punitively only after the inhabitants had been warned to leave.

"British imperialism has not been without its faults in the past, but its methods of pacification have seldom shown the same combination of inhumanity and senselessness as has been shown in the air raids on Canton and Granollers," said the Daily Telegraph.

7 German Excursionists Killed as Train Hits Bus

BERLIN, June 6.—(AP)—Seven excursionists from Stuttgart were killed and eight injured today when their bus was hit by a train at a grade-crossing near Fuessen, Bavaria.

France Fires Warning

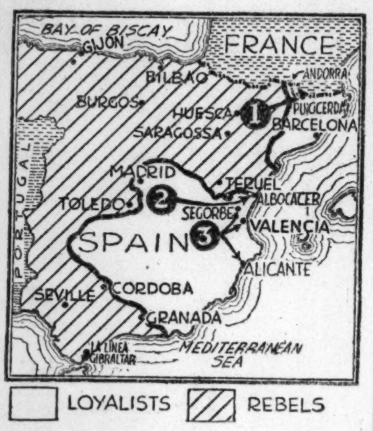
French anti-aircraft batteries yesterday fired warning shots at nine mystery planes from Spain which for the second time in two days flew over French soil. The planes were sighted at Puymorens and Bourg-Madame. On their return to Spain government batteries at Puigcerda fired many shots at them. On Sunday planes dropped bombs near Orlu, Orgeix, and Ax-les-Thermes. France is increasing border defenses.



Arrows locate (1) region of Franco-Spanish tension over mystery plane; (2) where rebels claim to have surrounded loyalists at Albocacer, and (3) towns bombed by rebel air raiders. Eighty-four persons were killed in raids, including three British seamen, at Alicante.

FIRING SQUADS BUSY IN TOWN OF REBEL SPAIN

GIBRALTAR, June 6.—(AP)—Week-end executions and hurried burials at La Linea, just north of Gibraltar, and strict military vigilance throughout southern rebel Spain were reported today by travelers reaching Gibraltar.

There was unusual activity at La Linea's cemetery. Townspeople said executions took place over the week-end but they were unable, or afraid to say, how many went before the firing squad. The hurried burials were taken as confirmation of guarded stories of stringent repressive measures following an outbreak of Spanish rebel resentment against Italian and German officers in Generalissimo Francisco Franco's service.

It was reported Saturday that thousands of leaflets inscribed, "Down with Fascism!" and "Long Live the Republic!" had been scattered in La Linea and slogans in similar vein scrawled in charcoal on walls.

Both Legs Broken by Auto, Jury Awards Him $18,500

Rudolph Serra, 2534 South Lombard avenue, Berwyn, a brewmaster, was awarded $18,500 damages from Karl Bowman, Janesville, Wis., by a jury before Judge John P. McGoorty, it became known yesterday. Serra suffered two broken legs when he was struck by Bowman's automobile. The verdict was brought in on Friday.

Invaded Again by Nine Mystery Planes.

Among the dead were nine women, a child, and two stevedores.

Today's raids followed a week of bombardments along the coast in which more than 400 persons were killed, resulting in new protests from neutral nations.

The St. Winifred was the seventh foreign ship wrecked or sunk by the rebels in the last ten days.

The British oil tanker Maryad was struck Saturday. It was a total loss except for possible salvage of its hull.

The intensive rebel bombardments have caused some foreign shipmasters to give up the lucrative Spanish government trade.

However, daily arrivals both at Alicante and Valencia are still reported, indicating the costly air attacks are far from accomplishing their purpose of stopping the government's flow of foreign supplies.

Concurrently with these new forays on the eastern seaboard, Gen. José Miaja's headquarters at Valencia said two captured Italian airmen had disclosed that there were six groups of Italian made planes in Spain, entirely staffed by Italians.

Rebels Encircle Albocacer.

HENDAYE, France [At the Spanish frontier], June 6.—(AP)—Spanish rebels reported tonight their forces had encircled Albocacer, center of government resistance blocking the southward drive toward Castellon de la Plana and Valencia.

Albocacer's civilian population of 3,000 was reported to have been evacuated just before the last exit was closed by Generalissimo Francisco Franco's legions. The town is sixteen miles from the Mediterranean and six miles from the main highway leading twenty-six miles south to Castellon de la Plana.

The other main spearhead directed at seaboard highway by way of the Teruel-Sagunto road was held stationary. This zone is about forty miles west and slightly south of Albocacer. Government commanders reported their troops were "holding firm" there against attacks on Mora de Rubielos. Government war planes shot down two rebel air raiders.

RAIDERS' BOMBS FALL IN SEA AND VALENCIA REAPS FISH HARVEST

VALENCIA, Spain, June 6.—(AP)—The backwash of war brought Valencia an unexpected blessing today—thousands of pounds of fresh fish.

Rebel air raiders, soaring away from government pursuit planes, unloaded their bomb racks in order to gain altitude quickly. The projectiles fell into the sea apparently hitting a huge school of fish.

The Mediterranean soon swept the freshly killed fish to shore where a mad rush of Valencians in boats and in swimming suits thankfully reaped a piscatorial harvest.

1,500 KILLED AND WOUNDED IN NEW RAIDS ON CANTON

Bomb Casualties 6,000 Since May 28.

BULLETIN.

HONGKONG, China, June 7—(Tuesday).—(AP)—For the ninth successive day Japanese war planes raided horror stricken Canton soon after dawn today, reports reaching here said. The planes bombed the crowded city still digging in the ruins of yesterday's bombardment.

CANTON, China, June 6.—(AP)—Japanese air raiders killed or wounded an estimated 1,500 persons today in two heavy raids on Canton.

Chinese officials feared the toll might be even higher as rescue workers searched the ruins of more than 1,000 buildings destroyed or damaged.

Today's attacks raised to 6,000 the estimated total of casualties in this city since the current series of raids began on May 28.

More than 100 bombs fell on the metropolis as the war planes swept over literally in droves in one attack at 8:30 a. m. and another two hours later.

French Hospital Blasted.

One side of the French owned Doumer hospital on the river front was blown out. A French military surgeon was wounded slightly; two Chinese patients killed, and seven injured. The hospital was struck as the raiders attempted to bomb the Pearl river bridge.

French colonial infantrymen from Shameen Island, where there are British and French concessions, were speeded to the scene to guard the property.

[Charles Arsene Henry, the French ambassador to Tokio, protested to the Japanese government against the bombing and attacks on French interests in China and said that such raids "might affect good relations between the two governments." Great Britain previously lodged a similar protest.]

A. P. Blunt, the British consul general in Canton, telephoned a protest to the Japanese consul in Hongkong against the flight of the war planes over the international quarter.

Japanese Consul Sorry.

The Japanese said he would relay the protest to Tokio and was reported to have added:

"I for one am most sorry that our people flew over Shameen. They will have to be more careful in the future."

Government buildings, railway stations, electric power plants, and the Pearl river bridge apparently were the principal objectives of the flyers.

The Japanese have been attempting since last year to destroy the transportation facilities and end Canton's importance as the gateway for war supplies from abroad.

Casualties were especially heavy along the waterfront where bombs struck amid tightly packed houseboats.

American Cameraman Stunned.

A. T. Hull of Hampton, Va., a newsreel cameraman, was stunned while filming rescue work. Edward H. Lockwood of Indiana, a Y. M. C. A. secretary, narrowly escaped injruy.

In the attack in which the French hospital was damaged, X-ray equipment and operating rooms were destroyed. Other bombs plunged to the earth within 200 yards of the French cathedral, killing Red Cross workers.

Forty-five bodies were laid in the road outside the Chinese Red Cross unit building next to the French hospital. A fire caused by a short circuit raged for four hours in a power plant, disrupting the city's current.

Eight bombs fell on Sun Yat-sen university, destroyed nearly all classrooms. Many casualties were reported among students in the Peipgheng school at Tungshan.

Thousands of refugees crowded near the international quarter tonight.

[Hongkong reported refugees continued to stream in there. The Rev. Ronald O. Hall, Anglican bishop of Victoria, Hongkong, asked of Sir Geoffry Northcote, the governor, that the government establish a refugee camp, but the request was refused. Bishop Hall left for Canton to attempt to arrange for establishment of a neutral zone near Macao, the Portuguese colony.]

Aim at Military Targets.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, June 6.—Vehemently denying that Japan is indiscriminately bombing Canton, China, a foreign office spokesman today declared that Japan must continue to bomb military establishments.

Canton, he said is the greatest depot in South China for arms and military supplies for Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, Chinese army leader.

The spokesman pointed out that the bombings were aimed at thirteen military establishments and about thirty-one places where anti-aircraft guns have been set up.

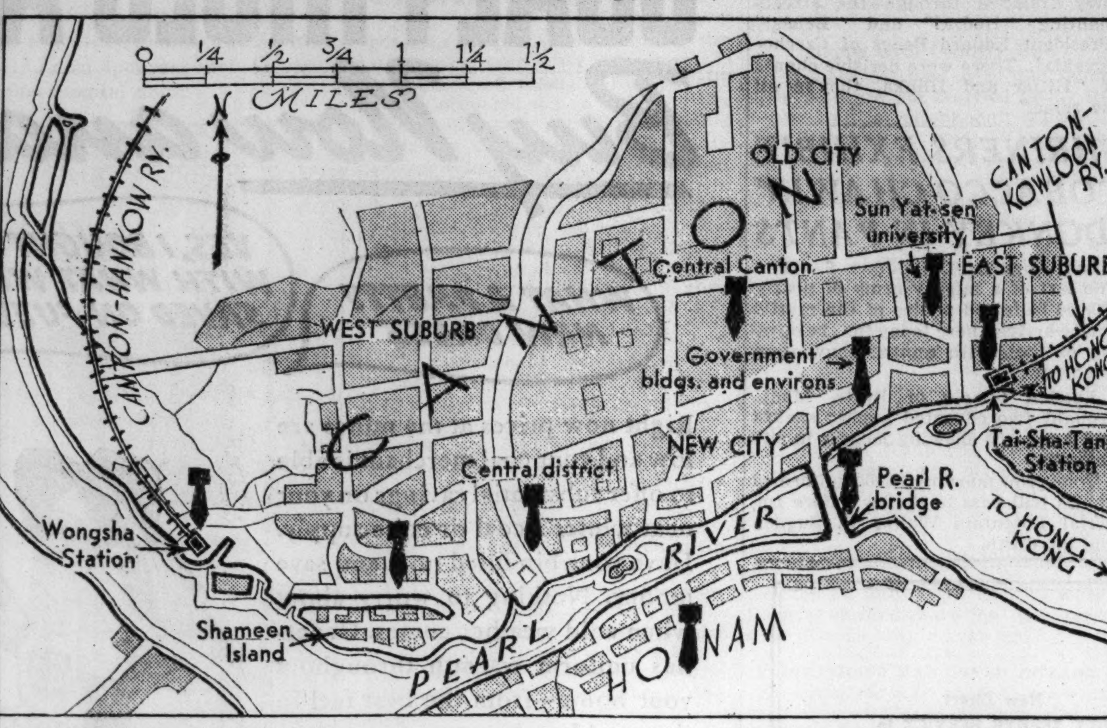
He declared that no one can deny that Canton is a heavily armed city. Tokio, he said, is notifying Great Britain to instruct its consul in Canton to advise the Chinese authorities to withdraw military establishments from the city.

The spokesman said that would be the best guarantee for the safety of non-combatants within the city, as Japan has no intention of bombing Canton if such establishments and depots are removed.

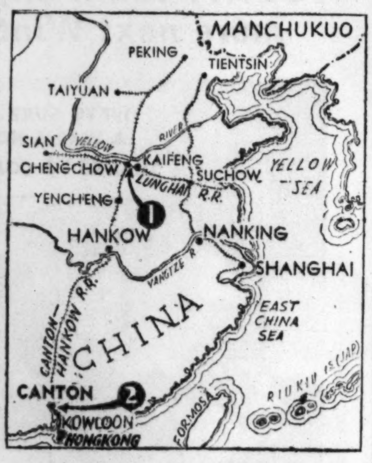
Japan does not welcome any intervention, he said, commenting on a dispatch that the United States was considering such a step.

Canton Bombing Toll 6,000 Casualties Since May 28

(Story in adjoining column.)



Figures of bombs locate important points of Canton which have been principal targets of Japanese air raids. Two raids yesterday claimed a toll of 1,500 dead or wounded and brought to 6,000 the number of casualties in raids since May 28. France protested to Tokio when bombs damaged a French hospital. The British consul protested flights over the international settlement on Shameen Island.



Arrows locate (1) the central war front and (2) area of bombings in South China. The Japanese drive reached a point halfway between Kaifeng and Chengchow. Chinese civilians and soldiers were reported evacuating Chengchow.

HANGS SELF BY ELECTRIC CORD.

The body of Anthony Sabo, 46 years old, was found hanging from an electric cord in his hoom at 819 West 34th place, yesterday. A note in Lithuanian said he was tired of living.

MISSIONARY SHOT BY JAPS; SOUGHT TO SHIELD NURSES

PEKING, China, June 6.—(AP)—Dispatches from Yenchow today reported that Dr. Frederick G. Scovel, American Presbyterian missionary, was shot and seriously wounded by intoxicated Japanese soldiers last week at Tsining in southern Shantung province.

Scovel was said to have been protecting hospital nurses from the soldiers when he was shot. It was believed he would recover. Tsining is in the part of Shantung through which Japanese forces pushed south to take Suchow.

Other reports reaching Peking told of a Chinese guerrilla attack on the Japanese garrison at Nankow, 25 miles northwest of Peking. Several Japanese soldiers and railway workers were said to have been killed. The attackers ripped up railway track leading to Peking until the line was repaired late Sunday.

SEEK TO PREVENT STRIKE AT FORD PLANT IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, June 6.—(AP)—Federal conciliators tonight sought to prevent a second strike threatened by 300 employés of the Ford Motor company assembly plant here. The workers, whose first strike was ruled "nonexistent" by a federal labor board on May 19, are demanding a collective bargaining agreement and a five day work week with pay for seven days. The Ford company is seeking to inaugurate a three day work week because of the current economic recession.

CHINESE FLEEING CHENGCHOW AS JAPS NEAR CITY

Choose to Avoid Battle on Honan Plains.

SHANGHAI, June 7 [Tuesday].—(AP)— Japanese reported today tens of thousands of Chinese soldiers and civilians were fleeing from the Chengchow area ahead of the Japanese driving west along the Lunghai railroad.

The main body of the invading forces was said to have passed through fallen Kaifeng and to be nearing Chungmow, twenty-three miles east of Chengchow, where the Lunghai intersects the Peking-Hankow railroad.

A Chinese spokesman in Hankow asserted Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's troops did not intend to fight a decisive battle on the level plains of Honan province because they did not possess sufficient mechanized equipment.

Fight Rear Guard Action.

Chinese in Hankow admitted the Japanese had reached Kaifeng, but insisted the Chinese rear guard was engaging the enemy on the city's outskirts.

They said railroad trafic between Chengchow and Hankow, approximately 300 miles to the south, was normal.

Japanese, however, spoke freely of a "Chinese debacle" in the Chengchow area. They said aerial observations disclosed dozens of troop trains carrying Chinese soldiers to mountainous regions in the southern section of the Peking-Hankow railroad while highways were choked with all types of vehicles.

Yellow River Dikes Broken.

Chinese reported the Yellow river was breaking through dikes between Chengchow and Kaifeng and had flooded part of the countryside, handicapping military operations.

South of the Lunghai corridor and more than 100 miles east of the Peking-Hankow railroad a Japanese column was reported to have occupied Chengyangkwan in west central Anhwei province.

The force split there, Japanese said, one part driving northwest toward Fowyang, fifty-five miles away, while the other struck south toward Liuan, forty-five miles distant. There are missionaries of the British-China inland mission in both towns.

Foreign military observers believed heavy attacks by Japanese war planes and the Chinese loss of munitions and equipment when Suchow fell on May 19 were responsible largely for the 140 mile advance of the invaders along the Lunghai in the last month. Operating over flat country with no opposition, the planes have been able to clear paths for the infantry time and again.

Hankow Prepares for Raids.

HANKOW, June 6.—(AP)—City and military authorities in the Hankow area, preparing against possible renewal of Japanese air raids, pushed a campaign today to evacuate danger points.

Civilians are being urged to leave zones in three adjoining cities of Hankow, Wuchang and Hanyang which would be the most likely targets for bombs.

In Hankow, one of China's provisional capitals, the authorities were understood to have decided to remove refugees and army hospital patients farther inland as promptly as possible.

NEW BARBARISM IMPERILS WORLD, EINSTEIN WARNS

Pleads for Tolerance to Save Civilization.

Swarthmore, Pa., June 6.—[Special.]—Dr. Albert Einstein today blamed a "serious weakening of moral thought and sentiment" during the last century for the "barbarity of political ways in our time."

The famous mathematician told the graduating class of Swarthmore college that "taken together with the terrifying efficiency of new technical means, this barbarization already forms a fearful threat for the civilized world."

In a low voice, without emotion, the scientist read his six-page manuscript which included sharp implied criticism of dictator countries, especially Germany, and emphasized a plea for tolerance in the widest sense, without which, Dr. Einstein contended, there could be "no question of true morality."

Morality Not a Fixed System.

"Morality, in the sense here briefly indicated," he said, "is not a fixed and stark system. Rather it is a standpoint from which all questions arising in life could and should be judged."

At this point Dr. Einstein voiced what many in the audience interpreted as an indirect appeal to this country to take the lead in creating a world order of security and justice. He followed this appeal by deploring a passive attitude on the part of those whose countries were affected by persecution or massacre.

"Could a man with ideals of true morality look on passively when elsewhere in the world innocent people are being brutally persecuted, deprived of their rights or even massacred?" asked Dr. Einstein.

Democracies to Survive.

Later the scientist voiced the belief that the democracies never would yield to dictatorships. There is, in his opinion, "more purpose to what the democracies are doing than appears on the surface."

In his address, prefatory to discussing the present state of world morality, Dr. Einstein called attention to certain "elementary psychological ideas" and warned that "if men as individuals surrender to the call of their elementary instincts, avoiding pain and seeking satisfaction only for their own selves, the result for them all—taken together—must be a state of insecurity, of fear and of misery.

"If, besides that, they use their intelligence from an individualist—that is, a selfish standpoint—building up their life on the illusion of a happy unattached existence, things will be hardly better."

Assails Regimentation.

In an obvious attack upon regimentation and restriction of freedom in education, Dr. Einstein said moral conduct means a "sociable interest in a happier lot for all men."

Dr. Einstein was introduced by Dr. Frank Aydelotte, president of the college, who contrasted the happy life of Americans with the situation elsewhere in the world.

Bringing a smile to Dr. Einstein's face, President Aydelotte remarked.

"It is possible for Americans to grumble about the government and say things in their newspapers which, in other parts of the world, would be punished as treason."

ASSEMBLY WILL CONTINUE HUNT FOR RELIEF CASH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., June 6.—[Special.]—Constitutional officers of Illinois are to appear, in person or through fiscal representatives, before the house tomorrow to present a balance sheet of their appropriations and state whether they have any excess funds which might be diverted for relief.

Gov. Horner's finance director, Sam Nudelman, also will be present to explain the status of several funds which the house inquired into last week. The inquiry is the idea of Minority Leader Elmer J. Schnackenberg [R., Chicago]. Last Thursday Nudelman told him the administration code departments faced a possible deficit of $2,500,000 by July 1, 1939. Robert B. Upham, city controller of Chicago, said Chicago is at the end of the rope so far as relief appropriations go.

The legislature probably will receive today Mayor Edward J. Kelly's and Gov. Henry Horner's bill to permit cities to license businesses for relief. Also scheduled for action in committee this week are the contentious city manager and driver's license measures.

HANGS HIMSELF IN CELL.

Hephzibah Menuhin, age 17, pianist sister of Yehudi Menuhin, and Lindsay Nicholas, whom she will marry.

New York, June 6.—(AP)—Matrimony and the Menuhins had a field day on the liner Ile de France as it sailed up the bay from Europe tonight. Leading the procession was Yehudi Menuhin, 19 year old California violin prodigy, and his bride of two weeks.

Next came his sister Yaltah, 16, who's going to get married here Thursday. Her fiancé, William Stix, government lawyer, went down the bay on a coast guard cutter to meet her.

Next came Yehudi's sister Hephzibah, 18, who shyly acknowledged that she, too, was going to get married, and, just to make it complicated, married to the brother of Yehudi's wife.

Ottawa, Ill., June 6.—[Special.]—The body of Robert Seward, 13 years old, of Sheridan, was taken from the Fox river today after disappearing last Friday afternoon while on a clam fishing trip. The body of Robert's companion, Howard Gwin, was found in the river near Sheridan Saturday.

SLOVAKS URGED TO BE LOYAL TO CZECH REPUBLIC

Premier Says Nobody Will Destroy Nation.

BRATISLAVA, Czechoslovakia, June 6.—(AP)—Premier Milan Hodza voiced a firm but polite stand today against the autonomy clamoring of Czechoslovakia's Slovak minority.

The scholarly premier, himself a Slovak, unfolded his views in a speech from the same balcony on which Father Andreas Hlinka, leader of the Slovak autonomous movement and the Slovak Catholic People's party, stood yesterday and laid down the demands.

"This is a democracy and we have to listen to the complaints of the minority," Hodza told his cheering supporters at a rally in this heart of the nation's Slovak region. "But in spite of these complaints I am convinced all Slovaks are really loyal to the republic."

New Statute Completed.

After Hodza finished his speech it was disclosed he had prepared not only a new nationalities statute which he hoped would satisfy the Sudeten Germans and other minorities, but also a new Czech-Slovak agreement granting more extensive rights of self-government to Slovakia.

The nationalities statute has been in preparation since the Sudeten Germans, led by Konrad Henlein, framed autonomy demands for their 3,250,000 population.

Reviewing the program of the Hlinka movement Hodza denied the aged Catholic churchman's claims that he and his followers spoke for the republic's Slovak minority of 2,300,000 persons.

"They can speak only for their party, and your presence here is the best answer to what was said here yesterday," the premier said. "We are solid and unshakable as a rock. We will not permit any one to destroy our republic."

Chicagoan Addresses Crowd.

Far from showing any ill-will toward the delegation of American Slovaks which injected the Pittsburgh treaty into the nation's already delicate minority problem, Hodza invited their leader, Dr. Peter P. Hletko of 5750 South Francisco avenue, Chicago, to say a few words.

Hletko spoke briefly, expressing hope for continuance of the Czechoslovakia republic. The Pittsburgh treaty between Czechs and Slovaks, which his delegation brought to Bratislava, embodies the principle of "cultural self-government" for the latter.

Premier Hodza came to this city, which is only a 10 minute automobile ride from Nazi Germany, without noticeable police protection. A crowd of 30,000 to 50,000 turned out to hear him. It was as large—possibly larger—than Father Hlinka's Sunday audience.

In contrast to the Hlinka followers, who came predominantly from rural districts and marched to the public square with a solid peasant tread, Hodza's supporters seemed younger and more demonstrative. They tramped through the streets chanting "Hodza!" and "Benes!" [President Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia]. There were derisive chants of "Hitler and Hlinka, they're all the same."

SHRINERS EXHIBIT TOBACCO CHAWIN' DONKEY IN PANTS

Los Angeles, Cal., June 6.—(AP)—The last of a mighty army of nearly 100,000 be-fezzed nobles of the mystic shrine arrived here today for the opening of their 64th annual convention tomorrow.

Bagdad temple of Butte, Mont., brought two educated gopher snakes and a tobacco chewing jackass in silk pajamas.

Tomorrow morning 10,000 uniformed nobles will pass in review before Imperial Potentate Walter D. Sugden and his divan.

U. S. FACES LOSS OF 50% ON SALE OF HOMESTEADS

Figures on Lake County Project Compared.

The federal government stands to lose approximately one-half of its direct investment in the subsistence homestead project in Lake county, it was disclosed yesterday in a comparison of the selling prices fixed on the homes with cost figures.

The Lake county homesteads are located on eight tracts of land within an 18 mile radius of Waukegan. They were built two years ago. Each consists of a frame house with four to seven rooms, a small barn, garage, and pump house on ten acres of land. The houses have modern conveniences. There are 53 homesteads.

The cost of the project, according to testimony at a congressional hearing on pump priming legislation, is $525,036. This includes $48,891 for 530 acres of land and $476,145 for construction and other costs.

Average Cost Is $9,000.

In the selling price fixed on the homesteads the land is included at the price paid by the government. The average cost of each homestead, exclusive of land, is given as approximately $9,000. The selling prices fixed on the 53 parcels total $234,525, or an average of $4,425, exclusive of the land.

The comparison bears out claims made by north shore contractors two years ago that the costs of construction under inefficient government handling would be double a fair selling price or the cost at which private builders could construct the buildings.

The homestead project was originally proposed in 1933 by a group of Lake county Republicans. It was abandoned once after it reached the resettlement administration then headed by Rexford Guy Tugwell, former brain truster, and then emerged in 1936 on a much more elaborate scale. The development is now under the resettlement division of the department of agriculture.

$3,000 Cost Planned.

The aim was to build small homes on ten acres of tillable land for sale on a long term low interest basis to workers in the industrial districts in and around Waukegan and North Chicago. Originally it was to give workers earning $650 to $1,200 a year a chance to supplement this income by producing most of their food on their own land. The homes were to cost around $3,000 each.

The higher prices fixed on the homes plus unforeseen expenses in connection with living on them require that the occupant earn much more than originally contemplated. According to Mrs. Tillie Jane Kelly, community manager of the project, it is necessary for a tenant to earn from $135 to $150 a month, depending on the size of his family, to support the places.

Vouches for Local Handling.

Mrs. Kelly disclaimed knowledge of cost details in connection with construction, but was ready to vouch for proper local administration of the development. She asserted that the project is working out more successfully from a social standpoint than other similar experiments.

She said the occupants are satisfied with the homesteads and wish to continue living on them. Interviews with several tenants supported her statement.

Forty-nine of the fifty-three homesteads are now occupied on a lease or rental basis, Mrs. Kelly said. The other four are in a tract which has proved to be too far from an industrial center to attract many tenants, she added.

Of the first forty-eight families moving onto the farms, thirty-seven are still in possession. Seven of the occupants are in arrears on their payments, the slowest being six months behind, she said.

Long Social Service Record.

Mrs. Kelly has a long record in social welfare work. She practiced law in Kansas City, Mo., and Jacksonville, Ill., for six years before going into welfare work.

She was with the Red Cross in Kansas City for two years and then went with the Family Society of Philadelphia. For nine years she did welfare work in Jacksonville, her home town, where she was superintendent of the social service league, probation officer, overseer of the poor and city matron. She left Jacksonville in 1936 to take her present position.

"This should not be mistaken for a relief project," said Mrs. Kelly. "We are dealing with individuals who plan to pay for what they are getting. We are simply giving an opportunity to industrial workers to buy small farms at fair prices with no down payment.

In Favor of Program.

"This comes nearer meeting the problem than anything I have seen in all my social work. I advocate the building of more homesteads close to industrial centers, possibly with five instead of ten acres of land.

"Most of the families on the homesteads have one cow. A few have pigs. The families grow at least enough vegetables for their own use. One of our families won fourteen prizes at a contest in Lake Zurich last year. The man won prizes on his vegetables and his children on flowers.

"I have made every effort to get the right people in the homesteads. I impress on the women that there are certain disadvantages in farm life, for we want only those who are going to stay. Some of the original tenants did not stay. Homesteading did not appeal to some. Others lost their jobs or found their income too small to keep the places."

U. S. Repaints Homes.

With the exception of the outside painting, which did not hold up well, there have been no serious maintenance problems, Mrs. Kelly said. All the buildings are now being repainted—two coats—at government expense at a cost of $7,500.

Although the tenants were supposed to get permanent purchase contracts one year after they went in [seventeen months ago], they are still being occupied on a rental basis. Mrs. Kelly said she did not know when the contracts would be ready. They will be issued from Washington.

The homesteads, exclusive of the land, are priced from $4,040 to $4,935, depending on the size of the house. The land costs from $64 to $145 an acre, averaging between $900 and $1,000 per homestead. Monthly payments range from $28 to $35.85.

How Payments Are Split.

The permanent contracts, when issued, Mrs. Kelly said, will spread the payments over forty years, with interest at 3 per cent. A monthly payment of $31.98 under the sales contract will be allocated as follows for the first year: Management fee, $2.50; delinquency reserve, $1.50; insurance, $1.60; taxes, $4.42; interest, $13.51; amortization $5.95, and maintenance reserve, $2.50.

If an occupant gives up his place the contract would provide that he get back the equity payments, which would include the amortization and accumulated unexpended payments into delinquency and maintenance reserves.

Mrs. G. R. Manchester, a tenant in one of the homesteads four miles out of Waukegan, said she and her husband are pleased with their farm. The husband is an assistant foreman at the Johnson Motors plant at Waukegan. The place has been well cared for and Manchester has built a picket fence around the house at his own expense.

Happy with Country Life.

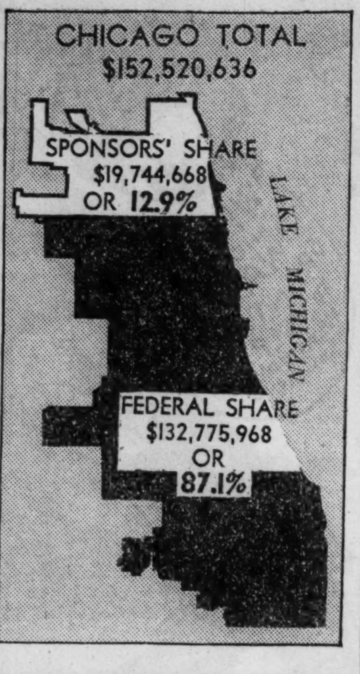
"We are satisfied with the homestead and are not worried about the terms and a permanent contract," Mrs. Manchester said. "Last year we planted soy beans, corn, and all our own vegetables. We formerly lived in Waukegan and are happy to be out in the country. The life appeals to me."

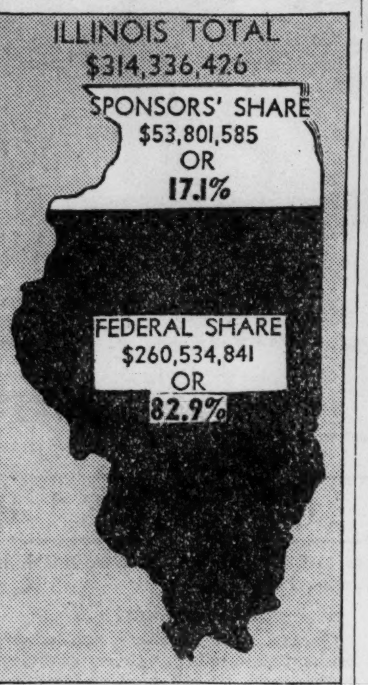
Walter E. Elmer, an electrician in his early thirties, lives on a homestead close by. Elmer, who has six children, said he has been out of work for four months and is worried about being permitted to stay on when he cannot make the payments. He is ordinarily employed in the maintenance division of the American Can plant at Waukegan.

"I am sold on the place," he said. "The house is well built and heats well. I have done some WPA work lately, but it only about keeps food on the table. I have fallen behind in my payments, but I hope they let me stay on until I get back to work. I have worked hard on the place since I came here a year ago."

Illinois WPA Cost

These diagrams show the division of the cost of WPA in Illinois for the thirty-one months ending March 31. Local sponsors include various governmental units.





A total of $314,336,426 had been spent on WPA projects in Illinois in the thirty-one months ending March 31, it was disclosed yesterday in statistics released by Paul R. Kerschbaum, state WPA statistician. Local sponsors provided 17.1 per cent, or $33,801,585, of this amount. The total expenditures in Chicago for the period were $152,520,636. Local sponsors, including city, school board, park district, sanitary district, forest preserves, and the Chicago Relief administration, spent 12.9 per cent, or $19,744,668, of this total.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN SAVED IN LAKE.

An unidentified man, about 55 years old, was saved yesterday by fishermen after he rolled into the lake while lying on the rocks at Roosevelt road back of the Shedd aquarium. He was taken to the County hospital.

CASH FOR RELIEF MUST BE RAISED, MAYOR DECLARES

Money for relief has to be raised, Mayor Kelly said yesterday, and there are only two ways to do it—either through the taxing of all business enterprises or through an increase in the real estate levy.

The mayor's statements were made in answer to criticism by business leaders of his proposed state law to allow cities and villages to tax all sorts of businesses and many professional services. The bill is expected to be introduced in the legislature tonight.

The mayor pointed out that if real estate levies are raised, the merchants who assail a business license as a last straw, will be forced to pay additional taxes anyway.

No Alternative Suggested.

"Any increase in real estate taxes would be a burden on the small home and property owner, the backbone of the citizenry," the mayor said. "These people had a terrible time all through the depression. Any additional burden would be ruinous. So far business has suggested no alternative to the plan. If these men have any ideas on the subject of raising relief revenues. I should be glad to hear them."

Doubts Diversion Is Possible.

Businesses in other cities are licensed for revenue, the mayor pointed out, whereas in Chicago only a few lines are licensed and those largely for regulatory purposes.

"It is not reasonable to tax some and not others as we are doing now," he said. "We should spread the tax burden over all lines."

Mayor Kelly said he doubts that the legislature could vote to divert Chicago's 2½ million dollar share of the gasoline tax funds to relief. Such a plan was not included in Gov. Horner's call for the special session, he explained.

Warn of New Burdens.

Unemployment is the biggest cause of increases in relief needs and if business must assume new burdens on top of all the taxes already imposed on it, industries will move from Chicago and new ones will not be started here, the Chicago Association of Commerce warned yesterday. License payments, instead of raising new millions for relief, shortly would cause more men and women to be thrown out of work and onto relief rolls, officials asserted.

Business leaders who met to confer on the proposal discounted assertions that other large cities are using licensing fees for business. They said that aside from St. Louis and Kansas City, no other large northern city follows such practices.

SHALL THIS GREAT WRONG CONTINUE?

In September, 1937, a committee of experts in public health and hospital administration after months of investigation of conditions at the Cook County hospital filed a report and recommendations.

The conditions disclosed were a challenge to the conscience of the community. They are a challenge today. They are a disgrace to Cook county. They have persisted for years. They must be radically corrected. Their victims are the poor and obscure. They lack means and political influence.

There will be no substantial betterment of these conditions so long as they are left to the indifference and self-interest of politics. The community must speak in a voice which will be heard, in a demand which will be obeyed.

We appeal to the churches and to all the civic bodies of Cook county to take this cause up as a holy crusade.

There is no need and no excuse for further delay. The facts have been disclosed. The remedies have been determined by expert judgment. The means and agencies are available. It is time to march.

When the investigating committee reported, a committee of leading citizens interested in the care of the sick and in public welfare was appointed by the county board to act as an advisory agency. This committee, which has the aid of the committee of experts, is fully informed and able to prescribe the steps to be taken to put the care of the indigent afflicted on a humane basis in Cook county. It is fully competent to give information and practical guidance to all organizations of citizens who propose to put an end to this inhumanity.

Both committees in their survey of conditions have concluded that the prime essential is an administrative head, fully empowered and of the highest competence. The organization is loose, wild, irresponsible, and inefficient. No private enterprise could survive for thirty days under such management. The deplorable and cruel results are inescapable and incurable while this system exists.

Facing this fact, the advisory council has been looking for an administrator of the highest caliber. It has canvassed the country, for the combination of requirements of the first order are rare. There are very few men in the country possessing the special experience and the special qualifications of character, personality, and knowledge to accomplish the huge task presented by the Cook county situation. But the Citizens' Advisory council has found a man it has good reason to believe will fit our need, if he is willing to come. He is Dr. Benjamin Black, of Oakland, Cal., already known as one of the ablest administrators of public hospitals in the country. He is in the prime of life. He has had ten years of service in the United States Public Health service, six of which have been spent in charge of the nearly sixty veterans' hospitals. For the last ten years he has been medical administrator of Alameda county, California, where he has had four hospitals under his jurisdiction, all the county physicians and numerous auxiliary activities dealing with health. His achievements there have given him a foremost rank in this field.

With the assent of President Smith of the county board and Commissioner Bobrytzki, chairman of the County hospital committee, Dr. Black was invited by the advisory committee to come to Chicago for conference, and has done so with encouraging results. Both Mr. Smith and Mr. Bobrytzki and the advisory committee were favorably impressed and favor his appointment if he will accept. Some opposition has been encountered among board members which will be discussed in another editorial. The point we wish to make here is that unless the humanity and public spirit of the community express themselves promptly and with force, official inertia and political self-interest will prevail and there will be no reform. The opportunity missed is not likely to be found again for many years.

NORMAN THOMAS AND THE NEWARK POLICE.

Norman Thomas, the Socialist leader, is entirely correct in holding the police accountable for the mistreatment to which he was subjected at Newark, N. J. Mr. Thomas was delivering an address at Military park. A brass band was allowed to blare while he was attempting to talk. An organized group of marching men shouted to add to the din. Rotten eggs were thrown at him. Eventually a police official declared the meeting at an end.

Of course Thomas was within his constitutional rights in making the speech, and of course the police should have protected him in his constitutional right to speak and his audience in its constitutional liberty to assemble. If necessary, the police should have used force to suppress his annoyers. Policemen carry clubs and pistols precisely for such purposes. Those who feel the weight of these weapons when used as evidently they should have been used in Newark have only themselves to blame.

The first duty of the police is to protect the citizens in their constitutional rights. The police of Newark could have learned a lesson in proper conduct in such circumstances from the management of the Chicago police department of the Republic Steel strike in South Chicago a year ago. Our policemen at that time faced the difficult problem of safeguarding the constitutional rights of three different sets of men: The strikers, the men who had remained at work, and the owners of the mills.

Feeling at that time was running high, far higher than in New Jersey today. If the Newark idea had prevailed the Sunday strike meeting held a few blocks from the mill no doubt would have been broken up on some pretext and the constitutional right of the strike leaders to speak would have been denied. In fact there was no slightest interference with the meeting. The police line was drawn up well away from the place of assembly but in a position to protect the mill and the men working in it.

After the Chicago speech-making was concluded the police watched the crowd approach but did not advance one step to meet it. Only when the crowd, now face to face with the police, refused to disperse, and by refusing clearly threatened the physical safety of the police themselves and jeopardized the constitutional rights of the men at work and the owners of the mill, did the police use force. If the police at Newark had acted with equal correctness Mr. Thomas would have had no cause for complaint.

SAVING FACE IN NEBRASKA.

The people of Nebraska are justly proud of their state's financial record. They boast of the fact that they have no state debt, no sales tax, no income tax, and only moderate real estate taxation. No other state, they say, has done so well.

It is unfortunate that their reputation for good sense and moderation in fiscal matters is being undermined as the truth about the fantastic water power schemes in the state is coming to light. To be sure, the money is coming from Washington and it is being lent on terms which impose no direct obligation on the taxpayers of Nebraska as such; but it is none the less true that the people of Nebraska in the long run will pay the bill for this folly in one form or another.

Some are paying it already, as Mr. Arthur Evans reported the other day after a visit to the projects. The loose soil of Nebraska, as everybody knew, is not well suited to water storage. The consequence is that farms in the vicinity of the storage basins have been reduced to swamps. Farmers' cellars are flooded; their fields likewise, with the result that once fertile farms are quagmires.

The predictions of competent engineers that the basins would rapidly fill with silt have been fully borne out. The costs of operating the projects have been increased by the necessity to provide dredges with which to keep the basins serviceable, and it is doubtful if even this expensive device will prove practical.

The lack of prudence and forethought on the part of the planners is further exemplified by the fact that though some electricity is now being generated, no markets have been provided for it. To save face it is now proposed that something like a dozen small power companies be purchased [with taxpayers' money supplied by Honest Harold Ickes] so that customers will be available. Mr. Ickes has approved the plan, as was to be expected, because it is his face which is to be saved. He O. K.'d the Nebraska projects despite adverse reports from competent engineers, including government experts. It was a costly mistake from the point of view of the taxpayers and it is now to be made still more costly.

The customers of the little power companies can hardly pay rates high enough to earn a return, not only on the equipment which now provides them with current but also on the ill-planned and costly hydro-electric installations and their transmission lines. The present face-saving proposals will have to be followed by others. Unless the people of Nebraska call a halt, and call it promptly, they face the probability of a state-owned electrical system with excessive capitalization and high costs of operation. The benefits they have gained by refusing to go into debt as a state will be canceled as a result of this hydro-electric folly.

They can thank Senator Norris for getting them into their present unenviable position. Public ownership of power companies and the development of water power, anywhere and everywhere, are obsessions with him. He gave Nebraska the power district legislation which made it all too easy to get the projects started. He was among those who put on the pressure for the government loans and advances. Thanks largely to him, the reputation of Nebraska for financial rectitude and prudence is rapidly being dissipated.

Editorial of the Day

FOUND—A MAN NOT INTERESTED IN TAXES!

[Indianola, Ia., Record.]

A few days ago there came into the Record office a genteel looking man who announced that he was from the United States department of commerce. He followed with the reminder that about the first of the year the department had sent us a blank to fill out with a report on our manufacturing operations for the year 1937, which blank he said we had apparently not filled and returned.

We pleaded guilty to the whole charge, receipt of the blank and failure to fill it out. We told him further that we had spent a good deal of time filling out reports of various kinds for divers and sundry government agencies, that if we filled out any more it had to come out of our night's sleep or Sunday rest, and that we were not much inclined to break into either to fill out any more reports for the government.

To our surprise he said he didn't blame us a bit; but said if we would get the blank he would help fill it out.

Then he wanted to know our total gross business for 1937, how much of it was subscriptions, how much advertising, how much letterheads, pamphlets, books, periodicals, and so forth and so on. He wanted to know how we spent our money, how much for newsprint, how much for other stock, how much for ink, labor, coal, and so forth.

Then we asked him if he would not like to know how much we spent for taxes.

No, he didn't care to know about that.

We reminded him that it was a considerably larger item than some of the things about which he had asked, that it entered quite materially into our costs of doing business, and had jumped 150 per cent in 1937 and would take another jump in 1938.

But he said the government was not interested in knowing how much we spent for taxes; at least he had no instructions to get the information.

Learning that the beneficent Uncle Sam was interested in knowing how much we spend for ink and how much we collect for letterheads, but was not going to pry into our business to know how much we spend for taxes, we parted with his representative with a warm glow of patriotic fervor.

COMFORT.

Sometimes my mind forgets that you are gone,
I read a book or gaze upon a scene
And haste to share with you my new-found joy:
And then my heart, remembering, will try
To picture you in your old place beside
The hearth—your chair is there and your worn books—
You always loved the things I loved and when
We sat in understanding silence, each
Aware of all the other felt, no word
Might mar that sacred harmony of soul.
You left me rich in memories, my dear,
And so I shall not grieve. I know beyond
Earth's limits lies infinitude of life
And God has set for us an open door.

Golf Lesson in the Ozarks.

Before I turned around I knew Aunt Lizzie had come down from her cabin on the next ridge and was looking at me with deep disapproval. For one thing, I had on shorts, and Aunt Lizzie does not approve of them. (Neither would a fashion expert, seeing them on me.) For another thing, I was doing something she couldn't understand, and Aunt Lizzie has more curiosity than a cat. I was sinking a coffee can in the ground beside a neatly painted sign which bore a large figure 9. The 9, however, meant nothing to Aunt Lizzie, who never learned to read or write.

"What in tarnation be ye a-doin'?" she called.

I explained that I was just fixing the ninth hole of my new golf course.

"Golf!" she snorted. "What's that?"

I told her. She said it sounded silly to her, and, besides, walkin' all over the new lezpediza would be the ruination of a good pasture. But she agreed to try the new-fangled game if I'd go in the house and cover my shameful "nekkidness." In the house, I slipped into a smock, and hunted up the old set of golf clubs I had discarded in more prosperous days. I wasn't going to trust my good clubs to visiting golfers of Aunt Lizzie's ilk, even if I never expect to play on a real course again. Back at the teeing-off spot, I put the driver into Aunt Lizzie's hand and showed her as much as I could remember of those far-off lessons . . . the stance, the grip, the pivot, the straight left arm, the unwinding, and keep your eye on the ball, Aunt Lizzie!

There was a flash of two petticoats, one gray wool and one white one, embroidery trimmed, a glimpse of cotton stockings above high topped shoes, the crack of an ankle length dress, and the snap of a starched sunbonnet. Aunt Lizzie, sixty-eight last March and still able to shoot the head off a blue racer at fifty feet, had scored again. The drive was a beauty, just high enough to escape the rock that shelters the ground sparrow's nest, and straight down the fairway toward the No. 1 flag . . . a drive that would have commanded respect on the Waveland course. Aunt Lizzie threw down the club in disgust.

"Drat it," she scolded, "effen I'd a-stood a mite closter to the ball and swang a little harder that little ball would a-went longer!"

Silently and respectfully I handed Aunt Lizzie my bag of precious matched clubs and picked up the old driver she had flung down. I can recognize a born golfer even when she wears a Mother Hubbard.

Rural Fire Alarm.

A man back from Mount Vernon, Ky., says he was about to go to sleep one night in the hotel when he heard shots. He thought it was the mountaineers feuding, and cowered beneath the covers. Finally he investigated. No feud, but a fire, and the constable was firing his gun to wake up the volunteer fireman. A big house near by was burning brightly. Burned to the ground, too. Seems the fire hose had been lent to a neighboring farmer to spray his orchard, and by the time the fireman got back with the hose it was too late.

ANOTHER KENTUCKY TRAVELER, Alfred Lee Wilson, minister of a south side church, preached the baccalaureate sermon at a little school in the mountains of eastern Kentucky. A little store near the railroad station had a sign in the window: "No Whisky Sold on Sunday. Go to Church Today."

LAST YEAR'S PHENOMENA becomes interwoven in this year's social fabric. A woman interviewing a prospective cook asked for a reference, and was told by the applicant, with obvious pride, that her last job had been cook in a trailer.

WHEN THE HEART NEEDS ATTENTION.

EVERY one is, or should be, interested in the performance of his heart as, by many, it is considered the supreme ruler of the circulation. If it is behaving normally we may forget about its very existence. In fact, if there is anything wrong, merely thinking about it will not bring improvement.

But we must not assume that the heart is a law unto itself, as occasionally it is a victim of circumstances—obliged to respond to nervous impulses, reflexes, and the like, which come from the sympathetic nervous system via numerous depots and dispatching stations. In other words, its regularity is dependent on many factors, some of which lie within the structure itself; others quite distant, for example, in the brain.

But now and then something goes awry and disease may so alter the strength of the organ that it will show signs of weakening. But the term "heart failure" does not mean collapse. It signifies usually that either the impulses are short circuited or that some trouble has developed in the muscle itself. This latter state may follow the former. As we can understand, if the rhythm becomes too rapid or is steadily 10 to 20 contractions per minute higher than average, the all too short periods of rest between beats further are abbreviated. In consequence, the filling time may be so reduced that not enough blood is available.

Occasionally, in the presence of real difficulty, a patient may delude himself with the explanation, "O, it's nothing but a slight attack of asthma." The fact is that the asthmatic symptoms may be due to a congestion of blood in the lungs. As a rule physicians pay a good deal of attention to the so-called asthmatic attack, particularly of the form which comes on during sleep or shortly after one goes to bed. But here again the whole business may be due to acidosis and have no relation whatever to the heart. If the patient's face is cyanotic [blue] the need for oxygen is manifest, as, somehow or other, the blood is not able to get through the lungs and absorb its proper quota.

While shortness of breath is not always significant, yet it may be, and when it appears it should never be disregarded without explanation. Neither should enlargement of veins over the abdomen or pronounced and persistent swelling of the feet and legs. Another symptom is a sense of pain or discomfort, or—as some put it—a feeling of tightness in the chest. Again, there is a type of irregularity, one that is followed by a pronounced thump. Now and then, if the symptom continues for quite some time, it may be of real import.

Let us assume that some abnormality has been discovered. Fortunately we are dealing with an organ which will withstand a terrific amount of punishment, and the way to help is to reduce the load. This calls for more rest and a lessening of effort. Sleep is a very vital factor. If a sedative is needed, no other consideration should prevent its employment, and many physicians prefer chloral and bromides to preparations of barbituric acid.

Next, it is essential to rid the body of surplus fluid [water]. This may be accomplished by a reduction in the amount of common salt that is used with the diet, and among many remedies caffeine is helpful. Most physicians are reasonably expert in the use of digitalis or squills, and the effect of these chemicals is to slow the rhythm, thus giving the "pump" more rest. As soon as the pulse rate falls to between 70 and 80 the preparation may be omitted for a time.

In all probability the mounting incidence of cardiac disease is due to the excessive demands which we make on the organ. Not only must we be more considerate, but we can seek to avoid infections, the toxins of which are prone to damage the power plant of the circulation.

GOOD CARE IS NEEDED.

R. N. writes: For several years I have been troubled with drooping eyelids and about five years ago had an operation to shorten them. Still I am extremely fatigued. Your article on myasthenia gravis fits my case exactly. Can it be completely cured? Are the best results obtained if the prostigmin is given by injection or by mouth?

REPLY.

Prostigmin is given by mouth and excellent reports follow its administration. You should be in the hands of a skilful physician, who will be able to apply modern methods. Many cases can be benefited greatly if not relieved entirely.

MAY NEED MORE REST.

C. B. writes: What are the various causes of puffiness under the eyes? Is there some simple thing one might try to find or to eliminate the cause?

REPLY.

Improper elimination, late suppers, with indigestion, overfatigue, or some kidney or circulatory deficiency. More rest will relieve most cases.

IT'S PROBABLY NERVOUS.

G. H. writes: I have a slight twitching of one eyelid. The vision is not affected. What, if anything, can be done?

REPLY.

Probably a nervous tic, possibly the result of fatigue. Occasionally there is a deficiency in vitamin B1 [yeast]. Mental hygiene will relieve certain cases.

CLOSED STATE BANKS.

Chicago, June 1.—[Friend of the People.]—I would like information on closed banks. When the auditor makes a statement that a bank has enough money for a payment and he doesn't pay it, can the bank be investigated and find out why it isn't paid? Year in and out you read where certain banks will pay and that is all we receive. Where can we find out about this? R. D.

In reference to closed banks, please be advised that at any time there are sufficient funds in the hands of a receiver of a closed bank available for dividend purposes, this office will declare a dividend, payable to the creditors of said bank. If the writer will kindly tell us the name of the bank he has in mind, we will be pleased to investigate same further.

WE ARE DOING ALL WE CAN.

Boston, Mass., June 5. — Landing recently in Niagara Falls airport, I heard the pilot say: "A WPA job."

Afterward I noticed expensive airport after airport at a succession of inconsequential villages.

Then it occurred to me that I had seen a lot of WPA men setting out bushes along the boulevards leading to the Chicago airport. All these poor WPA victims, working for:

A. People who patronize airplanes.
B. People who drive automobiles.
C. People who live on boulevards.

Can't you do something to get them back into private employment where they can work for their own benefit? R. L.

TRYING TO GET ALONG.

Maywood, Ill., June 4.—In the controversy over the door bell pusher there is much to be said for and against both sides. I happen to be a man whose sunsets are becoming fewer and fewer. My job blew up a few years ago and I was forced to seek a living away from my regular line of business, which I had followed all of my life. There was nothing left for me but the selling game, and I then became that bane of one of your correspondents' existence—a door bell pusher.

But I would like to say to her: "Don't be too hard boiled. While a lot of these people may be offering you something for which you have no use, give them credit for getting out and trying to get ahead. Remember, they could probably get on relief or on the WPA and eat up some more tax money which you and your husband must provide.

Just remember, they go from door to door, invariably getting fifty "No's" to one "Yes." Remember, they may be trying to support a wife and when you slam the door in their face you just add a little more to their burden of discouragement and send their already heavy heart just a bit lower. These are trying times and we should all try to make things just as easy for the other fellow as we can see. Try it and see.

To the canvasser or salesman I would say, when you go out to sell, be sure to pick something useful, that the housewife needs. Do not try to get by on sympathy. Always be polite.

A DOOR BELL PUSHER.

WILL REMEMBER IN NOVEMBER.

Chicago, June 3.—Thirty-four thousand checks in the mail for the starving people on relief. Previous to the last check a single man received the fabulous amount of $16.34 for one month for rent, food, and clothing, but the last check received was for $11.34 for one month. Mayor Kelly most certainly feels the same toward the people of Illinois and Chicago as Gov. Horner feels toward them.

It is an administration that one should not forget next November.

UNFORTUNATE.

HERE'S A WAY OUT.

Oak Park, Ill., June 2.—We have heard innumerable demands that the budget be balanced, but none of the demanders has a plan by which to do it. I would suggest:

An amendment to the constitution limiting the appropriations of congress for any year to 80 per cent of the national income of the previous year.

With such an amendment we could balance the budget and reduce the national debt every year.

I don't expect the politicians to be enthusiastic over such a plan. G. G.

PROWLERS.

Chicago, June 2.—Every prowler is a prospective criminal. Given slight encouragement, he will graduate from this amateur rank to the more notorious standing of a brick moron.

How can this potential menace be checked without the coöperation of the citizen and the policeman? What has happened to the cop on the beat? Has he become a legend of our childhood?

The other night the occupants of my sister's home only succeeded in frightening a prowler away, when [if the ten minutes of vainly seeking an officer had been better spent] he might have been captured.

Why hasn't the patrolmen's list been posted? May 15 had been announced as the date, but there has been no notice since. Chicago needs more patrolmen because it needs more protection for its women and children. N. C.

"CONTROLED" FRUIT MARKET.

Chicago, June 3. — Your editorial on prunes on June 2 is an awakening to the extent of the business, but you may find there may be reasons why those prunes are not on the market. There is an organization that regulates shipments.

I have a friend who has apples in storage that will not pay charges. When I said: "Send me a box and I'll get my friends to buy several boxes," he said: "Oh! I can't do that. They must go through the association." So the apples are unsold.

This, no doubt, applies to prunes. I'd buy a box and many others would do likewise.

E. M. CRUSE,
Secretary-Treasurer, National Live Stock Commission company.

TO A CARTOONIST: "FAT AND FIFTY."

Mount Vernon, Ia., June 2.—Congratulations on the yellowest piece of journalism I have ever seen! It is the cartoon on Nathan Hale and the Oxford oath. Just because you're fat, fifty, and exempt from a war you want the younger generation to go out and get killed. I suppose you have enough political pull to keep you and your friends out of it.

You haven't a conscience, so I hope there's a nice warm place waiting for you so you can think it all over.

You and your whole paper stink!

WILLIAM C. VERITY,
Cornell college, '40.

LEAVE THE WOMEN OUT OF IT!

Chicago, June 1.—I have seen the Memorial day parade, but it seemed like a carnival coming along the boulevard.

What is happening to the Legion? Is it going in for a bathing beauty parade instead of honoring the dead?

On all sides of me people said things about those girls that I wouldn't want them to say about my daughter who, like me, is an auxiliary member.

Leave the women out of it, please, and give the drum major the credit for leading the parade instead of putting a monkey out in front.

AN AUXILIARY MEMBER.

THANKS TO SERGT. KEELEY.

Chicago, June 2.—As citizens and taxpayers of Chicago and residents of Kenwood we wish to express through your column the appreciation of this entire community on the efficiency of Sergt. James Keeley in the prompt capture of the fiend who so recently committed the awful crime in our midst. Such work as this merits promotion for Sergt. Keeley and also the praise of the entire city.

H. L. GLEASON.
THOMAS J. O'CONNOR.

IT'S THE NEGROES' TURN.

Chicago, June 2.—May I remind your correspondents that the southern Negroes have already contributed more than their share of free labor to the southland?

It is high time that they receive some compensation in return for their services, even though it happens to be in the form of a dole.

The Negroes worked for years while the white women "lolled around," so now perhaps it's a case of reciprocity or "something or other."

HELENA WILSON.

LIKES THE COLLEGES SERIES.

Evanston, Ill., June 4.—The articles by Mr. Evans in THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE on the subject of colleges should certainly be reprinted in pamphlet form, if that is possible. It is a rare privilege to get the essential facts about the colleges and universities from an impartial source and in so compact a form. Please keep it up each year, for the sake of the colleges as well as the public. And if and when reprints are available, I want a few.

E. C. YALE.

10 YEAR TERMS ASKED FOR TRIO IN STOCK FRAUD

Buckman and Aids Plead No Defense.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 6.—[Special.]—Lawrence J. Brody of La Crosse, special prosecutor in the case against three officials of the bankrupt B. E. Buckman company, Madison investment house, today asked for imprisonment up to ten years and fines of $10,000 each for the defendants who are charged with selling unregistered securities in the state.

B. E. Buckman, president of the company, L. C. George, vice president, and Edgar C. Holt, secretary, have made pleas of no defense. They will be sentenced by Circuit Judge Walter L. Schinz after statements have been completed by counsel. They are on trial on twenty-three counts each of which has a maximum punishment of five years imprisonment or $5,000 fine or both.

Important Criminal Case.

Attorney General O. S. Loomis said he appeared in the case because the gravity of the offenses made it the most important criminal case pending in the state.

"This case," he said, "is the outgrowth of one of the most gigantic frauds ever perpetrated on the people of Wisconsin.

"The deliberate methods and the deceptive technique used to avoid regulatory control and the amount of money involved is without parallel in the state's history.

Maximum Is 115 Years.

"We do not ask the maximum penalty of 115 years imprisonment and $115,000 fine," said Brody, "but we do ask a maximum for two violations. The defendants with their no defense pleas are in the same position as if they had pleaded guilty. The plea implies a confession."

The hearing will be resumed tomorrow morning with statements by the defense.

Erskine Hewitt's Millions Mostly Go to His Nephew

Paterson, N. J., June 6.—[Special.]—The will of Erskine Hewitt, disposing of an estate estimated at more than $5,000,000, leaving most of it to a nephew, Norvin H. Green of Tuxedo Park, was filed today in Surrogate court here. Only two large personal bequests were made, $1,000,000 to Mr. Green and $500,000 to the latter's sister, Eleanor, Princess Viggo of Denmark. Hewitt's niece, Ann Cooper Hewitt, central figure in the "Hewitt sterilization case," will receive nothing.

OBITUARIES

Frederick A. Bangs.

Attorney Frederick A. Bangs, former special assistant corporation counsel and former president of the west park board, died yesterday in his apartment at the Parkway hotel. He was 73 years old. Mr. Bangs was born at Lacon, Ill. He was graduated from the Union College of Law in 1886. At one time he was president of the Hamilton club. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the First Presbyterian church, Racine. Burial will be in Mound cemetery.

Body Taken from Lake Identified as Mother of 4

The body of a woman recovered from Lake Michigan at the foot of Madison street Sunday was identified yesterday as that of Mrs. Adeline Skora, 37 years old, 4581 North Melvina avenue, the mother of four children. Her husband Walter, who made the identification, said she was in ill health and had been missing for three weeks.

Miss Mary Scott Is Dead; Knox Alumni Historian

Galesburg, Ill., June 6.—[Special.]—Miss Mary Scott, graduate of Knox college in 1881 and former registrar and assistant treasurer there, died at her home here yesterday. She had been made alumni historian for life.

Mrs. Henry A. Wallace's Mother Dies at 78 Years

Indianola, Ia., June 6.—(AP)—Mrs. J. L. Browne, 78 years old, mother of Mrs. Henry A. Wallace, wife of the secretary of agriculture, died here today.

NEW MILK UNION IS DEFENDED IN INJUNCTION SUIT

Nicholas Kost Jr., president of the Amalgamated Dairy Workers union, testified yesterday before Master in Chancery Charles A. McDonald that his union was not attempting to compete with the American Federation of Labor, but was trying to organize non-union plants. Steve Sumner, chief of the A. F. of L. Milk Wagon Drivers' union, was present at the hearing and listened intently to Kost's testimony.

The hearing, through which the C. I. O. union and several cut-rate milk companies are seeking an injunction to prevent the A. F. of L. from using what they charge are strong-arm methods in restraint of trade, will be resumed this afternoon.

Kost was cross-examined by Defense Attorney David Riskind and admitted that his uncle, Joseph Kaiser, is president of the Lake Valley dairy, one of those seeking the injunction. On examination by Attorney Arthur Seelig, however, Kost added that his father and several other uncles are in A. F. of L. unions. Seelig represents the plaintifs.

500 MADE IDLE AS C. I. O. CALLS FOUNDRY STRIKE

Five hundred employés of the Chicago Hardware Foundry company at North Chicago were thrown out of work yesterday by a strike called by the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee, a C. I. O. affiliate.

The union has demanded a written contract, a guarantee against pay cuts for a year and one week's vacation with pay for each worker. Attorney Sidney H. Block, representing the company, said the men had been asked to accept a 10 per cent cut so the company could keep operating this summer. He added that it was impossible to grant the vacations this year, in view of the general state of business.

No disorders were reported yesterday, although 300 pickets stood in front of the plant.

SURGEON FROM HAWAII COMES TO U. OF I. REUNION

Dr. J. Christopher O'Day, a prominent surgeon in Hawaii, arrived in Chicago yesterday to attend the annual alumni reunion of the University of Illinois Medical school. The reunion will be held Thursday evening at the Medinah club.

Dr. O'Day is 73 years old and a member of the class of 1900. Accompanied by Mrs. O'Day, he will go east to visit friends in Pennsylvania before returning to Honolulu, where he has practiced since 1918.

SOL EPPENSTEIN LEAVES $150,000 ESTATE TO WIDOW

The will of Sol C. Eppenstein, former president of the Illinois Watch Case company of Elgin, was admitted to probate yesterday by John F. Keeley, assistant to Probate Judge John F. O'Connell. It disposes of an estate valued at $150,000, the bulk of which, under the terms of an antenuptial contract, is left to the widow, Bertha, 3156 Sheridan road. Mr. Eppenstein retired in 1931 and died last April 16 in Los Angeles at the age of 74.

Break Ground for Chapel on Loyola U. Campus

Ground for the Our Lady of the Wayside chapel at Loyola university was broken and blessed yesterday. President Samuel Knox Wilson delivered the blessing. The Rev. James J. Mertz lifted the first shovelful of earth on the site. The building, on the south side of the lake shore campus, facing Lake Michigan, will cost $300,000 and will be completed by fall.

High School Youth Drowns in Lake of Forest Preserve

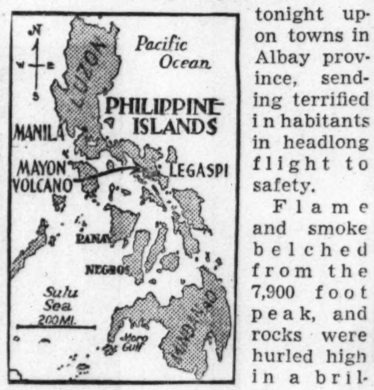
FIRE AND LAVA POUR FROM MAYON VOLCANO; FILIPINOS FLEE HOMES

MANILA, June 6.—(AP)—Hot ashes from the erupting Mayon volcano fell tonight upon towns in Albay province, sending terrified inhabitants in headlong flight to safety.



Arrow locates region of volcano eruption.

Flame and smoke belched from the 7,900 foot peak, and rocks were hurled high in a brilliant display. Earthquakes shook the region. Streams of lava flowed down the mountain's steep slopes as the eruption, which began Friday, continued with unabated fury.

Fearful of a repetition of the disaster of 1814, in which the volcano buried a village and killed 1,200 people, Philippine soldiers and police were ready to lend all possible aid. Since that catastrophe, Mayon has erupted scores of times, but had been inactive the past ten years. At Legaspi, 200 miles southeast of Manila, Red Cross and other relief workers gathered to aid the refugees.

FUNERAL RITES OF DR. T. H. SMITH SET FOR TODAY

Bloomington, Ill., June 6.—[Special.]—Dr. Thomas Hutchinson Smith, 59 years old, dentist, brother of the late Sydney Smith, Chicago Tribune cartoonist, died of heart disease here last night. Funeral services will be held tomorrow, with burial in Park Hill cemetery. The widow and a daughter survive. He also leaves a brother, James D. of Chicago, and three sisters, Mrs. James Zorge of Chicago, Mrs. Clifford Coolidge of Bloomington, and Mrs. Henry Heafner of Buffalo, N. Y.

D. H. Green in Hospital After Injury in Accident

Dwight H. Green, former United States attorney for the northern district of Illinois, yesterday entered St. Luke's hospital for treatment of injuries incurred in an automobile accident Sunday morning. Mr. Green suffered a dislocated right shoulder, and cuts and bruises about the face and body. Hospital physicians reported last night that his condition was not serious and that he would be out in several days.

CLEVELAND GETS $60,000 FROM U. S. IN RELIEF CRISIS

Cleveland, O., June 6.—(AP)—The federal government came to the aid of Cleveland's poor relief problem tonight with $60,000, and stayed, at least for several days, the threatened closing of relief stations. Mayor Harold H. Burton announced the money was made available by the WPA and it would be used to provide relief to only the neediest cases in view of uncertainty of state or federal aid in the next few days. Several hours earlier, the mayor informed Gov. Martin L. Davey, "the situation is very serious and will require action by the legislature this week."

HINES ASKS NEW VENUE FOR TRIAL OF RACKET CASE

New York, June 6.—(AP)—Charging that he could not get a fair trial because of widespread publicity, James J. Hines, powerful Tammany Hall leader, today asked State Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora for a change in venue in his trial on charges of participating in the policy racket once dominated by Dutch Schultz.

WISCONSIN G. O. P. TO FIGHT FOR TEN CONGRESS SEATS

Party's Full Support to Be Given Nominees.

BY THORNTON SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., June 6.—[Special.]—Republicans, who for six years have failed to elect any of Wisconsin's ten congressmen, plan special campaigns to defeat Democratic and Progressive office holders in Washington this year. The state's delegation now consists of seven Progressives and three Democrats. National Committeeman J. P. E. Wood of Janesville today expressed confidence these incumbents would be replaced by Republicans in a number of districts. He is confident of at least five victories and hopes for more, he said.

Speakers at the state convention in Fond du Lac last Friday and Saturday emphasized that the congressional elections this year are no less important than the naming of a governor and the United States senator. There were pledges by workers in all districts to concentrate on electing Republican officials in Washington.

Will Get Plenty of Support.

Frank B. Keefe, Oshkosh lawyer who was defeated in the 5th district by a small vote two years ago, told the convention that heretofore the congressional candidate has been the forgotten man.

This year the Republican candidates will receive plenty of help, both from the national committee and from the local organizations.

The open primary rule adopted at the convention will apply to congressional candidates as well as to state officers, and indications are that there will be a generous field for voters to choose from.

Staplekamp May File.

Judson Staplekamp, Kenosha lawyer who was the candidate in 1934, may announce his entry after a congressional conference to be held in Elkhorn next Wednesday night. The first district, always considered the most conservative in the state, now is represented by Thomas R. Amlie, radical third party leader.

The second district convention will be held in Watertown on June 16 for the discussion of candidates. There have been no announcements, but a number of candidates are in the field.

Lloyd R. Newman, committee member from the third district, reported J. Charles Pile, Dodgeville attorney who ran well as the candidate for congress two years, is again a candidate. Otto Bosshard, La Crosse attorney, also is in the field. The nominee in this district has a strong chance of election, observers believe.

Schafer Expected to Enter.

In the 4th district, now represented by Raymond J. Cannon of Milwaukee, William Thompson, who ran two years ago, is a candidate for the nomination. Former Congressman John C. Schafer is expected to be a candidate for congress or for the nomination for governor.

Lawrence Donovan, state vice chairman of the Young Republicans, is a potential candidate for the nomination from the 5th district, which also is included in Milwaukee county. Thomas O'Malley, a Democrat, is the incumbent. Attorney Louis Thill has announced his candidacy and Assemblyman Milton Murray is being urged to run.

Confident in Sixth.

Frank Keefe of Oshkosh, a strong candidate two years ago, again is a candidate in the 6th district. Harlan Kelly of Sheboygan, one of the speakers at the Oshkosh convention, is being urged to run in the 6th. This district is expected to elect a Republican congressman.

The 7th district has a number of potential entries. Henry Behm, Waupaca hotel manager, is the only one who has announced up to the present.

Others mentioned are Assemblyman Reuben Peterson of Berlin, Arthur Prehm, Wausau attorney, and Reed Murray, Waupaca cattle dealer and formerly a county agricultural agent.

The 7th district contains much of Wisconsin's best dairying district. It contains more dairy cows than human population, the highest dairy cattle population of any district in the United States, Murray claims, and if he runs it will be on the slogan: "A cow man for congress."

Thomas Sanderson, attorney and head of the cherry coöperative of Sturgeon Bay, is being offered by his friends as a candidate in the 8th district. So is Joshua Johns, attorney and manufacturer of Algoma. A district meeting will be held soon, probably at Green Bay.

No candidate has been announced in the 9th district where Merlin Hull, publisher, is the Progressive incumbent. There was no Republican candidate opposing Hull two years ago.

In the 10th district, Edgar H. Goode, former state chairman of the Young Republicans, is making a run for the nomination. So is James H. Carroll, former state senator. Whichever is nominated is believed to have a strong chance of election.

Wins in Court

Los Angeles, Cal., June 6.—(AP)—A directed verdict today gave Constance Bennett a decision in Willy Pogany's $3,500 action to compel her to pay him for a portrait she didn't like. Judge Jess E. Stephens, in taking the case out of the jury's hands, said Pogany agreed to paint the portrait for $500 and that he should have brought it in Municipal, not Superior, court. The main thing wrong with the portrait, Miss Bennett testified, was that Pogany made her thigh too large.

RETURNS BROOCH FOUND IN STORE AND MAKES $250

Mrs. H. M. Seckbach, 1450 East 67th street, won a $250 reward yesterday when she returned a diamond brooch insured for $1,400 which she found in a loop grocery. The brooch was lost by Mrs. Hazel Kramer of the St. Clair hotel last Wednesday afternoon.

P. M. Schoenberg, 166 West Van Buren street, adjuster for the Firemen's Fund Insurance company, with which Mrs. Kramer had insured the brooch, advertised in THE TRIBUNE classified section that a liberal reward would be given the finder of the pin.

HUTCHINS POLICY SUBJECT OF QUIZ BY PROFESSORS

The policies of Robert Maynard Hutchins as president of the University of Chicago are under investigation by a committee of professors at the university, it was learned last night. The inquiry follows a recent report of the local chapter of the American Association of University Professors criticizing his administration.

A number of professors, it was understood, have declared they are not in agreement with appointments made by President Hutchins and with other faculty policies. Last Wednesday seventy-four members of the university senate, composed of 200 full time professors, held a meeting and appointed a committee of sixteen professors to inquire into the administration policies.

Last night President Hutchins said he would coöperate with the committee in their study. As president of the university Dr. Hutchins is chairman of the university senate policy committee.

250 Former Presbyterian Hospital Interns Meet

About 250 former interns of Presbyterian hospital, many of them now famous physicians and surgeons, met last night in the Bismarck hotel for a reunion dinner. Dr .Harvey A. Tyler, oldest former intern still prac- a reunion dinner. Dr. Harvey A. Holmes of Rush Medical college, presided. Dr. George H. Coleman, also of Rush Medical college, was toastmaster. The last reunion was held 20 years ago.

SCHOOLS BLAMED BY PSYCHIATRIST FOR DELINQUENCY

San Francisco, Cal., June 6.—[Special.]—A major part of the American school system, equipped with teachers who are unfit and adhering to a rigid curriculum for all children, was blamed here today as an actual cause of juvenile delinquency. The charge against the nation's educational equipment was made by Dr. Sara Geiger, psychiatrist of the Milwaukee county mental hygiene clinic, at the annual meeting of the American Psychiatric association.

The profession of teaching, Dr. Geiger said, is one entered often because an individual does not know what else to do, because of short hours and long vacations, or a desire to dominate which has never been gratified.

"In an attempt to place the responsibility and establish treatment for delinquency, a court not infrequently directs parents to correct their behavior and attitudes," Dr. Geiger said, "but a court rarely orders a school to correct its curriculum, its attitude toward a problem, and its method of meeting problems."

Truckers Form Association in 3 Wisconsin Counties

Monroe, Wis., June 6.—[Special.]—Truckers of Grant, Green and Lafayette counties have organized the Southwestern Wisconsin Truckers' Protective association. That was announced today. L. Hare of Monroe, president of the association, said it will safeguard their interests.

MASKED ROBBERS HOLD UP SOCIETY OF CHURCHMEN

The twenty-five members of the Credit Union association of the Alphonsus Catholic church were about to conclude their meeting in the church basement at 1429 Wellington avenue last night when two masked robbers entered the place.

Charles F. Thoma, 1931 Barry avenue, secretary of the association, was forced to hand over $371 in club funds. In addition the gunmen took about $400 from the members, including $223 from Nicholas Diedrich of 4824 North Oakley avenue, after making them stand against a wall.

RETIRED FARMER DIES.

Litchfield, Ill., June 6.—[Special.]—Albert Lee Ritchie, 61 years old, a retired farmer who was a lifelong resident here, died of heart disease today.

WHEN LIFE DEPENDS ON TIRE SAFETY

On May 30, Floyd Roberts shattered all track records for the 500-Mile Indianapolis Race with an average speed of 117.2 miles an hour using Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires

IT'S ALWAYS Firestone

FOR 19 CONSECUTIVE YEARS THE WINNERS OF THE INDIANAPOLIS 500-MILE RACE HAVE PROTECTED THEIR LIVES WITH FIRESTONE GUM-DIPPED TIRES

THEY said it couldn't be done—that tires could not withstand the torture of the new high speeds. Yet Floyd Roberts set a new record, at this year's Indianapolis Race, averaging 117.2 miles an hour for the 500 miles on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires.

With the sun-baked brick of the straight-away and the granite-hard surface of the turns pulling and grinding at their tires, 33 daring drivers, every one on Firestone Tires, waged a thrilling battle for gold and glory. Never before have tires been called upon to take such punishment. Never in all the history of the motor car has tire safety been put to such a gruelling test. Yet not one tire failed — not one single cord loosened — because Gum-Dipping, that famous Firestone patented process saturates and coats every cotton fiber in every cord in every ply with liquid rubber counteracting the tire-destroying internal friction and heat that ordinarily cause blowouts.

Why do race drivers choose and buy Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires? Why do Firestone tires hold the world's records for speed, safety, mileage and endurance? Men who risk their lives on the speedway refuse to take chances on tires. They know that only the safest tires built can withstand such terrific punishment. That is why the winners at Indianapolis for 19 consecutive years have bought and used Firestone Tires.

Why risk your life and the lives of others on unsafe tires? Join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign today by equipping your car with Firestone Triple-Safe Tires — the only tires made that are safety-proved on the speedways for your protection on the highways.

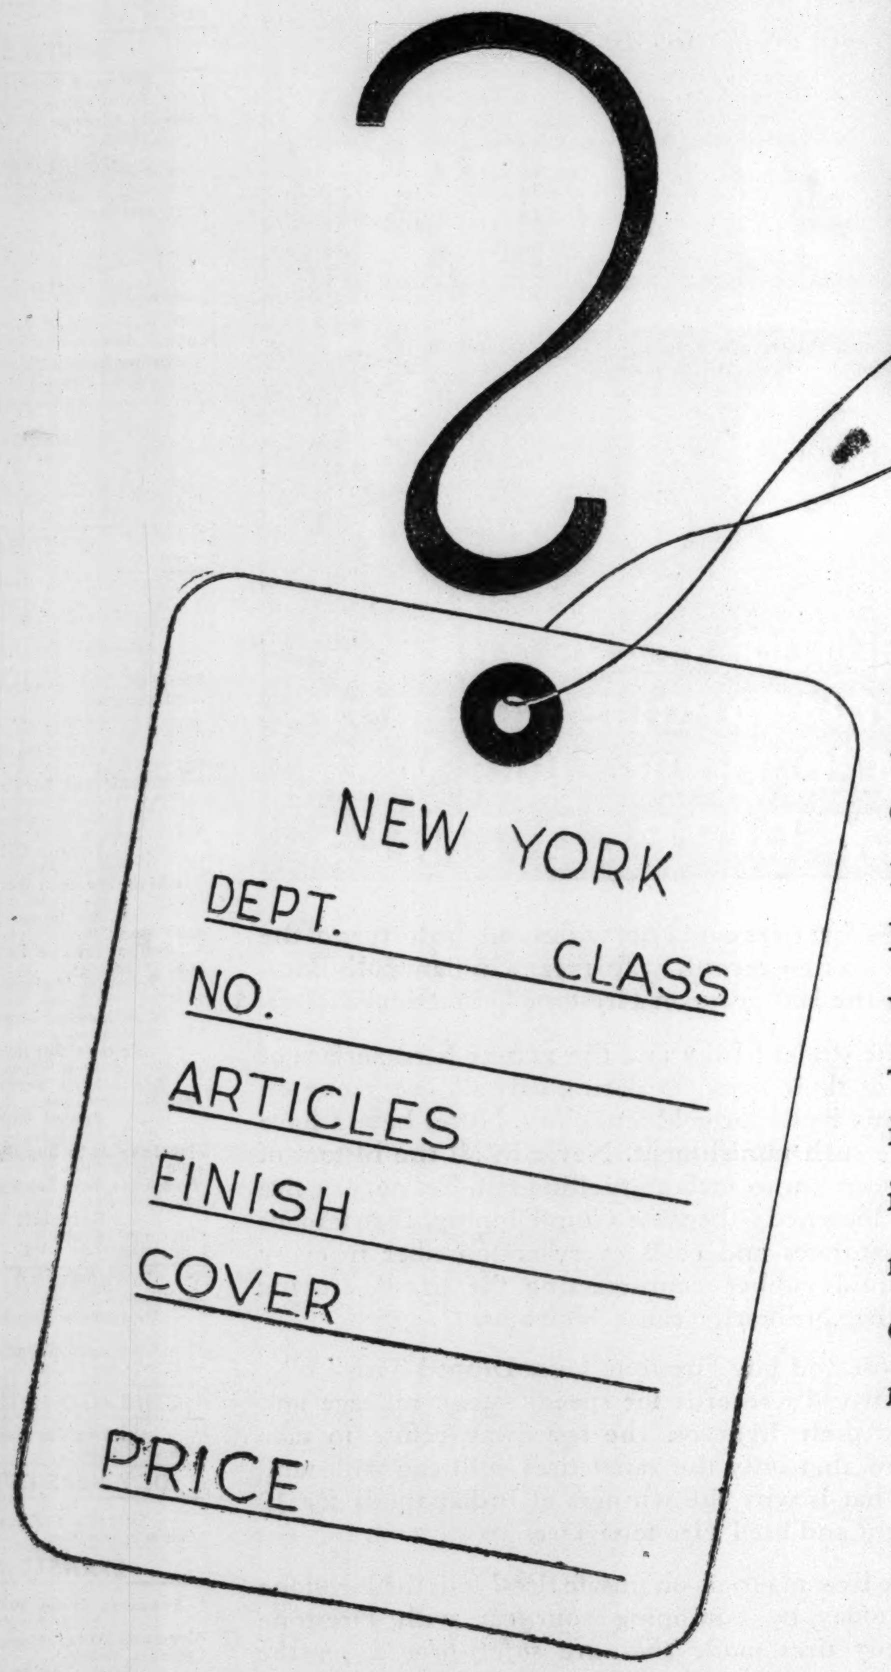
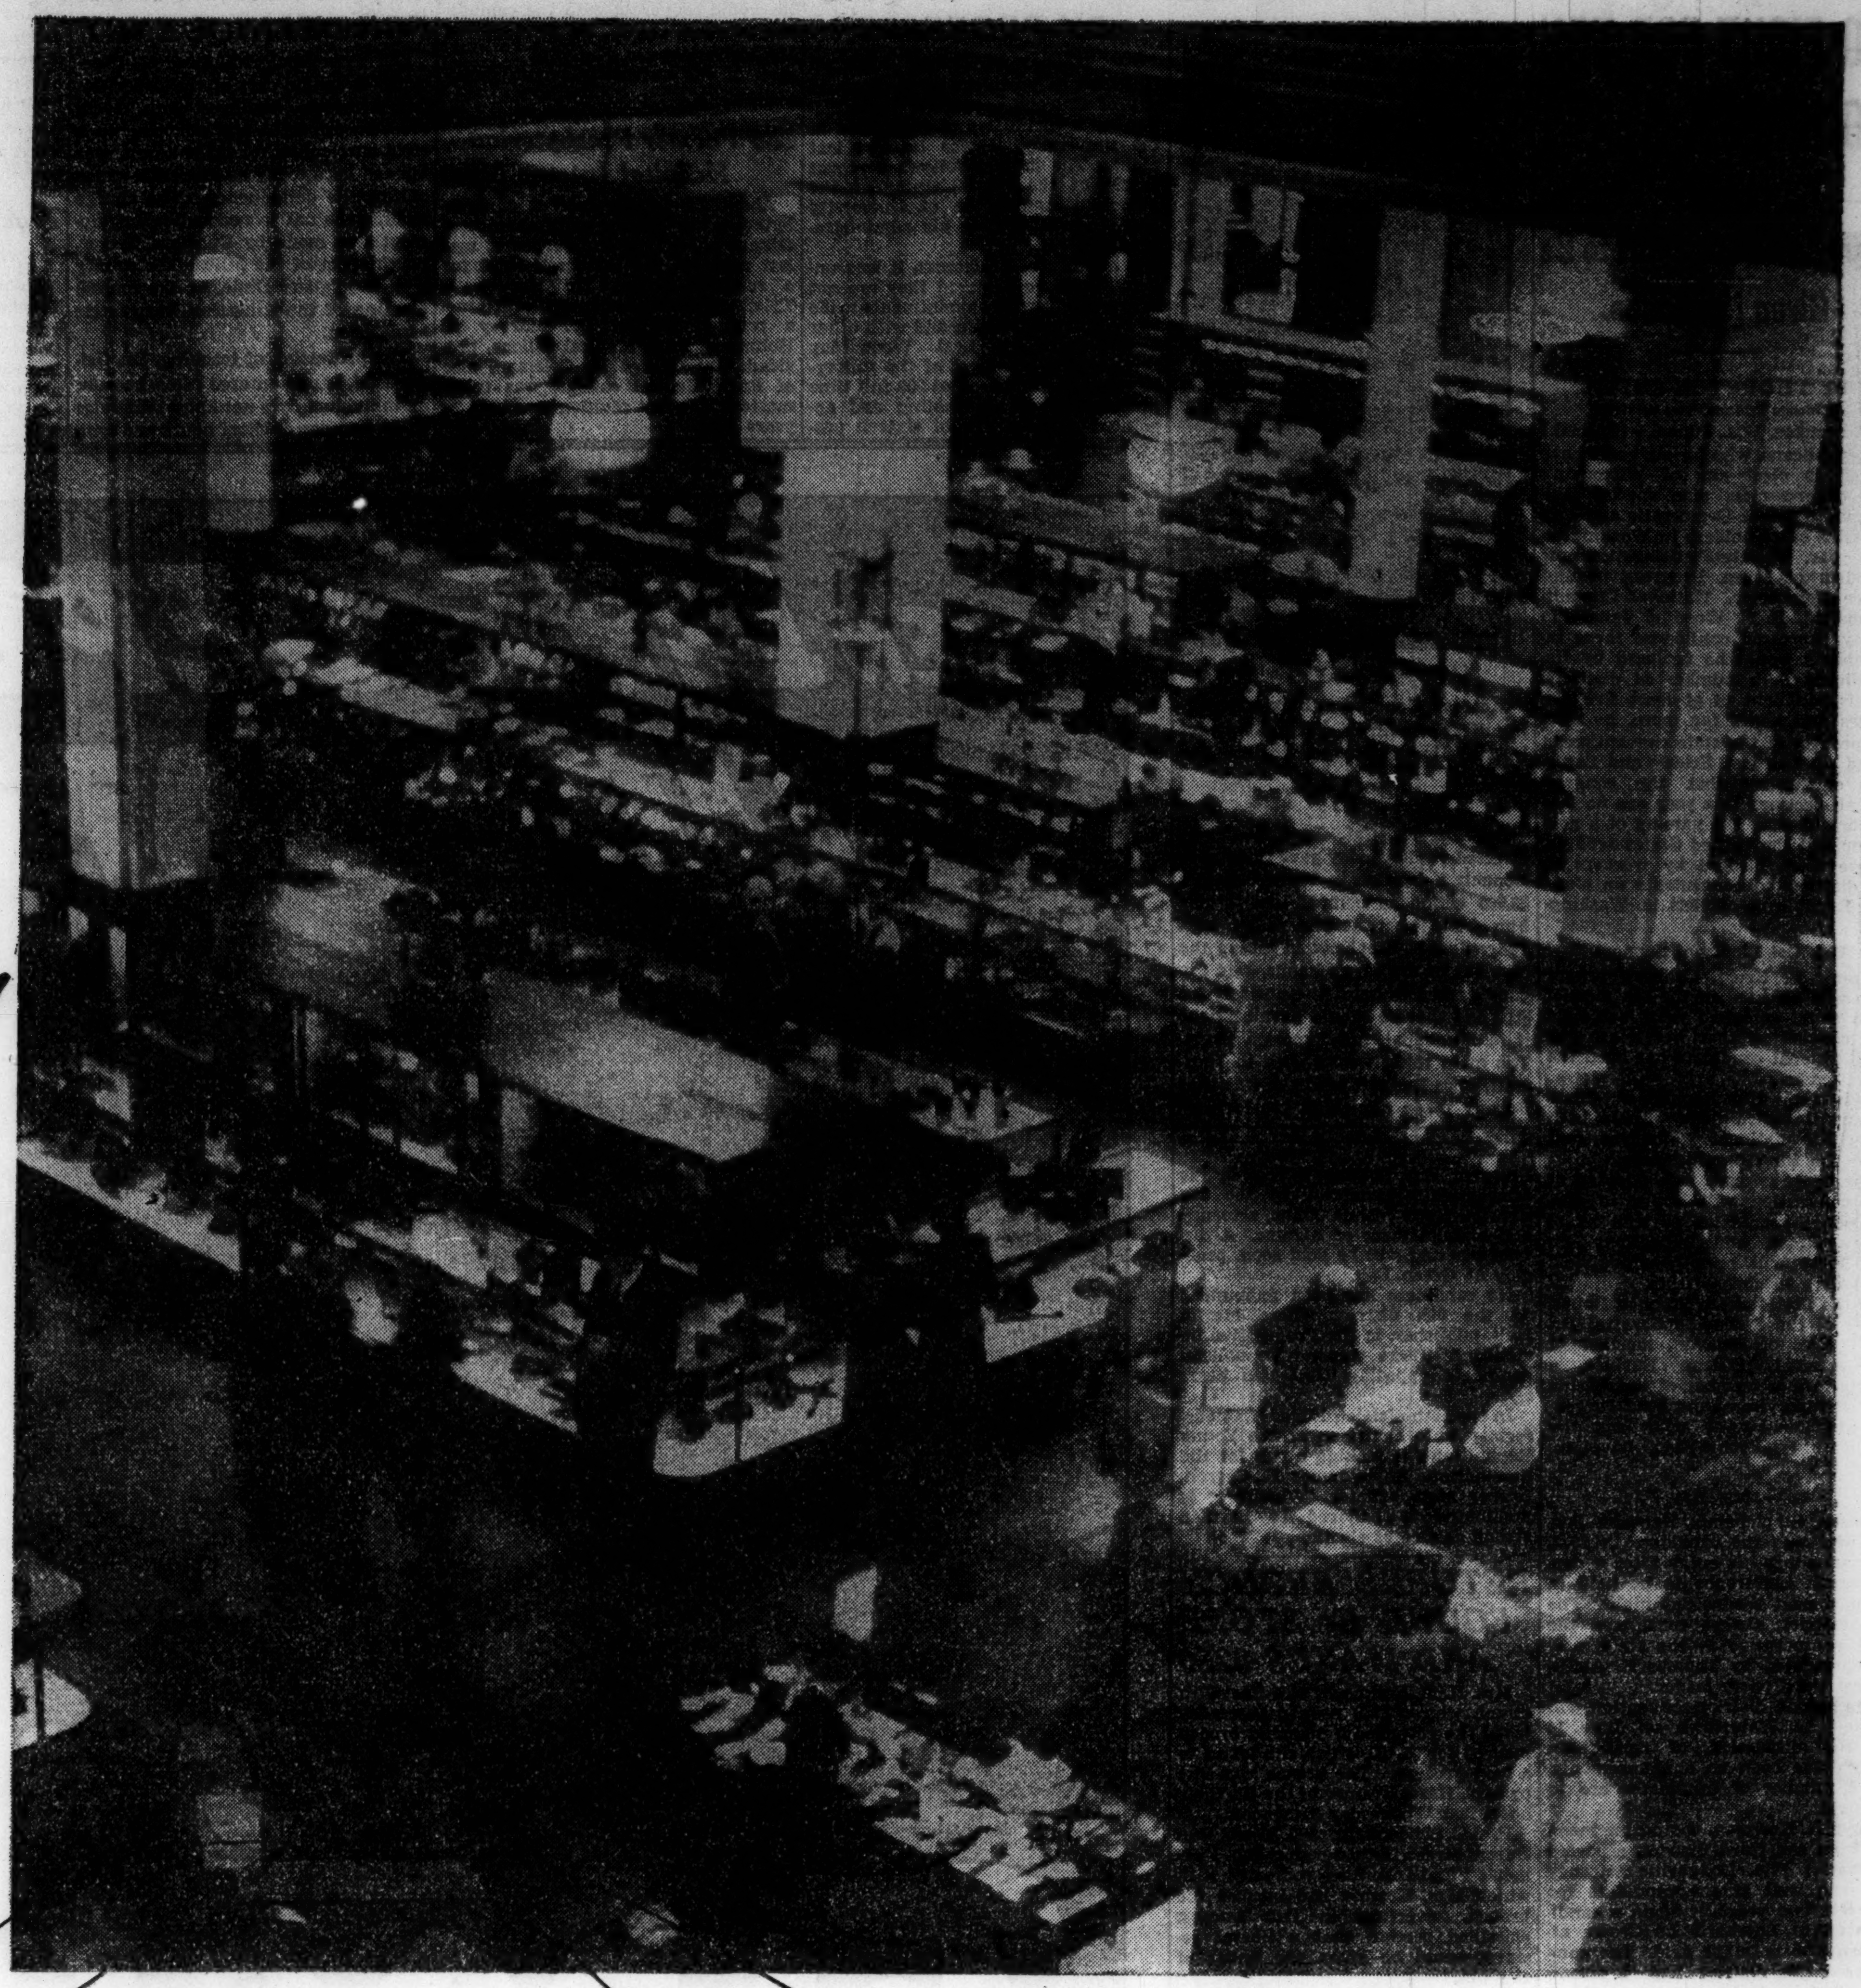
WHAT ARE THE DEPARTMENT STORES SAYING





In New York City 4 newspapers—out of 8—carry the burden of the advertising of Manhattan's 16 department stores.* Only one of these papers, the New York Herald Tribune, carried the largest volume of department store advertising in its history—for the first five months of 1938. This happened in a period when less advertising is appearing in New York newspapers. It indicates, as perhaps nothing else does, how New York merchants depend on the Herald Tribune's more certain, more constant-earning and steady-spending families.

In the last depression, many merchants sought relief from falling sales in the distress-merchandise selling levels. At the present time, New York merchants are hitting harder for business at those levels where more business continues to be . . . where income and earnings guarantee that regular spending will go on.

Sensible for any advertiser, isn't it?

Only two New York newspapers carried the advertising of all 16 department stores during the first 4 months of '38. The Herald Tribune was one of them.*

NEW YORK
Herald Tribune

SOME OF THE REASONS WHY THE HERALD TRIBUNE IS PROFITABLE FOR DEPARTMENT STORES

1 Its Herald Tribune Home Institute, oldest newspaper organization of its kind, functions as a laboratory for the business end of a household, tests methods of cooking, cleaning and equipping for time, cost and results. This makes the paper depended upon by women for shopping and household management information.

2 Its Fashion News program is a seven-days-a-week program, running to two whole pages every Sunday. It embraces every phase of fashions in dress and in furnishings, covers high fashions and volume fashions. It tells inquiring readers where they may be bought. Last year it answered almost 175,000 fashion inquiries.

3 Its news-editorial policy insists that it be as much a woman's newspaper as a man's. It maintains a Bureau for Club Women (working with Clubs on their programs throughout the year). Its annual Forum on Current Problems (at the Waldorf-Astoria) draws thousands of Club Women delegates from every state in the Union and beyond.

Junior League Meeting

One of the many young women who recently have become members of the Chicago Junior league through being transferred from other leagues is Mrs. Dudley S. Young of Evanston. Mrs. Young moved here from London, England, but before she was married she lived in Winnipeg, and it was the league there from which she came as a transfer. This picture was taken yesterday at the Chicago league's annual meeting at the Glen View club.

League to Test Convalescence in Foster Home

BY ELEANOR PAGE.

The Chicago Junior league yesterday launched its long-sought social welfare project at the Glen View club. The project will be a "foster home program for convalescent children. Working with the Chicago Orphan asylum, the Children's Memorial hospital, and the Cook County hospital, the league for three years will take care of convalescent children in foster homes.

The project is to be a demonstration one, explained Miss Virginia Winston, chairman of the Junior league committee that has studied various projects. If, at the end of three years, the program has proved worthwhile, care of the children will be taken over by another organization, and the league will look for another experiment.

Miss Ethel Veery, executive director of the Chicago Orphan asylum, was heard with enthusiasm by a large group of members as she discussed the program. Work will start in October. The number of children to be cared for during the first year will be limited to ten. About thirty league members will be trained for the work at a three day institute in November.

Miss Winston is chairman of the administrative board, including representatives from the asylum and the two hospitals, which will be in charge of the project. Miss Honor Merrell, another league member, and Mrs. Gordon Lang, the league's new president, as an ex-officio member, will be on the board.

Children from the two hospitals will be placed in foster homes selected by the asylum, and the league sponsors will coöperate with the foster mothers.

Mrs. Lang, who took office yesterday, and Mrs. Charles H. G. Kimball, the retiring president, wore city clothes in contrast to the majority of the members, who were dressed for sports. Threatening skies and showers spoiled tennis, swimming, and golf, which were on the program for after luncheon, leaving bridge the most popular afternoon occupation.

Mrs. Maurice P. Geraghty, the former Helen Tieken, is to be head of the Children's Theater department, an undertaking Mrs. Geraghty says she is accepting only until another member can be found to take the job. Mrs. Geraghty has been outstandingly successful in this office in other years. Other chairmen announced are Mrs. Marshall G. Sampsell, arts and interest; Mrs. Robert McKenna, ways and means; Mrs. Roger Q. White, placement; Mrs. Frank S. Sims, public affairs; Mrs. Roger D. Shaw, publicity; Mrs. Clymer Bowen, the Lake Forest book shop; Miss Bonnie-Jean Clark, education; Miss Babbs-Anne Burton, member-at-large; Mrs. Stanley Johnson, topics, and Mrs. Ellen Douglas Jaeger, city editor.

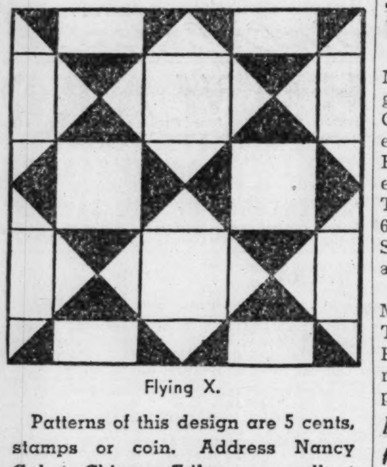
"Flying X" Is Favorite Quilt with Beginners



Flying X.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Flying X" is considered one of the easiest of the pieced designs to set together and an ideal starting pattern for the beginning quiltmaker. A smart combination of colors will contribute much to its effectiveness. This particular block is exceptionally suitable for a man's or boy's room when done in ecru and brown, navy and white, maroon and silver, or any favorite school colors. This pattern dates back to 1860 and is not to be confused with another old "Flying X" which was first pieced in 1800.

For a limited period Nancy Cabot offers 10 quilt patterns of her own choice at a price of 10 cents for the group (12 cents by mail). Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower.

Lions Clubs of Indiana Open Annual Convention

Lions club members from 110 Indiana cities met yesterday in Gary for their sixteenth annual three day convention of the twenty-fifth district. With auxiliaries also in attendance, 450 delegates were present. Addresses by officials of the international organization, a luncheon, a trip through the steel mills, and a banquet featured the day.

Miss Thatcher and Anne Tracy Will Be Brides

BY JUDITH CASS.

TWO engagement announcements of interest are being made this morning, that of Miss Virginia Thatcher to John Alden Morgan and that of Miss Anne Alexander Tracy to William Rossmoore. The latter announcement comes from the east, from Swarthmore, Pa., where Miss Tracy was graduated with honors yesterday from Swarthmore college. Her mother, Mrs. Raymond L. Redheffer, is in Swarthmore, but she and her daughter will be at home on Saturday to start making preparations for the wedding, which is to take place on June 24.

The ceremony will be a small, quiet one in the apartment at 257 East Delaware place into which Mr. and Mrs. Redheffer and their family moved recently from 191 East Walton place. Mr. Rossmoore, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Rossmoore of Baldwin Harbor, N. Y., visited Miss Tracy when she was at home for the Christmas holidays last winter, and she and her fiancé wanted to have the engagement annnounced then, but Swarthmore will not permit young women who are engaged formally to remain at the college. So the announcement could not be made until yesterday.

Miss Tracy, whose father is Howard V. Tracy, made her debut in the autumn of 1936 at a tea at the Redheffer home. Mr. Tracy entertained for her during the Christmas holidays that year. Mr. Rossmoore and his bride will be at home next winter in Cambridge, Mass., for they both plan to study at the Harvard School of Business Administration.

Miss Thatcher Will Be Bride in Fall.

Miss Thatcher is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. William Thatcher, who live at 237 East Delaware place, and her fiancé is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alden Kendrick Morgan of 209 Lake Shore drive. The wedding is planned for the fall. Mrs. Thatcher is giving a tea this afternoon for her daughter, who made her debut in 1933. She is a graduate of Mount Vernon seminary and has attended Sarah Lawrence college. Mr. Morgan took a two year trip around the world instead of going to college.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan will acquire two daughters-in-law within a few months, for their younger son, George Walker Morgan, is being married on June 21 to Miss Dorothy Spencer Wegg.

John McDiarmid Will Wed Eastern Girl.

Of interest to those who knew John McDiarmid when he was doing postgraduate work at the University of Chicago is the announcement of his engagement to Miss Darice Dunham Elmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. P. Elmer of Princeton, N. J. The wedding will take place on July 6. Miss Elmer is a graduate of the Shipley and Bennett schools and is a member of the Junior league.

Mr. McDiarmid, who is the son of Mrs. Wier McDiarmid of Fort Worth, Tex., is an instructor in politics at Princeton university, and is the 12th ranking national amateur tennis player.

Many Plan Parties for Miss Mary Wood.

Judging by the number of parties planned for Chicago's June brides, any who have left fittings or trousseau shopping to the last minute will have difficulty squeezing them in. Miss Mary Wood's fiancé, William S. Farish Jr., is arriving Frday from Houston, Tex., and parties for them will start the next day and continue through to the wedding at 5 o'clock the afternoon of Saturday, June 18, in Trinity Episcopal church, Highland Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Fentress, Miss Bette Rich and Miss Barbara Bastien are giving a dance Saturday night at the Onwentsia for Miss Wood and Mr. Farish, preceded by a dinner Miss Ethel Johnston will give to which only the bridal party is being invited. Mrs. Thomas Morgan Schriber, the former Betty Brooks, is arriving Thursday from New York for the wedding and will entertain at luncheon Sunday in the Lake Forest home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mason Phelps. Miss Elizabeth Byron Smith is giving a buffet supper Sunday night at the Lake Forest home of her mother, Mrs. Harold C. Smith.

Miss Wood's sisters, Mrs. Calvin Fentress Jr., Mrs. Edwin E. Tullis, and Mrs. James R. Addington, will give a dance at the Shoreacres on the 15th. Mr. Farish will give a bachelor dinner the next night, and on the eve of the wedding Gen. and Mrs. Robert E. Wood will give the bridal dinner at the Shoreacres. The reception following the wedding will be held at their Lake Forest home.

Mrs. Addington is to be matron of honor for her sister. Mrs. Tullis,

Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

Now It Can Be Told.

Charles Laughton as Capt. Bligh.

Hollywood, Cal., June 6.—"Mutiny on the Bounty," engrossing saga of the sea, provided Charles Laughton with one of his most virile and rugged rôles, that of the martinet, Capt. Bligh. Time and again shooting on a particular scene was halted because, instead of swaggering down the quarter-deck, Laughton swished. To signal Laughton, the assistant cameraman would place his right hand on his hip and stamp his foot. Laughton then would remember to become the brutal Capt. Bligh. Now it can be told!

"Alexander's Ragtime Band" has just come to the screen as the title of a movie. This, of course, was the first Irving Berlin hit that set the world stomping and swaying to the new staccato tempo. Yet Berlin had released the same tune years earlier under the title of "Alexander and His Clarinet" and the reformers of the day stopped its sale and public performance on the grounds of bawdiness and innuendo. Now it can be told!

Two mysteries of the Dempsey-Tunney fight at Chicago were: [1] How did Dempsey, after taking a savage beating, find strength to rally in the seventh round? [2] Why did he fail to flatten Tunney after the long count? Now it can be told, and you can believe that I'm giving you the real inside on that fight. Dempsey at the start of the seventh round, was "hopped" up by his handlers while a towel was held in front of his face. It was the "hop" that explained his savage rally, and it was the "hop" that cost him the fight. The effect of the drug wore off during the long count, and when he returned to Tunney the Manassa Mauler couldn't get his arms up. The drug had worn off. It was given to him in a capsule that was broken under his nostrils!

First of the great mobster pictures was "Little Cæsar," in which Edward G. Robinson spurted to international fame. Much has been said about the expert casting that placed Robinson in the rôle. The whole thing was an accident. The actor who was supposed to have played the Robinson part was Fred Kohler Sr.

Pittsburgh's Andrew Mellon refused, year after year, to go on the radio. Then Mellon gave his art treasures to the Washington, D. C., gallery. He told NBC's John Kennedy that he was willing, at last, to be interviewed on a coast to coast broadcast. There was vast excitement and the date was set. Ten minutes before Mellon was to go on the air the dirigible Hindenburg exploded and all programs were canceled. Shortly after Andrew Mellon died without ever going on the air.

Everybody at M-G-M—that is, all the big executives—have taken bows on discovering Robert Taylor. As a matter of cold reportorial fact, Ben Piazza, now at Paramount, discovered Taylor, spotting him when he visited Pomona college and caught him in "Journey's End." When Taylor reported at M-G-M they chased him away and told him to come back after completing his college course. Not realizing that they had given him the old heavo-o, Taylor, a year later, reappeared and said: "You told me to come back." They thought so little of him that they signed him to a $35 a week contract and used him to read lines in screen tests of feminine players. Then they farmed him out to Fox. Taylor says that Marcella Knapp did more for him at M-G-M than anybody else. She is a studio secretary, brisk, competent, human, helpful, and it was she who got him his screen test when nobody else gave him a tumble.

"Blue Moon" was one of the greatest song hits penned by Dick Rodgers and Larry Hart. The career of that song best answers the oft-propounded query as to whether the melody or the words are more important. Rodgers and Hart wrote the tune and put wordage to it, a girl pleading with the Lord to get her a screen test. The thing was a flop. They tried another set of words. The song was still a flop. Then they hit on the "Blue Moon" lyrics and it became an overnight No. 1 on the hit parade.

Are professional prize fights faked? Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia, light heavyweight champion, was approached by people who alleged they were speaking for Jack Delaney. The proposition was that Loughran, in return for his complete purse, would win by a knockout in the third round of a fight at Madison Square Garden. Loughran said: "For your information, I can knock him out on the level."

Newspaper men occasionally call down a movie star [I know I have] and tell him or her that he or she had better not forget that the press made them. I wrote it once about Joan Crawford, and she said: "You're all wrong. I'll show you my scrapbook, and 90 per cent of what has been written about me are raps and slams. The newspapers haven't made me." I looked at her scrapbook. Ninety per cent of the stories were slams and roasts.

"Tobacco Road" is in its fifth year, with Jim Barton. On the night the show opened I sat with Jack Kirkland, one of the authors, at the Tavern. He asked me for a frank opinion on it. I told him the show would close within two weeks. What happened to me shouldn't happen to a dog.

Smart Summer Wraps Abound at All Prices

BY RHEA SEEGER.

What sort of coat to wear out of a summer night isn't such a knotty fashion problem. While summer furs answer the plaintive wail of the pampered ladies with bloated clothes allowances, shoppers operating on shoestring budgets also get the breaks. Feathered trifles, surprisingly warm on a chilly night, are grand buys in such luscious colors as chartreuse, cerise, king's blue, scarlet, a gorgeous shade of burgundy, and the record breaker, mink brown.

Capes that swing with dash around the waist and short chubby boleros come in curled or uncurled ostrich feathers with price tags that will give you a good shock, of surprise. Marabou, likewise dark of tone, makes good looking tops for fluttery chiffons in print or plain color and also boasts prices easy on the conscience.

Fringed jackets, made of rows of white, black, or colored fringe, are summer jackets without equal. These go with silks, chiffons, nets, and laces.

For your pet cotton formal try some of the new quaint peasant quilted calicoes lined with soft, unusual colors. White piqué in a dozen different weaves makes all kinds of long or short sleeved jackets, form fitting hip length, waist deep, or longer.

Sharkskin is another material that gets into the best summer boleros and jackets for hot summer nights. Lots of the best finds in the cotton formals have their own matching jackets.

Spidery thin lace in pastels, white, or black, are especially effective over slinky black or colored silk crêpes and jersey gowns, that's if these gowns are severely plain. On torrid nights all you need is a huge square of the material of your gown to tie around the shoulders or to hang from your hand.

Shawls get an airing on warm nights, too . . . unpack your grandmother's Paisley, or trot out your Chinese or Spanish shawls, for a decided change. They're grand to wear with all the strapless or off the shoulder ball gowns, those new old-fashioned lovely creations with uncounted yards of material in the billowing skirts.

THE STAGE

"Spirochete," WPA stage production of anti-syphilis propaganda, ended its performances in the Blackstone theater last Saturday night after a run of five weeks. "Anthony and Anna," a comedy by St. John Ervine, recently produced at the Princess theater under WPA auspices, will move into the Blackstone tonight.

"Pins and Needles," left wing labor propaganda revue, now at the Grand Opera house, probably will end its run there on June 25. The company, composed of members of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' union, will continue on tour with the Pacific coast as its destination.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

"All's well that ends well. . . ."

The saying's pat as regards "The Divorce of Lady X." For, after a wearyingly padded start which stirs within you no liking for the picture, the action proceeds entertainingly to a smartly satisfying finale.

Sophisticated fare this, with suavely risqué situations and an abundance of knowing badinage.

The story spun is of romance between a young English lawyer and the thoroughly nice girl whom he mistakes for one oft married Lady Mere, whose husband wants a divorce.

The fact that pretty Leslie is the granddaughter of a prominent judge before whom Barrister Logan often pleads enhances the plot appeal.

Lovely Miss Oberon and Pannish Laurence Olivier are a clever team. Morton Selten as the shrewd, eccentric, doting grandpa judge; Ralph Richardson as the blunderbuss Lord Mere, and Binnie Barnes as his disturbing lady give fine characterizations.

The picture is handsomely staged and costumed and the whole handsomely photographed in technicolor. [Which, by the way, I thought not so kind to Merle Oberon as black and white.]

See you tomorrow.

Lincoln Monument at Lawrenceville to Be Dedicated June 14

The monument marking the point at which Abraham Lincoln is believed to have entered Illinois for the first time will be dedicated with ceremonies in charge of the Daughters of the American Revolution on June 14. The monument is at the Illinois end of the bridge leading over the Wabash river from Vincennes, Ind., near Lawrenceville, Ill.

The monument is the work of Nellie V. Walker, Chicago sculptress. It shows the young Lincoln driving a yoke of oxen which are drawing a covered wagon. Funds for the monument were raised by the Illinois D. A. R. chapters. The work was begun when Mrs. Julian G. Goodhue of Oak Park, who recently retired as national historian general of the society, was Illinois regent. She is permanent chairman of the committee in charge. A state park has been established on the land surrounding the monument.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

There's no fun in sunning yourself if you end up with a bad burn. For a safe, even tan use a protective that guards against burning but encourages a pretty toasted effect.

The rush into sun suits is on. If you live anywhere near a beach or a park, you must have observed how many women—and of all shapes and sizes, by the way—are already wearing the popular play suits.

Every woman has the right to decide whether she will toast to a deep brown or stay lily fair. She can do as she likes about it. Our own feeling is that this season we'll see fewer coats of dark tan than we've seen in recent summers. Suntan makeup will do the trick when you want to be a really dusky beauty. But, of course, there will be plenty of women who will want at least a little natural tan.

For them there are the special preparations that prevent burning and help you to acquire a healthy tan. There are several on the market. One we used with great success last summer—and which some Florida fans used with equal success during the winter—is a greaseless suntan lotion.

It has two of the strongest selling points. It's effective and it's not messy. Any woman who wants to oil herself to the ears can do it—but personally we're not having any. That sticky feeling is more than we can bear. With this lotion there is none of that; you don't feel like a pork chop under the broiler.

This is a light liquid, orange in color and with a nice, clean fragrance. It should be applied freely and rubbed in. Then it vanishes. You're coated with a protective, but you don't look it. This is to be used before going into the sun and after you've come out of the water if you swim. We've had people try this out under many conditions—on boats, on beaches and for motoring in the sun. Every one who has used it swears it's tops. It's most inexpensive, too.

ELEANOR NANGLE.

Unfamiliar Faces

By Alice Grant Rosman

[Copyright: 1938: By Alice Grant Rosman.]

SYNOPSIS.

Elizabeth Sandal is shocked to find her children, Dorothea and Oliver, resent their father's will that unexpectedly left a fortune to her and did not mention them. She goes off to Switzerland for a change and rest, and meets Andrew Leicester, who was a groom at her wedding. Andrew, a widower, is returning after years of absence in the east to meet his children. William, his son, lives with a bachelor relative; his daughter, Shirley, with his wife's relatives. Shirley was in an airplane accident with a young pilot, Tony Voisin, after which Tony's engagement to another girl was broken. Her mother's people blame Shirley. Andrew hopes to have it out with Shirley before seeing his in-laws. Shirley believes he is aligned with her hated relatives and treats him coolly. Andrew turns to Elizabeth for sympathy. She tries to make friends with the boy and girl. Oliver visits his mother and lingers to fall in love with Shirley.

INSTALMENT XXXII.

THOUGHTS OF THE PAST.

After Oliver had gone Elizabeth sat in the easy chair going over the past which her late husband's memorandum had recalled with increasing bewilderment.

Debt to B. . . . Betty. He had not called her that for years; they had both felt the name rather ridiculous for her in a decade overfilled with young Bettys. Yet, to have returned to it last year, perhaps unconsciously, seemed to suggest in him some affection for her still.

She had never dreamed that he had had her money on his mind, though she remembered well enough how bitterly he had disliked taking it on each occasion, and how impatient she had been at an attitude which had seemed a contradiction to their love and a reflection upon her. She thought now of what he had taken from her or let her share as a matter of course—the years of anxiety, the drudgery, which he did not trouble to lighten even when he could, the loss of friends, holidays, and diversions, all of which made this note about her money seem incredible.

But gradually a possible solution dawned upon her. He had had something of his father's temperament, had liked to be lavish and successful, the generous head of the family, and to have had to take help from her of all people had been too bitter.

She could not believe that adversity had so twisted his nature that saving had become a dreadful habit, and she could imagine now a dozen ways in which, without being in the least aware of it, she might by inattention or lassitude at the end of the day, or some quite innocent remark, have repelled his impulse to frankness.

The impulse must have been there or why this note with its absurd sums for interest which she would have been drawing all these years and the increased capital value due to the better times?

She pictured his coming home one evening not long before his death—it must have been with the note in his pocketbook—and, finding something in her to put him off, he had begun to use the note as a spill, and then put it in the tobacco jar.

Her own incomprehension in the light of this idea seemed more terrible than any failing of his. Misery swept over her, and the unchanged will—his grand gesture after all—became a reproach instead of a consolation.

"Debt to B."

Not such a reproach after all! And the little watch winking under the light, bought with his money, her first piece of conscious extravagance, was just the kind of glittering trifle he would have loved to give her.

"From you to me," she thought. "The very thing I wanted," tore the paper up as a debt canceled, smiling at her own absurdity, yet comforted.

The effect of the day in the open air conquered these old distresses at last and Elizabeth slept well, waking in the morning to think, not so much of Robert as her son. The happiness of his coming still survived. She could smile now at Oliver's searching the house and wonder why it had troubled her.

"I have done nothing but quarrel with him ever since he came" she thought with contrition.

Suddenly she knew that after all she would take back her ultimatum about Robert's money. Oliver would never understand her point of view and think it another sign of her incapacity to handle affairs, but that was unimportant.

If being a woman she was bound to come to peace with herself through a reasoning with its roots in her emotions, what did it matter? She loved her children and she could not tie them to her by a thread which made them dependent upon her, giving her a false claim to something which could not be bought.

She loved them as they were, and whatever they were.

When she went down Oliver appeared and offered to take her out and buy her a flower for her coat, and this return for her anger last night made her smile for her theories which, like Andrew's, were falling down.

"Had a hideous night, I suppose," he said to her.

"Lovely," she assured him.

"Woman, you lie. You lay awake till dawn and then put on a new complexion to deceive me, or possibly old Ginger Face."

"I don't think that is in the least a suitable name for him," she protested. "Why don't you like Andrew? He has been very kind to me, if that is any virtue in your eyes."

"And high time some one was."

"There is something I want to tell you," said his mother.

He glanced at her and grinned.

"I know. That I am—well we won't go into details in the street. Fathead, conceited ass, money grubber, clumsy brute. Quite right. Hand me the list and I'll sign on the dotted line."

She shook her head.

"None of that was in my mind. I only wanted to tell you I had changed my views about your father's money. We know really the old will would have been changed if he had dreamed he was going to die. You shall both have your share, but do remember that he worked and saved it for us all. You can't be expected to know that as well as I do, but it was true."

"You don't think I bore the old boy a grudge, do you?" Oliver said, "because upon my honor I didn't . . . just took him as he came. If that's why you are doing this you take the things we say a shade too seriously, mother."

"Do I? Well, never mind."

She saw suddenly that he felt she had been trying to impose some picture of his father upon him, and was horrified because it might be true.

"Stupid of me," she said. "That has nothing to do with it all. You both have your own lives and ought to have your own money. Your father would certainly have wished it. Anything else is not common sense."

He turned her into the flower shop, bought her roses to wear, and ordered an immense bunch to be sent to the hotel for her room.

"Now then, what about having a word with the head waiter and ordering young William a gala dinner on his last night? My show and you shall choose the food and fal-fals," he said. "Out of my salary, though. I've been saving to buy myself a car, so we'll spend a tire or two."

He was relieved to see her so cheerful this morning after the unfortunate incident of the memorandum last night, and was thankful she was not given to gloom and high tragedy. As for her change of view about the money, bless her heart, he had always been pretty sure she would come round about that.

The evacuation of William before the opening of hostilities was nearly completed.

Throughout Monday Andrew kept tactfully in the background. He supposed at some future date he might expect to converse with his son more intelligently than in "Yes, thanks," and "No, reallys," but apart from this verbal deficiency he was satisfied with the boy.

Is Girl Asking 'Love Me?' Due for Criticism?

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

"How can I find out if she loves me?"

Our boys are not the cocksure, aggressive gentlemen they're sometimes believed to be. So many of them ask: "How can I find out if she loves me?" Recently I suggested to said young men, through one inquiring youth, "When in doubt ask!" I know no better way of finding out, do you? Anyway, there's no harm done by asking. In fact, the query, to a girl's ear, must be heard as a bit of flattery, even if she may not be ready to say "yes."

But Jane now has something to say about this question of knowing where you stand with the one you care about. She writes:

"You tell the boys, Miss Blake, when in doubt to ask. Good advice, that! There is any number of big strong men who become terribly shy and awkward when it comes to finding out where they stand with that 'certain some one.'

"You advise the men to 'just ask her,' and, if the girl will answer honestly, the boy should consider himself lucky. If she says 'yes' he will know his heart isn't beating in vain. If the answer is 'no' he will save himself plenty of future heartaches and disillusionment. BUT what's a girl to do, in love with a boy under the same circumstances? Should she also ask? I am sure just as many of your girl readers would like to know what they should do?"

Perhaps you young men will be good enough to help us out. What would you think if the girl up and asked you if you loved her?

Personally, I feel that a boy has the prerogative that the girl may not enjoy without impairing her standing, or threatening it. But things may be different than when I was a young thing, suffering the pangs of not knowing whether my heartbeats were my own sole misery or not. So, you tell us boys, if it would or would not affect a girl's standing with you were she to confront you suddenly with a query as to the state of your real feelings toward her?

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT FACE PIMPLES

These disfiguring little spots often result from a slight, temporary disturbance, or merely from incorrect cleansing, or sometimes they are more persistent due to deeper internal causes.

While properly treating the underlying cause, you can relieve the itchy, burning soreness and help your skin by using an ointment that will keep the medication in contact with the pimply spots. Apply it every night and leave it on all night. It does a world of good.

For more than 40 years people have used Resinol Ointment to fill this need. It soothes the irritation and aids healing. It also treats the oil pores where many surface pimples start. Washing first with Resinol Soap quickens the pleasing results.

Linking Dress and Cosmetic Shades Is Wise

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

The importance of clever makeup, as it is being extended into the heartiest kind of alliance with dress colors, is indicated in a harmony chart recently come to my attention. It is the compilation of one of the most advanced cosmeticians who has done a great deal to educate women in harmonizing dress and makeup colors.

There still is much to be done by women themselves in this respect, much to learn about dress color effects on the color of eyes, hair and skin. We all have experienced a complete brightening of face and hair with a change from a dull black, say, to a warm shade with life in it. It happens that certain blues will do this for me. Maybe red or some other shade does it for you.

The fact remains that we do observe a change in color. We probably have discovered that certain shades of green, with mustard tints, will almost slaughter whatever natural color we've managed to preserve. Or, an orange shade frock will give a sick-Indian cast.

A dead white with hard surface might make the skin look grayish, whereas a white with cream in it would supply that soft tone needed. So, you might go through the entire gamut of colors and pick and choose those that highlight the skin, hair and eyes, and discard colors the mirror registers plainly as a worst bet.

Naturally, we all can't have a dressing table strewn with makeup shades for each and every ensemble. We think that is not imperative yet. We may get around to it later, as we did with shoes. Time was, in the "good old days," when a woman with three pairs of shoes, a house pair, a street pair, and dressup pair, was considered sufficiently equipped. Today she has shoes for every costume. Anyway, she has costumes so that the shoes she has fit in. That, I say, is what we are getting around to in makeup.

But the charts are fun to look at, and we dream of the day when we shall refer to one hanging over the dressing table with directions to follow in case we are wearing tweeds, royal blue, pastel or rajah purples, or other dress colors.

All of which is introduced today, not so much to put the chart in your hands but to warn you that the day is near when you will have to have more than a single makeup kit on hand. If you happen to buy a green frock, for example, that drains the color out of the face, and you have to wear it, all you have to do is to take your problem to a cosmetic counter, try out shades, and get one that puts the color right back into the face again.

Miss Thatcher and Anne Tracy Will Be Brides

Mrs. Fentress, Miss Martha Farish of New York, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Robert W. Wood II., sister-in-law of the bride, will be the bridesmaids.

Miss Farish Delayed by Attack of Measles.

Miss Farish was expected this week from Vassar to attend the prenuptial parties, but a case of measles has her in the infirmary at college. She expects to be here for the wedding. Young Mr. Wood, who is to be the best man, and his wife are arriving on Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Farish will arrive on Thursday of next week, and will stay at the Deerpath inn, in Lake Forest. Mr. and Mrs. Stephen P. Farish, the R. L. Blaffers, the W. M. Rizes, and the junior James O. Winstons, all of Houston, will be at the inn, too.

Mr. Winston, Hugo Newhaus, a cousin of Mr. Farish; John Blaffer, and William T. Carter Jr. of Houston, will be ushering. Also ushering will be Walter Teagle Jr. and Newton Buckner of New York, Denys Cadman of London, England; Briggs McLemore of Nashville, Tenn.; Anderson Fowler and Frank Johnson of Far Hills, N. J., and Raymond Graham, also of Texas. Others coming for the wedding are Mr. and Mrs. Hardwick Stires of Far Hills, cousins of Miss Wood.

Two Parties This Week for Miss Fidelia Richards.

Only two parties are the program this week for Miss Fidelia Richards, who is to be married on June 18 to William Winston Roper Jr. of Philadelphia. Her aunt, Mrs. Kingman Douglass, gave a luncheon and closet shower yesterday in Lake Forest, and another aunt, Mrs. George Richards, is giving a luncheon and stocking shower on Saturday. After luncheon Mrs. Richards will take her guests to the horse show at the South Shore Country club.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip James, who used to live in Lake Forest, will come from their home in New York for the marriage of their niece, Miss Richards. Mr. and Mrs. James will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. McLennan of Lake Forest while they are here.

Plan Luncheons for Exchange Sale.

Mrs. Kersey Coates Reed and Mrs. William Roy Carney are giving luncheons Thursday at their homes in Lake Forest for some of their friends who will drive out from the city to attend the Woman's Exchange sale at Mrs. Conway Olmsted's.

Modeling at the sale will be the Misses Betty Armour, Mary Adams, Kay Goodman, Mary Gardner, Mrs. Solomon B. Smith, Mrs. A. Watson Armour III., Mrs. Charles S. Dewey Jr., Mrs. John P. Bent, Mrs. Press Hodgkins, Mrs. Louis C. Sudler, Mrs. George A. Poole Jr., and Mrs. John D. Ames.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Oates Jr. are giving a dinner-dance at the Onwentsia club on June 18 to celebrate their 13th wedding anniversary.

The Chicago Home for Convalescent Women and Children will finish its season with a luncheon on June 14 at the country home of Mrs. Clarence Troup in Libertyville. The luncheon will be given for Mrs. Alan T. Lockard, the retiring president. Mrs. Kane Cavenaugh, the new president, will present plans for a swing ball to be held Oct. 1 at the Palmer house.

Committee Meeting of Bowl of Rice Party.

Mrs. Harley F. MacNair, who has taken the chairmanship of the publicity committee for the Bowl of Rice party to be held at the Hotel Sherman Friday evening, June 17, is meeting her committee this afternoon at the Arts club. Her long residence in China and her knowledge of Chinese affairs qualify her to work for the success of the party, the proceeds of which will be used for civilian relief in China.

Mrs. Henry W. Austin, Mrs. A. M. Hauser Jr., Mrs. Charles W. Seabury, and Mrs. Ernest Tomlinson are in charge of the Oak Park section of the committee on arrangements. The general committee is headed by Mrs. John Alden Carpenter. Gov. Horner recently has become a member of the general committee.

At the annual meeting of the American Friends of China yesterday afternoon at the Arts club, Mrs. Carpenter was reëlected president. The four vice presidents are Mrs. Richard T. Crane Jr., Mrs. J. Paul Welling, Mrs. Tiffany Blake, and Col. George T. Langhorne. The secretary is Miss Lucy Driscoll and the treasurer is Dr. Walter Lichtenstein.

Mrs. J. P. Wilson Jr. to Visit in Baltimore.

Mrs. John P. Wilson Jr. and her two little sons are leaving today for Baltimore to visit Mrs. Randall Compton, the former Cynthia Wilson.

Mrs. Theodore A. Shaw Jr. has returned home after a month's absence in New York and Middletown, Conn., where she visited her brother, George Worthington, who has returned to Chicago with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris L. Johnston have taken the Henry Rumsey house in Lake Forest for the summer.

The Herbert E. Hydes have moved from an apartment in town to a house at 112 Church road, Winnetka, which they will occupy the year 'round.

Take Suburban Homes for Summer.

Mrs. Harris Whiting has moved for the summer into the Slason Thompson house in Lake Forest.

The Henry S. Buntings have taken the Oakwood avenue house in Lake Forest formerly occupied by the Dorsey Montgomerys, who now are Barrington residents.

The Carl Leighs have taken the Alfred C. Castle house on the Knollwood club grounds for the summer.

The Nathaniel H. Blatchfords have moved to Michigan City and the Carl Birdsalls have taken the Blatchfords' house in Hubbard Woods. During July and August Mrs. Blatchford and the younger children will be at their summer home on Lake Wipigaki, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Francis Pearce Jr. and their children, Eloise and Jim, have moved from Glencoe and will live in Crystal Lake for the next six months. They will supervise the building of a new house on forty acres of wooded land that they have bought near Woodstock. Mr. and Mrs. Robert English [Harriet Tilden] of Evanston have bought Mr. and Mrs. Pearce's Glencoe house at 847 Valley road.

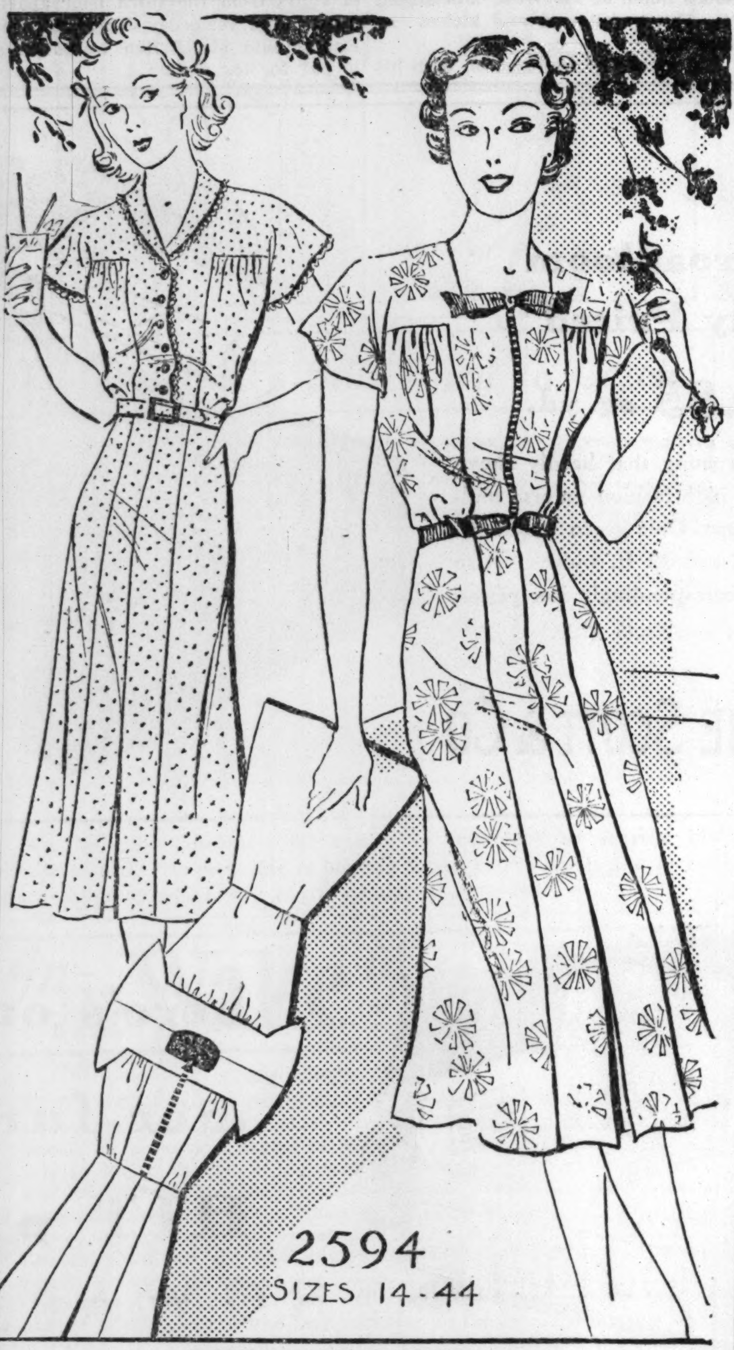
Cotton Sheer for Torrid Days



WOMAN'S AND MISS' FROCKS.

When the mercury soars you'll enjoy wearing a cool dress of cotton sheer. Somehow a sheer frock never loses its air of freshness no matter how torrid the weather. This is a valuable asset in any frock, and sheers have the added advantage of tubbing beautifully.

This frock has the simplest possible lines, yet it is feminine and somewhat dressy. There is soft fullness under the shoulder yoke, which is cut in one with the brief sleeves. The neckline may be either V or square. In the former case it might wear a soft rolled collar edged with ready-made braid or lace, more of which might adorn the sleeves and the front closing. If a square neckline is preferred, leave it plain and decorate the base of it with a tailored bow to match the belt.

The dress is fitted superbly through the hips and plaits afford ample width through the skirt. This frock is lovely in all types of printed cotton sheers, and the more color you have in the pattern the better.

Style No. 2594 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44 inch bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3¼ yards of 39 inch material, with 2 yards of 1½ inch ribbon.

There's a cleaner for enameled and painted walls and woodwork, for linoleum, tile, marble, terra cotta and for carpets and rugs that may be used with or without water. Available in five and ten pound cans, it can be used all over the house, and it is reasonably priced.

It's not intended for cheap paint, calcimine or water colors.

To apply it put some on a damp sponge or cloth and rub the space a little at a time. Before going further go over the surface cleaned with a clean cloth or sponge.

This cleaner is excellent for the interiors of refrigerators, too, and serves as a deodorizer.

If your hands become grimy, try rubbing a little of the cleaner on them, and then wipe off with cloth or paper. You'll find it does the work.

Entertaining? Guests Enjoy Tidbit Edibles

[Copyright: 1938: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Call them appetizers, if you can't manage the French pronunciation of hors d'œuvres. I've heard them called everything from "horse-dovers" to "oredoovers," and by any name they taste as good.

I think American women take a keen delight in devising these little edibles after their own fashion. Almost any woman who plans an appetizer tray for a party will deviate from her recipes a bit to add touches of her own. She may try baking ripe olives in a casing of cheese pastry; she may impale cubes of fresh pineapple coated with highly seasoned cream cheese on cocktail picks, or she may make up a sauce out of her own head to use for dipping raw vegetable appetizers.

From this group of appetizer suggestions a trayful of the most delightful tidbits may be arranged, with or without a hostess' own original embellishments.

APPETIZERS TO SERVE ON COCKTAIL PICKS.

1. Shrimp marinated in lemon juice. [A sauce should accompany them.]
2. Cubes of salami or other sausage dipped in cream and rolled in parsley.
3. Thueringer sausage and sweet pickle in thin slices, alternating.
4. Thin slices of salami rolled into cornucopias and filled with highly seasoned cream cheese.
5. Radishes stuffed with caviar.
6. Deviled egg quarters dipped in cream and rolled in grated cheese or parsley.
7. Prunes stuffed with horseradish flavored cheese.
8. Cubes of American or other cheese with pickled onions or stuffed olives.
9. Raw apple cubes coated with Roquefort cheese.
10. Large pecans put together with a creamy cheese.
11. Cauliflower sections [raw] marinated in sharp French dressing.
12. Short bits of celery stuffed with sharp cheese and topped with caviar or strips of pimiento.
13. Small sardines.
14. Cheese coated fresh pineapple cubes. [May be coated with chopped mint.]
15. Stuffed olives wrapped in bacon and broiled.
16. Bacon spread with peanut butter and minced onion, rolled and broiled.
17. Cheese balls rolled in cooked rice and fried in deep fat.
18. Canadian bacon spread with mustard sauce, rolled and broiled.
19. Olives, shrimp, sliced egg dipped in batter and fried in deep fat.
20. Any simple sandwich, minus crusts, cut in inch squares and sautéed in butter.
21. Small mushrooms sautéed in butter and marinated in French dressing.
22. Chicken livers sautéed in butter, seasoned, wrapped with bacon, and broiled.
23. Tiny sausages rolled in pie dough and baked. [These needn't be served on picks unless desired.]
24. Thin slices of bread spread with soft cheese, covered with dried beef, rolled, skewered, and toasted.

These two dozen examples of appetizers for use with picks aren't by any means the only kind of hors d'œuvres. There are the canapes and various more or less elaborate tidbits made to eat with the fingers, for instance. But they are stories in themselves.

Cocktail picks are used with appetizers which are greasy, sticky, moist, or very hot. Those arrangements which are easily picked up with the fingers needn't be impaled unless skewers are necessary to hold them together.

Appetizers, since their purpose is defined by their name, shouldn't be oversize. They should be small.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1938: By Ely Culbertson.]

Under pressure, and grudgingly, most masculine bridge players will admit that many women play a rattling good game, but they usually qualify their praise by adding, "they play a sound game, but not an imaginative one." I hereby present, with pleasure, an instance of highly imaginative play on the part of a well known feminine New York expert, urging the masculine portion of my readers to pay special attention and, if possible, to profit thereby!

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 no trump	Pass	2 no trump	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

In a twelve table duplicate game every North-South pair reached the identical three no trump contract, and probably by the same bidding sequence. Unbelievable as it may seem, eleven declarers trotted home with their contract without having been called on for so much as a finesse. The twelfth was "fixed to the queen's taste," by the aforesaid feminine expert. The various declarers had nothing whatever to do with their own success or failure. It was the opening lead that assumed the rôle of fate.

At the eleven tables, West chose the normal, orthodox lead of the club jack. East had to cover with the singleton queen, and in every case declarer ducked. Unable to return a club, East had to shift, and it was the simplest possible matter for declarer to get his spades established before West could run the club suit.

The unfortunate twelfth declarer saw a different card led originally. At his table the club king came out, to shatter his equanimity and convert him forever into a misogynist. Note the diabolical effect of that lead.

East's queen fitted neatly underneath the king and now, whether or not declarer held up the ace, he was sunk. West was in a position to establish her club suit before losing her spade ace, and there was nothing that declarer could do but accept defeat as graciously as possible.

Now let us see whether the lead was well calculated or merely "lucky." What did West have to lose by selecting the club king instead of any other club? If South had the club queen in addition to the ace, the lead of the king would neither lose nor gain. The same applies to the holding of the guarded queen by either dummy or East. If the queen were blank in either dummy or East's hand, however, the king lead was vital. The only danger of leading the king was to find East with the ace, and declarer with the queen. In that case, the king lead would lose the chance to trap the queen. But surely this last was an unlikely contingency. Considering the bidding, it was at least four to one that either declarer or dummy held the club ace.

No, my friends and fellow men, I am afraid that we cannot attribute the lady's lead to "luck!"

WEDDINGS

The wedding of Miss Betty Byrne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kehoe Byrne of Kenilworth, to John Echols Sykes Jr., son of Mrs. John Echols Sykes of Winnetka, will take place at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in St. Athanasius church in Evanston with a reception following at the home of the bride's parents.

The ring with which Miss Byrne will be married is an heirloom that was made by a French craftsman in New Orleans in 1878 for Mr. Sykes' grandmother and was, in turn, worn by his mother.

After a wedding trip by motor through the west Mr. Sykes and his bride will be at home after July 1 in Oklahoma City, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. LaBrish of 1748 North Mason avenue, formerly of Western Springs, announce the approaching marriage on Saturday of their daughter, Jeanne, to Russell Charles Jacobson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Jacobson of 3723 Concord place. The wedding will take place at 4:30 o'clock in the Trinity Congregational church.

Miss LaBrish attended La Grange Junior college and Mr. Jacobson attended the University of Wisconsin. Mr. Jacobson and his bride will be at home on Concord place after a two weeks' tour of northern Wisconsin.

Child's Speech Too Subtle to Stand Forcing

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

"Don't worry," said the baby-child's grandmother. "When she's ready to talk she'll talk."

That's mostly true. When your small child's ready to talk she'll talk. And if she seems slow in getting started the chances are that there'll be a veritable flood of it when she does begin. She'll probably chatter the livelong day and be, besides, a veritable walking interrogation point.

Just what holds off the beginnings of real speech and just what brings a little child's whole organism to the point of bursting into speech [particularly where it's been long delayed] we don't exactly know. It is a subtle and complex matter. However, we have discovered or surmised some reasons for the retardation other than physical ones such as we mentioned yesterday. And we are talking now only of children of normal intelligence.

There are cases known of children with retarded speech who have been excessively pampered and made unnecessarily dependent upon their adults. The theory is that they are deprived in this way of the need for speech because their wants are filled almost as soon as they are felt.

Here is another phase of the matter: A mother wrote me about her small child who started to talk and then suddenly stopped. I did not know any details, but instances like this, or cases of a child not beginning at all, have been traced to an antagonism or some other deep emotion felt against some person in the child's household.

A slow start in talking, or slow progress, or a lack of fluency and expressiveness might have this logical origin: Some children may not talk because they haven't anything to say! At least, not anything much. Their mother, for instance, may not talk to them as she goes about her housework day by day. O, there's lots you can talk to even your baby about.

Long before he understands all your words he "gets" your tone of voice, your expression, the interest in your eyes as you look at him. A little later, when he's trotting around, he feels companionableness in the air and there gets to be a mutual responsiveness between you. He tries to meet your speech with his.

Then there are some children who never have their many questions answered, never have things explained to them, never have stories told or pictures shown or books read, never are taken to see the many things that stir mind and imagination to the point of speech. Visits to the market and the market man, the zoo, a pet shop, an occasional toy store; lingering beside the huge derrick at the side of the country road or city excavation; gazing awestruck at the gargantuan locomotive — there are dozens of things that enchant a little child and move him to speak either of home things or the great outside world. Absence of these things may make a small child's life so colorless and without event that he has slight urge to express himself in words.

Surely a well rounded, happy life lived with loving, interested people tends to a rich development in the direction of speech as in all other directions.

BLAKE ANSWERS

Don't Be Stubborn; Apologize!

"Dear Miss Blake: I had an argument with my girl and struck her. I still love her, but my pride won't permit me to talk to her. STUBBORN."

That's not pride, it's stubbornness. Extend a most humble apology and hope the young woman will be generous enough to accept it.

No Wonder You Are Constipated!

What do you eat for breakfast? Coffee, toast, maybe some eggs? What do you eat for lunch and dinner? Bread, meat potatoes? No wonder you're constipated; you probably don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean the amount you eat. It means the kind of food that forms a soft "bulky" mass in the bowels. It's this mass that helps a bowel movement.

The common sense thing to do about it is to eat a natural laxative food. Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast will give you just the "bulk" you need. And it gives you, in addition, Nature's great intestinal-tonic, vitamin B_1. Eat this crunchy toasted cereal every day, drink plenty of water, and life will be brighter for you! All-Bran is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

TRAVEL REFUSES TO SLOW DOWN FOR DEPRESSION

Volume Rises, Though Per Capita Outlay Falls.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Mackinaw City, Mich., June 6.—[Special.]—Trafic on the automobile ferries shuttling across the straits here indicates that motor touring has not been recessed by the Roosevelt depression. A third boat was added five days ago to the fleet operated by the Michigan highway commission. All were well loaded this week-end, with a large portion of the cars carrying vacation baggage.

Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, reported that during the first five months of 1938 the ferries took 33,268 automobiles across the straits, compared with 33,097 during the same period of 1937—a year that established new records for recreational travel. The increase this year, though small, was despite a Memorial day holiday week-end slump attributable to unfavorable weather. Outside of this holiday week-end, there has been a 6 per cent increase for the year.

Whole Nation Concerned.

The maintenance of tourist volume is of concern to the general economics of America, and is of particular concern to Michigan. Recreational motoring circulates as much money as a large industry.

Other indices indicate that automobile owners are going to continue to travel for pleasure, regardless of the depression. The American Petroleum institute, in touch with gasoline sales, a few days ago announced an outlook for 1938 motor travel to break last year's high. In 1937 the best estimates of total touring expenditures approximated 4 billion dollars.

The American Automobile association recently circulated a questionnaire among resort hotel operators. Eighty per cent of the answers predicted a drop in receipts for this year, compared with last. California was the single section of the country expecting a continued revenue increase.

Spend Less Per Capita.

The association concluded from this and other surveys that there is no decrease in the number of motor tourists, but that each is spending less than a year ago.

Michigan, with its lakes and woods within easy driving distance of large population centers, is not expected to suffer from this stint of travel expenses. Resort owners in the upper peninsula report they are well booked with reservations. Chicagoans who in better times might go to Maine or to the west coast are selecting the closer and therefore cheaper vacation area.

The United States Chamber of Commerce listed Michigan's 1936 tourist business at $300,000,000. Last year, with a substantial rise in recreational travel, estimates ran as high as $400,000,000.

"Foreign" Cars in Numbers.

In a drive of 440 miles over north Michigan roads in THE TRIBUNE's road car during the last couple of days, penetrating virgin forest on U. S. No. 2, cruising over miles of new concrete on Lake Michigan beach and skirting inland lakes with heavily wooded shores, it was noted that out of state motorists have returned to this vacation area this spring in last year's numbers.

RESCUE THREE YOUTHS AFTER BOAT CAPSIZES

Three youths were recued from the lake a half mile off 31st street late yesterday as they clung to the side of an 18 foot sailboat which had capsized.

They are Robert Barnard Jr., 15 years old, 415 West 63d street; Grant McLaren, 16, of 245 West 59th place, and Ernest Helmboldt, 19, of 6116 South Richmond street. The boat belonged to Helmboldt.

Rescuers under the direction of Capt. John O. Anderson sped from the old Chicago coast guard station and took the trio to Jackson park station. The boys were shivering from their ducking in the cold water, which they were in nearly an hour.

With the advent of good sailing weather the busy season starts for the coast guard. The old Chicago station, which handles the brunt of rescue work, averages three or four distress calls a day. Since last fall there have been 215, most of them for boats in trouble. In a sudden squall last fall five boats overturned and in ten minutes the boatroom of the station was crowded with thirty-five persons who had been saved.

Chicagoan and Unidentified Woman Die in Auto Crash

Dwight, Ill., June 6.—(AP)—Two persons were killed here tonight as the result of a head-on collision between an automobile and a transport truck. Lars Thomson, 55 years old, 3727 North Keeler avenue, Chicago, an electrical foreman of the park district, and an unidentified woman companion were the victims. The woman was killed instantly, while Thomson died soon after admission to the Dwight Veterans' hospital. Clarence Hartsock of Peoria, driver of the truck, suffered cuts and bruises.

WOMAN KILLED BY AUTO AS SHE CROSSES STREET

Mrs. Florence Goufs, 35 years old, 2656 Washington boulevard, was killed yesterday when she was struck by an automobile at Warren boulevard and Washtenaw avenue. The driver, George Neslund, 23, of 6247 Neva avenue, told police she walked in front of his car.

Mrs. Angeline Straub, 46 years old, 2948 Fulton street, died early today in the Franklin Boulevard hospital of injuries incurred last Sunday when she was struck by the automobile of John Rohen, 2131 North Leamington street, near her home.

William Boyle, 74 years old, a retired policeman, was seriously injured last night when he was struck by an automobile in front of his home at 2943 5th avenue. He was taken to the County hospital. Mrs. Mary Miller, 3036 Franklin boulevard, driver of the car, was held by the Warren avenue police on a charge of reckless driving.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 357 persons had been killed in automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 275 were killed in Chicago, where 7,568 were injured in the same period.

Autoist Jailed for Ten Days as Drunken Driver

A charge of driving while intoxicated sent Frank Chmieleski of 1622 Adams street to jail for 10 days when he faced Judge Stephen Adamowski in Safety court yesterday. Other penalties: Patrick Reilly, 1103 West 79th street, five days for reckless driving; Edward Krzemien, 1048 Honore street, fined $10 for reckless driving; and Gust Yuratovac, 9708 Avenue M, fined $5 for leaving the scene of an accident.

BOUNCING YOUNG SUITOR IS THROWN FOR TOTAL LOSS

Believing that love laughs at locksmiths got Lloyd Fritch of 6310 Greenwood avenue into trouble. Mr. Fritch, who is 29 years old, went over to 6940 Princeton avenue Sunday to woo Bernice Sullivan, 30. Refusing to listen, she hurried over to Isabel Serena's home at 342 West 69th street. Mr. Fritch followed and kicked the door in.

But before he could go on with his wooing, the frailest of Mrs. Serena's six brothers came out, as police tell the story, and bounced Mr. Fritch consecutively down the six half flights of stairs from the third floor apartment. And yesterday Judge Michael Kasper said Mr. Fritch would have to pay for the door.

CUBS WHIP PHILS, 10-8; MEET GIANTS TODAY

WAR ADMIRAL SCORES HIS 11TH VICTORY IN ROW

Outruns Snark in Aqueduct Stake.

New York, June 6.—(AP)—War Admiral, unbeaten since his final start of 1936, returned to competition today, giving one of his greatest performances to win the Queens county handicap at the opening of Aqueduct.

The Admiral, scratched from the Suburban handicap last week after his $100,000 match race with Seabiscuit had been canceled, was greeted by mingled boos and cheers when he paraded in front of the crowd of 12,000. But there were only cheers when Charley Kurtsinger drove him home a length in front of the Wheatley stable's Snark, winner of the Suburban.

Nears Track Record.

Flying Samuel D. Riddle's yellow and black silks, the Admiral packed 132 pounds, the heaviest weight he has ever carried, over the mile in 1:36 4-5 for his eleventh straight triumph. The time was only four-fifths of a second off the track record set by John P. Grier, a speed demon back in the days of Admiral's daddy.

The Riddle star was the 11 to 20 choice in a field reduced to four by the scratching of Mythical King and Rex Flag. His share of the purse was $4,425 and ran his earnings for the year to $54,950 and for his career to $236,050.

War Admiral had to be at his best to win for in front of him for a half mile he had the fast stepping Rudie from W. H. Gallagher's stable and right behind for the last three-eighths was Snark, which had won the Suburban in near record time. At the finish, Rudie had dropped back to last as Danger Point came up to take third, eight lengths behind Snark.

Rudie Takes Lead.

Unlike his previous races, the little brown Riddle colt stood perfectly still in his stall while Rudie reared and all but tossed his rider, Johnny Barba. Finally, Rudie was taken to the outside.

The Admiral broke in front, but he stayed there only for a few strides as Rudie swung into the rail. The Gallagher colt was three lengths in front as he passed the quarter pole in 23 seconds.

Rudie still was in front at the half mile marker but the Admiral had cut the margin to a length. The time for the four furlongs was 46 seconds—so fast that Rudie had enough. He hung on long enough, however, to carry the favorite wide at the top of the long stretch.

Leads Snark Home.

Once they straightened out for home, the Admiral showed his class. He opened up a length and a half advantage, whirled past the six furlong pole in 1:11 2-5 and staved off Snark's great bid. Snark drew within a length of his conqueror an eighth mile out but he got no closer as Kurtsinger hand rode the Admiral home.

Snead Cards 67 in Practice for Open Meet

Denver, Colo., June 6.—(AP)—Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., one of the longest hitters in golf, today shot a brilliant 34—33—67, four under par, over the Cherry Hills course, scene of the National open tournament. The battle for the title, now held by Ralph Guldahl of Madison, N. J., will start Thursday.

Snead's performance is more remarkable because of the indifferent showing of other ranking stars, who have been tuning up over the tournament layout for several days. Par has eluded all except two—Guldahl and Vic Ghezzi of Deal, N. J., both of whom have equaled the required 71 strokes.

Groundskeepers did some work on the course today, clipping the high grass fringes surrounding a number of greens. Several players, notably Lawson Little and Olin Dutra, had been bitter in their criticism of these matted hazards.

Sam Parks of Pittsburgh, open champion in 1935, said "the boys appear to have overlooked the fact these fringes may be helpful when their shots go scooting across the small greens."

Players today got a taste of the changeable weather they may strike at Cherry Hills before the final shot Saturday night. Strong winds lashed the layout and rain fell from low-hanging clouds massing in from the snow-coated Rockies.

SOX FACE YANKS TODAY; SCHEDULE INSISTS ON IT

Lee to Open Four Game Series.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 6.—The Chicago White Sox, hailed in some quarters as Jimmy's Flopperoos, but still a grand bunch of fellows to those who know them well, are here to make a drive against tumbling into the American league cellar via New York Yankee nudging, shoving or slugging.

As the lads rode here this midafternoon they entreated Miras [nee Frank Carp], the professional mindreader and psychic worker who is traveling and working out with the team, to reveal whether the Browns or Yankees were winning, this by way of determining whether they were to enter New York one or two games out of the league cellar. The mystic angled about in astral planes for quite a spell, but couldn't shag a score. So the curious White Sox had to wait till they got here to pick up some newspapers.

Thornton Lee to Pitch.

The White Sox, who do not hold an advantage over any team in the league in the season series, and are the only team in the league which is down to the cellar Browns, expect to rally behind Thornton Lee tomorrow in the first meeting of four with the Yankees. Manager Dykes probably will use the shuffled supporting lineup which ended the ten game losing streak in the first game in Philadelphia Sunday.

Though the revised battle front blew the second game after enjoying a 4 to 1 lead, the bunch made six runs. two more than the team had scored in any game of the losing streak and six times as many as they collected in each of six games.

Don't Be Surprised.

No one in the Sox party would be surprised to see the Sox fly into the Yankees like a whirlwind, perhaps sweeping the series. All the players seem to be good losers, nicely relaxed and ready for a victory drive whenever it arrives. As long as Mr. Comiskey keeps the checks coming, he's assured of a happy, if unimpressive, coterie. Many believe that happiness makes for success and as long as Manager Dykes can prevent his protegés from worrying about their flops, there will be no pressing, but maybe there will be a big, reckless victory surge. "A big, reckless victory surge!" The very words excite us and we scarcely can contain ourself waiting for the actuality.

There is no one in the Sox party who believes the foldup in the second game in Philadelphia Sunday is the start of another losing streak, though the Sox have not won in the Yankee stadium or in Fenway park, Boston, this year. As a matter of fact they have played only one game this year in each of those enclosures, other scheduled games having been rained out in the May trip.

A Chance to Do Things.

The remainder of the current road trip calls for the single game against the Yankees tomorrow, a double-header Wednesday, a single game Thursday against the same opposition, single games against the Red Sox Friday and Saturday and a double-header Sunday, after which the Sox depart for home.

PROBABLE MAJOR LEAGUE PITCHERS IN TODAY'S GAMES

New York, June 6.—(AP)—Probable pitchers in the major leagues tomorrow with won and lost records:

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Boston at Pittsburgh—Fette [1-6] vs. Klinger [2-1].

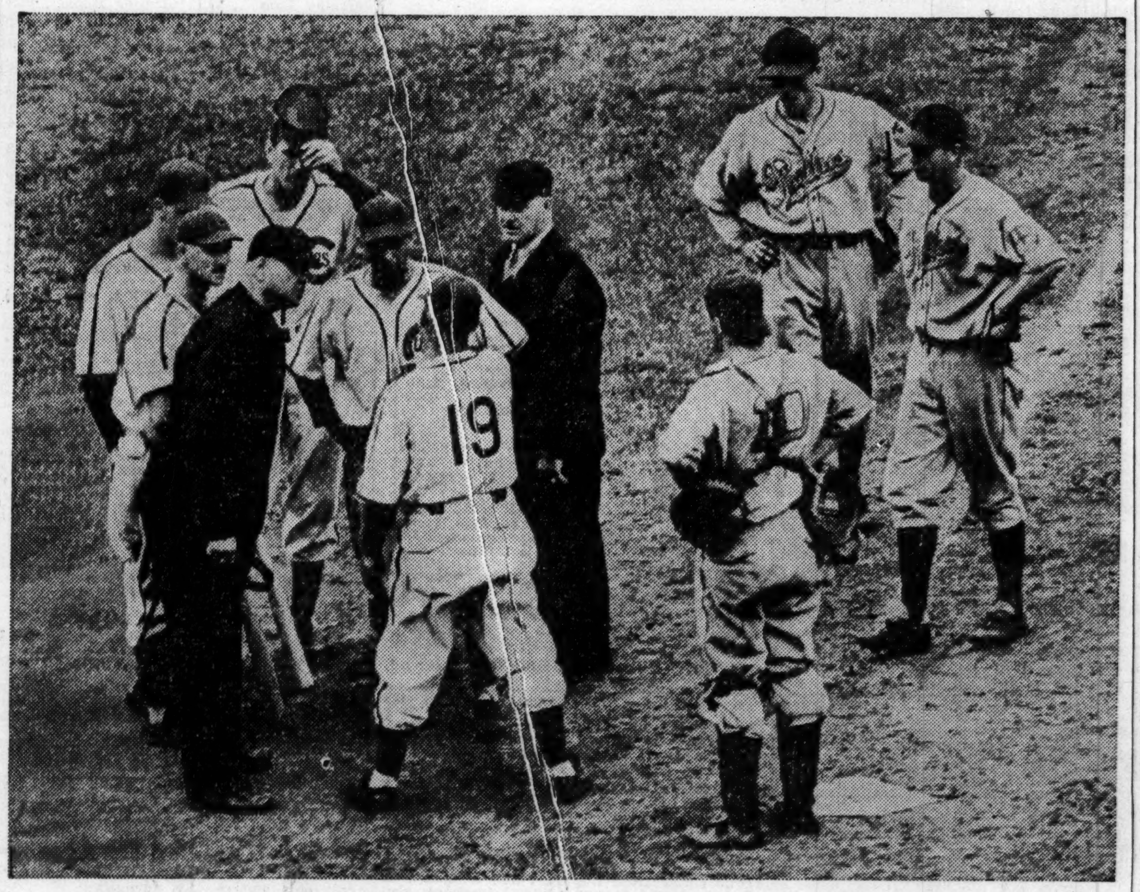
AMERICAN LEAGUE.

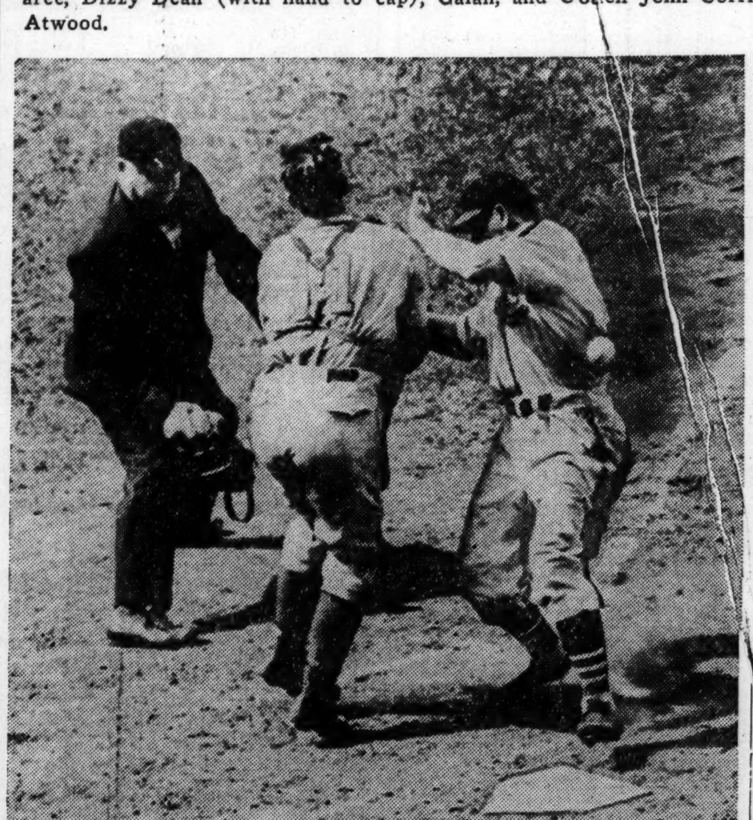
Cleveland at Boston—Allen [7-1] vs. Bagby [3-2].
Chicago at New York—Thornton Lee [1-3] vs. Chandler [4-1].
Detroit at Philadelphia—Gill [3-2] vs. Potter [1-2].
St. Louis at Washington—Walkup [0-6] vs. Leonard [5-4].

And the Umpires Won, as Usual



Umpires George Magerkurth (left) and Tiny Parker win an argument with the Cubs in yesterday's game with the Phillies. Augie Galan, who protested loudest after being called out at first base, and Manager Charley Grimm were ordered from the game. Among those in the argument were Frank Demaree, Dizzy Dean (with hand to cap), Galan, and Coach John Corriden, No. 19. The Philly catcher is Atwood.

[TRIBUNE Photos.]



Frank Demaree scores in the third inning when Stein's throw to the plate for an attempted force play hits Frank in the back. Atwood is the catcher and Magerkurth is the umpire.

Lee to Seek Sixth Straight Victory Today

Bill Lee, who started his current winning streak of five games when he beat the Giants, 1 to 0, at New York in ten innings, May 19, will tackle the champions in the opener of the three game series in Wrigley field today. The Giants will start Cliff Melton.

Gabby Hartnett's left wrist, which was struck by a pitched ball in Saturday's game, was still slightly swollen yesterday so he probably will delay his return until tomorrow.

Ten minutes before game time yesterday a shower descended and the box seat customers—all 300 of them—had to hustle for cover. They were back in their chairs before the first ball was pitched.

Epperly's third major league start was only a slight improvement over his second which took place here May 12 against the Dodgers. In the latter he faced four batters, three of whom singled. The fourth one drew a pass. Bryant relieved Epperly and won the game, 9 to 5.

Galan gave his knee such a severe twist when he tripped over Whitney's foot in the eighth inning that he may be forced to rest today even if he doesn't draw a suspension for blasting Umpires Parker and Magerkurth. The penalty probably will be a fine for both Galan and Grimm.

Four hundred baseball fans of Grand Haven, Grand Rapids, and Muskegon will arrive in Chicago today at noon aboard the S. S. Alabama to attend the Cubs-Giants game.

GIANTS ACQUIRE KAMPOURIS; GIVE BERGER TO REDS

Cincinnati, O., June 6.—(AP)—Alex Kampouris handed in his Cincinnati Red's uniform tonight and turned westward with the New York Giants, as Manager Memphis Bill Terry considered his worries over the second base position at an end.

The veteran outfielder, Wally Berger, remained behind to don a Cincinnati uniform tomorrow. The Berger-Kampouris straight trade was announced by General Manager Warren C. Giles, who said no cash was involved in the deal.

Kampouris, the only Greek player in the National league, attracted attention with his powerful hitting last year by knocking three home runs in one game against Philadelphia.

Berger, after seven seasons with Boston, went to the Giants in June last year. He led the National league in home runs in 1935, tied Kampouris' mark of 17 last year, and hit .285.

As a result of the trade, the Giants announced the release on option of Mickey Haslin to the Jersey City club of the International league.

MUSH MARCH'S TEAM WINS IN GOLF TOURNEY

La Porte, Ind., June 6.—[Special.]—Mush March, a member of the world champion Chicago Blackhawks who is golf professional at Valparaiso, Ind., Country club, today led two Valparaiso amateurs to victory in northern Indiana pro-amateur tournament at Beechwood course here. March, with Ken Sellers and Bill Kendall, cracked eight strokes from par with a 64 best ball.

The Momence, Ill., trio of Pro Denny Sullivan, George Luth, and Harold Price beat Gary's threesome of Pro Herb Walter, John Mislan, and Mike Stefanchik in a playoff for second place. Both shot 65 best ball. Nine other teams competed.

RETAIN LEAGUE LEAD AS ROOT SAVES EPPERLY

Grimm and Galar Are Chased.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Thanks to some high powered hitting, which they seem to hold in reserve for the Phillies, the Cubs maintained their precarious position as league leaders yesterday. Their pitching, in which various gentlemen figured, was considerably off color, but their own bunched slugging finally carried them through, 10 to 8, in a struggle enlivened by ouster proceedings against Manager Charles Grimm and Augie Galan. Umpire George Magerkurth ordered them away for questioning his judgment.

The Cubs started hammering the ball in the first inning and kept it up through the three subsequent innings. That's all that saved them, because the Phils apparently never considered any handicap too big to overcome. They knocked out Rookie Albert Paul Epperly in less than two innings. They fired a couple of homers which made it advisable to remove Rescuer Charles Root. And in the ninth they were still tough enough to run Jack Russell out of the game, Bob Logan finishing.

Bucky Leaves Early.

Maybe because they felt the need of a warmup in preparation for the invasion by the Giants today, the Cubs made short work of Bucky Walters, who usually is a fairly talented foe. They had a charge of five runs against him before the second inning was completed. Pete Sivess also looked easy to them. They plunked him for two runs in the third and another pair in the fourth. After that Sivess got along nicely and so did Sylvester Johnson, who was pitching in the eighth when Magerkurth showed 2,906 fans he was directing the show.

Most pleasing of all the happenings was the rise of Frank Demaree, in a slump all season, into the rôle of a bat wielder. He singled with the bases filled, driving in two runs in the first inning. His second single set off the three run affair in the third. In the fourth he singled again to figure modestly in getting the last run of the day into scoring position.

Walters Makes a Poor Start.

The first four Cubs to face Walters in the first inning reached base, hence the ease with which three runs were scored. Hack slammed Walters' first pitch into left for a single. Herman poked a single past Young, who slipped when he abandoned his sprint toward second. Galan walked, loading the bags. Demaree singled through short, sending Hack and Herman home and Galan to third. The latter registered on O'Dea's force of Demaree. The fun was halted abruptly when a double play was framed on Marty's roller to Stein.

Epperly got through the first inning with nothing worse than a double by Martin and was perfect in the second inning until two were out. Then he walked Atwood and Stein. Walters bounced a single over the rookie pitcher's head and Herman knocked it down behind second, holding Atwood at third. Young whistled a two bagger into left center, Atwood and Stein scoring. Epperly was re-

ROBERTSON ADDS 2 MORE VICTORIES TO GROWING LIST

Leads in Lincoln Fields Meeting.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Daily visitors at Lincoln Fields who back horses Jocky Alfred Robertson rides are well out in front during the early days of the meeting.

Robertson has not failed them on a single afternoon since the meeting opened. His splendid riding has made him the leading jocky at the track.

He waited until the Monee purse was run yesterday—it was the fourth race—before he made his daily trip past the winning post.

He rode the favorite Steady Don in that race and got him home the winner by four lengths. It was a splendid qualifying effort by Steady Don for the $5,000 Joliet stakes to be run on Saturday.

Long Shot Is Third.

To win as easily as he did, a horse must either outclass his opponents or else be given a masterful ride. Had it not been for Robertson in the saddle, this finish might have been different.

It was unusual to see a son of Don Leon skip along so speedily over a fast track. Don Leon is Steady Don's pappy. The latter evidently is one son that doesn't have to have mud to show his best effort.

He had no trouble whatever getting home ahead of the stoutly backed Kates Kitten and the long shot Busy Man from the Longridge stable.

The slump the Milky Way farm stable encountered in midwinter and which continued until a few days ago might have discouraged most any other boy but Robertson, the contract rider.

He's Tops Now.

He kept steadily at his job, showed his skill day after day and finally found the Milky Way horses beginning to win again about a week ago.

Robertson rode one winner on opening day at Lincoln Fields, scored with another on the second day of the meeting, then for four afternoons in a row turned in two winning rides.

There isn't another boy in the country riding in more brilliant form right now. He's even been showing more results than Eddie Arcaro for the last two weeks.

Robertson is a native of Canada, was developed by his father, rode a number of years in the Whitney silks sharing honors with Sonny Workman, then was signed at a high annual salary by Mrs. Ethel V. Mars, the boss of the Milky Way farm stable. He has been with this big Chicago establishment for the last three seasons.

The Daily Double.

Robertson didn't stop with one winner yesterday. In the fifth race he was on the long shot Opera Star, owned by Morris Vehon of Chicago.

This one was another gallop for him. He won by six lengths. Opera Star is a royally bred daughter of Victorian-Song Bird. She wasn't raced much as a 2 year old last season, but scored one victory in two starts. This was her first trip out this year. She ran the six furlongs in 1:13 and paid $25.40. The heavily backed favorite in the race was Bustle. He finished second. Genesee was third.

Bird, Karlson Win C. D. G. A. Pro-Amateur

Johnny Bird of South Shore and his amateur partner, Buck Karlson of Calumet won the Chicago District Golf association's second annual pro-amateur event at Calumet yesterday. Their best ball score was 34—33—67. Jim Wilson, Park Ridge, and Gill Roll were second with 34—34—68. Three teams were tied for third. They were Jock Hutchison Sr. of Glen View and James Jenson; Chuck Tanis, Olympia Fields and George Knox Jr., and Harry Adams, Medinah and Art Schroeder. All had 69.

In the sweepstakes for the professionals, Harry Adams with 37—35—72 won. Bird was second with 38—36—74 and Jim Noonan, Burnham Woods; Walter Carberry, St. Charles and Jim Wilson, Park Ridge tied for third.

The best scores:

John Bird, South Shore, and Buck Karlson	34	33	67
James Wilson, Park Ridge, and Gill Roll	34	34	68
Jock Hutchison Sr., Glen View, and James Jenson	35	34	69
Chuck Tanis, Olympia Fields, and George Knox Jr.	35	34	69
Harry Adams, Medinah and Art Schroeder	36	33	69
Charles Penna, Medinah, and Bob Music	34	36	70
Ned Jamieson, Beverly, and Don Hamilton	36	35	71
Harry Hampton, Bon Air, and Elmer Eulass	37	34	71
Jock Hutchison Jr., North Shore, and R. W. Darnell	35	37	72
George Knox Sr., Calumet, and Gil Morgan	39	34	73

BETTY JAMESON'S 78 WINS MEDAL IN TRANS-MISSISSIPPI

Tulsa, Okla., June 6.—(AP)—Betty Jameson of San Antonio today shot 78, one under women's par, to win medal honors in the women's trans-Mississippi golf tournament. She is defending champion.

Time, :23 2-5, :47, 1:12 2-5, 1:25 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Silver Palm, $10.00 straight, $3.80 place, $3.00 show; Monk's Time, $3.00 place, $2.60 show; Arianna, $6.40 show. Winner trained by owner. Went to post at 2:16. At post 3 minutes. Start good from gate. Won driving; place same.

SILVER PALM, a strong factor from the start and always on the outside, placed GREY SQUAW and MONK'S TIME in close quarters before taking command entering the stretch, failed to hold MONK'S TIME approaching the final eighth but held on well and got up when the latter weakened. MONK'S TIME, on the inside throughout and forced to take up when impeded on the turn, recovered quickly but weakened after working his way to the front. ARIANNA, prominent from the start, weakened after five-eighths, but held the others safe.

Time, :23 1-5, :47 3-5, 1:13 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Tom's Lady, $16.80 straight, $9.40 place, $5.00 show; Jubilesta, $8.00 place, $4.60 show; Woodsia, $3.40 show. Winner trained by L. Copenhaver. Went to post at 2:49. At post 6½ minutes.

TOM'S LADY, fractious at the post but away well, was eased a trifle as WOODSIA crossed to the inside approaching the turn; swerved out slightly on the stretch turn, closed resolutely when straight and stalled off JUBILESTA. Latter moved up rapidly on the turn, came to the outside in the stretch and, standing a drive gamely, was strongest of the leaders at the end. WOODSIA, rushed into command, saved ground after the first quarter, but weakened after five-eighths.

THIRD RACE—Seven furlongs out of chute. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $75; fourth, $25. Daily double, 2d and 3d races, paid $477.20.

Time, :23 4-5, :47 3-5, 1:13 3-5, 1:27. Two dollar mutuels paid: Chalk Eye, $48.40 straight, $20.40 place, $7.60 show; Robert S, $3.20 place, $2.40 show; Foolem, $4.40 show. Winner trained by M. Rieser. Went to post at 3:23. At post 1¼ minutes. Start good for all but Foolem from gate. Won easily; place driving.

CHALK EYE, under a snug hold for almost five-eighths, raced into command gradually and without need of strong urging was going strongly in the final stages. ROBERT S, a factor from the start and restrained for half a mile, held on with determination under pressure. FOOLEM, probably best, went into the air at the start and was blocked on the stretch turn and closed fast while getting through on the inside in the final three-sixteenths.

Time, :23 3-5, :47 4-5, 1:01. Two dollar mutuels paid: Steady Don, $3.80 straight, $2.60 place, $2.40 show; Kate's Kitten, $5.60 place, $4.40 show; Busy Man, $4.60 show. Winner trained by C. H. Ferguson. Went to post at 3:51½. At post 2¼ minutes. Start good from gate. Won easily; place driving.

STEADY DON, fractious at the post, began well, sprinted into command before reaching the turn, rallied when roused after entering the stretch and won with speed in reserve. KATE'S KITTEN was under energetic riding from the start and weakened in the late stages but outstayed BUSY MAN. Latter, forced to race wide throughout, also received a hustling ride and, holding on with determination, might have been second in another stride.

FIFTH RACE—Seven furlongs out of chute. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $75; fourth, $25.

Time, :23 4-5, :48, 1:13 3-5, 1:27 1-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Good Soldier, $4.20 straight, $3.40 place, $2.60 show; Bar Play, $13.40 place, $9.20 show; Oriental Miss, $12.00 show. Winner trained by E. Haughton. Went to post at 4:18½. At post 2½ minutes. Start good from gate. Won driving; place same.

GOOD SOLDIER, saving much ground and rated under a light hold for five-eighths, drew clear with good response to only mild urging and held BAR PLAY safe, but had little left. Latter had speed from the start but gave way slightly when placed to pressure and, coming again after coming out in the last eighth, outstayed ORIENTAL MISS. Latter worked her way up steadily, came to the outside in the stretch and weakened in the final eighth. SUN ERIN hung after moving up boldly in the stretch.

SIXTH RACE—Six furlongs. Three year olds. Claiming. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $75; fourth, $25.

Time, :23 1-5, :47, 1:13. Track fast. Two dollar mutuels paid: Opera Star, $25.40 straight, $8.60 place, $5.60 show; Bustle, $3.20 place, $2.80 show; Genesee, $6.20 show. Winner trained by J. Lowenstein. Went to post at 4:48. At post 4½ minutes. Start good. Won easily; place driving.

OPERA STAR, away fast and having the most speed, made the early pace under a steady hold, began to draw out approaching the final eighth and won with something left. BUSTLE, fractious at the post but away fast, was unable to hold the advantage, raced wide throughout and, closing strongly, overtook GENESEE in the final stride. The latter, rushed to contention, bore over sharply soon after reaching the turn, saved ground thereafter and weakened in the last eighth.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Claiming. Four year olds and up. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $75; fourth, $25.

Time, :24 2-5, :48, 1:13 1-5, 1:40 1-5, 1:47. Two dollar mutuels paid: Wise Will, $41.20 straight, $19.40 place, $6.80 show; Bomber, $9.40 place, $4.00 show; Ruffy, $2.80 show. Winner trained by C. E. Dale. Went to post at 5:19. At post ½ minute.

WISE WILL did not respond to urging when rounding the second turn, swung to the outside in the stretch and, rallying boldly, came with a rush in the last three-sixteenths, getting up within a few strides of the finish. BOMBER, nicely rated and saving ground throughout, weakened suddenly in the final sixteenth but outstayed RUFFY. Latter, on the inside for almost five-eighths and kept under light restraint until the final quarter, closed resolutely under strong handling.

EIGHTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Claiming. Four year olds and up. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $75; fourth, $25.

BLAZING SUN [S.Roberts]	110	4	6	5^{3}	4^{4}	6^{1}	7	MattLair	26.70-1

Time, :24 3-5, :48 1-5, 1:14 1-5, 1:42 3-5, 1:49 3-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Tristrap, $9.00 straight, $3.40 place, $2.60 show; Live One, $2.60 place, $2.20 show; Tyr, $6.40 show. Winner trained by L. Copenhaver. Went to post at 5:47½. At post 1½ minutes. Start good. Won driving; place same.

TRISTRAP, allowed to drop far out of it, did not respond until the final quarter, swerved under pressure soon after reaching the final three-sixteenths, but straightened out quickly and won drawing out. LIVE ONE, away fast and steadied when unable to outrun the early leaders, rallied when called upon and, wearing down TYR, held on well but was not good enough. The latter had good speed from the start but weakened in the drive.

ROUND TRIP 75c

Juvenile Stars Nominated for Arlington Race

Two of the most expensive horses of the 1937 yearling sales, the $26,000 colt purchased by Warren Wright and the $25,000 youngster bought by John Hertz, head the list of nominations for the $20,000 added Arlington futurity, which will be run at Arlington on the final day of the thirty day meeting July 30.

Recording an increase of two over 1937, a total of 104 has been named for the six furlong juvenile special which is expected to gross $50,000. The Futurity will be a companion feature with the new $25,000 added Arlington Cup, a weight for age race at a mile and a quarter.

Pays $26,000 for Colt.

Last fall at the Saratoga sales Warren Wright, vice president of the Arlington Park Jocky club, soared his bidding to $26,000 to obtain a grand looking bay son of Sir Gallahad III. and Marching Along from R. A. Fairbairn, thus topping the 1936 high price for yearlings by $8,000. He named the colt Temulac, which is the reverse spelling of Calumet, name of the breeding farm maintained by Wright in Kentucky. Wright also has nominated Calumet Red, Esay Men, After Me, and Vain Bo.

After striking success with Reigh Count in the stud Mrs. John Hertz, wife of the Arlington Park leader, is seeking new blood lines for her breeding establishment. Chiefly for that reason she paid $25,000 for a bay son of Sir Gallahad III.-One Hour at Saratoga last August. She named the colt Gala Hour and nominated him for the Arlington Futurity with Count Anklet, a son of Reigh Count, and Book Plate, a son of Cohert.

Seabread Is Nominated.

Interesting to racegoers is the nomination of Charles S. Howard's Seabread, a chestnut son of Hard Tack and Frith. Howard, who owns the mighty Seabiscuit, also by Hard Tack, purchased Seabread from Charlton Clay at Saratoga for $4,700 and believes the youngster has championship quality.

When Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' Tiger and Valdina Farm's Teddy's Comet raced to a dead heat in 1937 they furnished the most exciting running of the Arlington Futurity. Mrs. Mars, most liberal buyer of American yearlings for the last three years, had won the 1936 running of the big midwest special with Case Ace and this year is the leading nominator with eight costly juveniles named. They are On Location, Up the Creek, No Competition, Magic Key, Time Please, Sports Writer, Favorite Son, and Giles County.

Valdina farms has named five youngsters including Viragin, Wafer, Vividity, Range Dust, and Viscounty to follow the successes of Teddy's Comet.

Others Are Nominated.

Next to Mrs. Mars in liberality of nominations are John Hay Whitney, the eastern sportsman who led the nominators in the 1938 Arlington Lassie stakes, Colonel E. R. Bradley, famous Kentucky breeder, and Hal Price Headley, another horseman from the Blue Grass country. Each has named five. Headley has uncovered a promising prospect in the speedy Hants, a frequent winner during the early campaign in New York.

SOME ADVICE TO FISHERMEN GOING INTO MINNESOTA

License Costs $4; Limit Laws Generous.

BY BOB BECKER.

Blue Island, Ill.

I hear you have in your possession information for fishermen. This year we are planning on a trip to northern Minnesota. I would like some information regarding the following: State fishing laws, how to keep and ship fish, and, if possible, the best type of baits used to catch pike, bass, and muskies. Should this be contained in a small booklet I would be glad to get it.

HAROLD S——.

The Minnesota seasons on muskies, wall-eyes and northern pike opened some weeks ago. In the northern part of the state the bass season will be open on June 21. A non-resident license costs $4.00. You may take eight wall-eyes a day and have sixteen in possession; ten pickerel a day and have twenty in your possession, and catch six bass a day with two day possession limit. Minnesota is generous about the muskie bag, too. The daily limit is two.

Some Shipping Hints.

If ice is available, as is the case at all fishing camps, the best way to keep your fish is to put them in the icehouse until you are ready to ship. You may ship to yourself [according to Minnesota law] one box of fish not to exceed twenty-four pounds in weight or one fish of any size. For example, you might ship one large muskie weighing thirty pounds or more on your permit.

When shipping it is advisable to ice the fish, although they may be wiped dry with a cloth, wrapped in newspapers, boxed in moss or other insulating material, and shipped home with a good chance of their not spoiling if the distance is not too great. But most of us use the safer method of shipping fish with ice.

"Which Lures and Where."

As for lures, we believe you will find the new TRIBUNE fishing book "Which Lures and Where" of great help to you in making a selection of semi-surface plugs for bass, spoons, muskie lures, bass lures, and others. It also has a chapter on bass and trout flies. This illustrated handbook [84 pages] pictures and describes scores of different kinds of fish-getting lures and tells how and where to use them.

The book is sold by the public service of the Tribune, 1 S. Dearborn street, Chicago. It costs just 30 cents by mail or 25 cents when bought over the counter.

Murphy's 95-23-72 Wins Net Prize in Printers' Golf

H. F. Murphy, with 95—23—72, won low net and Frank Hinman, 84, low gross yesterday at the Hickory Hills Golf club in the Chicago Union Printers and Allied Trades' first tournament of the season. C. Baker, H. R. Jones, and M. Anderson tied for the bogey prize. Forty-two players competed.

FENSKE, MEHL READY TO BREAK LASH'S RECORDS

Run at Milwaukee This Week-End.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Indiana university's Don Lash, probably the greatest middle distance runner the Hoosiers ever have had, set records in the mile and two mile races last year in the Central Collegiate track and field meet. Friday night in Marquette university stadium, Chuck Fenske and Walter Mehl of Wisconsin hope to wipe out these marks. On the basis of the performances of these Badger stars in the Western conference meet last month at Ohio State it can be done.

It remains to be seen, of course, whether Fenske and Mehl are in top form. They must be to better Lash's records. And it also is true that the Wisconsin runners are thinking of the National Collegiate meet the following week at Minneapolis and the Big Ten-Pacific coast conference dual meet at Dyche stadium on June 25. Neither will have to run as fast as Lash did last year to win the Central titles, but at least Fenske, a senior, would like to leave his name on the permanent record sheet. Mehl will have one more year of collegiate competition.

Fifteen in Mile.

Fenske finished second in last year's mile run. Since then he has turned in a 4:08.9 mile indoors and at Ohio State he came within one-tenth of a second of tying Lash's conference record of 4:10.8. No miler has done as well this year.

Lash's Central Collegiate record is 4:13.4, which is easily within Fenske's ability to upset provided he has fair weather and an excellent track Friday night.

Fenske will receive competition from a field of fifteen or more runners. Twenty now have filed entry blanks. As usual, however, several may be scratched. William Southworth of Butler university, who had a time of 4:18.2 this year and who is the Indiana collegiate champion; Harrison Kohl of Drake university, Missouri Valley champion; Tom Jones of Earlham, and John Francis of Notre Dame are among Fenske's principle rivals. Ralph Halla of Yankton college is another who can be expected to push Fenske to his best efforts.

Mehl's Job Difficult.

Although Mehl was successful in breaking Lash's two mile record in the Big Ten meet, he has a more difficult task this week. At Columbus Mehl set a record of 9:10.4 which would easily break Lash's Central Collegiate mark of 9:13.3, but like Fenske, Mehl will need help from the weather man. At Columbus Mehl was shooting at Lash's record of 9:19.8, a far more vulnerable target than the Indiana star's Marquette record.

Greg Rice, who will defend his National Collegiate record at Minneapolis next week, is Mehl's most formidable opponent. Rice ran two miles in the 1937 National Collegiates in 9:14.2 and the Notre Dame athlete may be the winner Friday night. Kenneth Waite of Michigan State, who has run two miles in 9:21 this year and who finished second in the I. C. 4-A meet last week, may surprise both Mehl and Rice.

Big Ten Has Edge.

In the dual meet at Dyche stadium June 25, Fenske and Mehl are expected to lead the conference assault against the Pacific coast athletes. There is no Pacific coast conference star who can come close to beating either. In fact, the Big Ten should sweep all three places in both races. Ralph Schwarzkopf of Michigan, who forced Mehl to his record breaking effort, was timed in 9:11 in the same race. Tommy Deckard, in third place in that race, can run the distance in 9:15.1.

Trials in the Central Collegiate meet will start at 2:30, central standard time, Friday afternoon. The championships will begin at 8 o'clock that night.

COL. BRADLEY MAKING RALLY AFTER STROKE

New York, June 6.—(AP)—Col. Edward R. Bradley, 78 year old Kentucky sportsman, is slowly recovering from a blood clot on the brain, doctors said tonight. He was stricken three weeks ago with a partial paralysis of his arms and legs and has been confined to his suite in the Garden City hotel. Doctors said he is now able to sit up for an hour at each meal.

Giants Break Losing Streak; Beat Reds, 11-2

Cincinnati, O., June 6.—(AP)—The New York Giants wound up their series with the Reds today in commendable fashion, letting loose a fifteen hit attack that swamped the Reds, 11 to 2. The victory ended a six game losing streak for the New Yorkers.

The Giants started hitting early, for they drove Southpaw Al Hollingsworth to the showers with five runs in the first, picked up another off Ray Davis in the second, and one more in the seventh, then finished off with a four run barrage against Lefty Lee Grissom in the eighth. Mel Ott led that attack with his tenth home run of the year, scoring two mates ahead of him. Score:

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 6.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers did all their scoring in the first two innings today to turn back the Pirates, 9 to 4, as Max Butcher won his fourth victory of the year by keeping the Pirates' ten hits well scattered.

Eleven men went to bat, seven of them hit safely, and seven of them scored in Brooklyn's big first inning, which saw Veteran Red Lucas hammered from the mound.

CARDINALS, 11; BEES, 2.

St. Louis, Mo., June 6.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals battered the Boston Bees into submission today, 11 to 2. Roy Henshaw, the little southpaw Commissioner K. M. Landis insisted the Cardinals keep, pitched six-hit ball as his mates pounded three Boston hurlers for 14 hits, three of them homers.

Don Padgett started the scoring in the second with his fourth home run of the season. In the fifth, Don Gutteridge slapped his seventh homer with two mates on bases. Joe Medwick also got his seventh homer—one of his four hits—in the sixth. Score:

National A. A. U. to Send Squad of Forty Abroad

New York, June 6.—(AP)—A forty man team, largest track squad ever to represent the United States on foreign soil except during an Olympic year, will compete in almost two score meets in ten foreign countries this summer. The team will be chosen by the National Amateur Athletic union on the basis of performances at the national championship meet in Buffalo, July 2 and 3. Meets already have been arranged in England, Sweden, Germany, Greece, Italy, Hungary, Finland, Norway, Denmark, and Switzerland.

Cubs Defeat Phillies, 10-8; Cling to Lead

moved in favor of Root and the old boy induced Mueller to pop to Hack.

The first four Cubs to bat in the second inning also reached base, two of them scoring eventually. Collins opened with a double to left and went to third on Jurges' single to right. While Root was at bat, Walters made a wild pitch, Collins scoring. After walking Root, Walters was taken out and his successor, Sivess, walked Hack, filling the bases. Jurges scampered home while Hack and Herman were being mopped up in a double play. Galan then flied to Martin.

With the aid of an error, the Cubs needed only two hits to score their three runs in the third, giving them an 8 to 2 edge. Demaree singled to center and was rushed to third on O'Dea's double to right. After Marty had been dispatched on strikes, Collins was complimented with an intentional pass. Jurges bounced to Stein, who had a swell idea but couldn't make it function. His throw to the plate hit Demaree in the back and before the ball was recovered, O'Dea also scored on the blunder. Collins who went to third on the error, scored on Root's infield out.

Young Sends Home a Run.

Root's difficulties in the fourth, when the Phils scored one run, were a pass to Atwood and singles by Stein and Sivess which filled the bases with one out. Atwood scored the run on Young's fly. The Cubs bounced back with two in their half. Hack singled, went to second on Herman's out and scored on a single by Galan. Galan went to third on Demaree's third hit—a single to right—and registered while Demaree was being forced by O'Dea.

In the fifth Whitney bit a chunk from Root's 10 to 3 lead by clouting his homer into the left field seats with a mate on base as the result of a pass. Two more runs vanished from the Cubs' advantage in the sixth. After two were gone, Young beat out a hit to Hack. Root's first pitch to Mueller sailed into the right field bleacher, leaving the Cubs in front, 10 to 7.

Phils Pass Up Chances.

The Phils got to Russell for three hits and a pass and had the added benefit of an error in the eighth but could score only one man. Clark scratched a single to short and continued to second on Jurges' wild throw. He went to third on Stein's single and counted on a fly by Arnovich, who batted for Sivess.

The little eighth inning disturbance which brought the ouster for Grimm and Galan came up with one out and Hack on second as the result of a pass off Johnson. Mueller made a great stop of Galan's grounder back of second and Galan apparently beat the throw to first, tripping over Whitney's foot as he reached the bag. Umpire Tiny Parker ruled the runner safe because Whitney wasn't on the base. He was straddling the foul line.

Parker suddenly reversed his verdict, seemingly on a signal from Umpire George Magerkurth, who was 90 feet away from the play and probably thinking at the moment of pig's-knuckles, his favorite dish. Galan hobbled up to the plate and delivered a lot of words, so many of them, in fact, that the outraged umpire gave him a healthy shove. By this time Grimm was in a big argument with Parker. The manager used harsh words and was chased. He then went to Galan's assistance and the two of them soon had Magerkurth in a rage. He ended the scrap by telling Galan to follow Grimm to the clubhouse.

The Umpire Tells All.

The umpires' explanation for the decision was that Galan had interfered with the fielder. As a matter of fact, Galan was running in foul territory, trying to avoid interference, when he tripped over Whitney.

The struggle wasn't finished without another fuss, but this time the Phils were the cause. To start the ninth inning Jurges was given an error for not throwing Stoviak's grounder. The effect of the error was erased when Hack started a double play on Stainback's tap. Trouble flared up again when Whitney doubled and stopped at third on Clark's single. Corbett stepped up to bat for Stein and Lefty Logan replaced Russell. Manager Wilson then decided to bat for Corbett and fanned.

Senators Beat Indians, 5 to 4, in 11th Inning

Washington, D. C., June 6.—(AP)—Zeke Bonura drove a long double against the right field wall in the eleventh inning today to break up the second successive extra inning ball game between Washington and Cleveland. The score was Washington, 5; Cleveland, 4.

With one out and Al Simmons on second, Cleveland elected to walk Stone and pitch to Bonura. Bonura swung at the first pitch and the game was over.

Sharing honors in victory were the Senators' two rookie left handers, Ken Chase and Joe Krakauskas. Chase hurled the first ten innings, yielding seven hits. He retired 14 batters in a row from the fourth to the ninth, when Cleveland collected three hits and three runs to tie the score. Chase retired for a pinch hitter in the tenth. Krakauskas replaced him and got credit for winning. Score:

Fifteen Softball Teams Unbeaten in Park League

Fifteen teams remain unbeaten in the seven leagues of the Grant Park Softball association, which is sponsored by the Chicago parks district. Sixty-four teams make up the seven circuits.

In the Northern Trust Company league the Beefers and Terriers are tied for the lead with three victories apiece. Four teams, the Fumblers, Spiders, Forgotten Men, and Hornets, are tied for third, with two victories in three starts.

The Auto Row league is led by the Bosler Supply company and the Cadillac Motor Car company, each of which has won three games. Three teams are tied for third in this ten club league with two victories in three starts. They are Bendix Motor corporation, Nash Sales, and Studebaker Sales company.

Three victories in as many starts also enable the Continental Casualty company and the Inland Steel company to share first place in the ten club South Loop Commercial league, in which four teams are tied for third with averages of .500 in four starts.

The Merchandise National bank is first in the Outlying Banks league with two victories and no defeats, closely followed by the Lake View Trust and Savings bank, which has been victorious in its only start.

Goldblatt Brothers' team has a comfortable lead in the Central Loop league on the basis of games won, being undefeated in three starts, but is tied on percentage with the Richter Friedlander company squad, which has one victory against no defeats.

The other undefeated teams are the Merchandise Mart building and 208 South La Salle building squads, who are tied for the lead in the Elevator Operators' league with two victories apiece, and the Treasury No. 1 and Engineering entries in the Edison Company league. The Treasury club has won two games and the Engineers one.

The Insurance Company of North America defeated the Insurance Exchange Corporation, 12 to 2, last night at Grant park in an Insurance league game. Jim Dewey led North America with three hits. Other scores:

Great American, 21; Western Adjustment, 8.
Providence-Washington, 17; Pearl, 13.
London & Lancashire, 17; Hartford, 3.
Moore, Case, Lyman and Hubbard, 12; Employers Group, 8.

TUNNEY TO GIVE SCHMELING SOME POINTERS TODAY

New York, June 6.—[Special.]—Gene Tunney, who devoted an afternoon three weeks ago to coaching Joe Louis on how to beat Max Schmeling, will go to the German's camp at Speculator tomorrow to give the challenger a few pointers on how to lift the heavyweight championship of the world from the Brown Bomber on June 22.

James J. Braddock, who dropped Louis with a right uppercut to the chin before losing his title to him last June, will motor to Pompton Lakes tomorrow to advise Louis.

Favorites Win in City Tennis; Rain Halts Play

Rain halted the city tennis championship tournament on the Beverly Hills Tennis club courts yesterday after three men's singles and five junior singles matches had been played.

In the men's division, three of the seeded entries—Chet Murphy, No. 3; Seymour Greenberg, No. 10, and Marvin Wachman, No. 9—advanced. Murphy and Greenberg gained the quarter-finals, the former with a 6-0, 6-3, triumph over H. Higgenbotham, and Greenberg by defeating Herbert Mertz, 6-2, 6-1. Wachman beat Ken Kickman, 6-1, 6-3, in a second round match.

Three seeded players in the junior competition scored victories. Johnny Ferguson, No. 1, beat Louis Phillips, 6-0, 6-1; Jimmy Evert eliminated Ray Laschober, 6-0, 6-1, and Gardner Lardner won over Morton Stern, 6-0, 6-1. Summaries:

CELEBRON WHIPS PETE PETROSKEY; PATTERSON WINS

Billy Celebron, 1933 International Golden Gloves welterweight champion, won an eight round decision over Pete Petroskey of Muskegon, Mich., in Marigold Gardens last night.

A series of rights to the jaw almost floored Celebron in the first round, but Billy evened the score in the second and then gradually moved to the front. Celebron weighed 155½ pounds, Petroskey 152.

Verne Patterson, also a Golden Glove graduate, knocked out Tony Petroskey, welterweight brother of Pete, in the third round of a scheduled eight round battle. Johnny Helstrom, Rogers Park lightweight, held Harvey Woods of St. Paul to an eight round draw and Tommy Howell, Danville, Ill., junior welterweight, was credited with a knockout when Everett Simington quit in the fourth round.

B'nai B'rith Softball Pairings to Be Made Tonight

Pairings for the third annual B'nai B'rith Youth Organization softball tournament will be made tonight in the B. B. Y. O. headquarters, 130 North Wells street, under the supervision of Director Sam Lifschultz. Twenty-one softball diamonds located in all sections of the city will be used for preliminary round contests.

Fair Grounds Drivers Prove Racing Ability

As an indication of the class of racing Carl Stockholm will present Chicago racing fans on the Fair Grounds Speedway next Sunday, the promoter yesterday pointed to the performances a number of drivers signed by him turned in Sunday afternoon in Milwaukee.

Ted Horn, Pacific coast star, created a new world record for the dirt oval in a qualifying heat, while Chet Gardner, a fraction of a second slower than Horn in qualifying, captured four races on the six race program, including the 25 lap feature event. The class of the field also was indicated when more than 16,000 Milwaukee race fans turned out to see the A.A.A. drivers open the central states' season.

These pilots, along with Jimmy Snyder, Frank Brisko, Chet Miller, Frank Beeder, Frank Wearne, and Maurie Rose, will race at the Fair Grounds.

Practice will be permitted on the track on Thursday and it is expected several of the pilots will tune up their cars Thursday and Friday.

JACK TRAMMELL STOPS SPARMATE IN CLOSING DRILL

Adamick Goes 2 Rounds; Meet Tomorrow.

Jack Trammell, heavyweight from Youngstown, O., who is 25 years old and married, stopped Sparmate Ralph [Moose] Davis in one round and handed Paul Williams a beating in three rounds yesterday in Trafton's gymnasium to end training for his ten round bout with Jimmy Adamick in Mills stadium tomorrow.

Adamick, apple-cheeked slugger from Midland, Mich., however, expects to score his forty-fourth knockout in fifty-four starts.

Bud Dwyer vs. Mike Sinko [4], heavyweights.
Georgie White vs. Joe Conrad [4], welterweights.
Hank Bath vs. Tom Kenneally [6], heavyweights.
Johnny Barbara vs. Chester Rudy [6], welterweights.
Len Franklin vs. Sandy McDonald [6], heavyweights

Adamick, who has engaged in twenty-six contests since January of last year, winning all except one, twenty-two by knockouts, appeared in good form against Jones.

"He puncha like a mule," Julius Gonzales, Spanish trainer of the 24 year old Midland contender, said to a reporter in explanation for his protégé's lack of boxing finesse.

"Jim's not a fancy Dan," Tommy Walsh, his representative, said. "He's a better competitive fighter."

Adamick, who has been boxing professionally since 1935, weighs 191 pounds and is 6 feet tall, Trammell, who is 4 inches taller than his rival, says he'll carry 190 pounds tomorrow.

Trammell has not boxed in Illinois in three years. He knocked out Babe Davis of St. Louis in Quincy on that occasion.

CHICAGO

Today everything is rush and hurry . . . speed and more speed. Well, that may be all right for some things. But I don't think hurry has any place in the making of good beer.

We have made for 47 years a beer called Meister Bräu. We make it now the same as we made it then.

We could use machine-age methods—short-cuts that save time and work. But these are not old-time ways, to produce an old-time brew.

One of the "new" ways is to use sugars or syrups in the beer. This saves time and work. And makes a beer some people may like. But we prefer the old way. Brewing an all-grain brew.

And we could save money by using a cheaper grade of hops. But I found 25 years ago that makes a raw beer.

Our old methods keep the life in the beer—keep its natural foam and sparkle. Like in draft beer. Hence Meister Bräu has the true draft beer flavor.

I know you'll find a real difference in our beer . . . made the old, slow way. But to be sure of getting beer made this way, ask for Meister Bräu. You'll be thankful for a bottled or canned beer made like draft beer.

BUTTER PRICES BREAK DESPITE FEDERAL BUYING

FSC Purchases Heavy in Chicago and New York.

Butter prices broke ¼ cent to a full cent a pound in the Chicago cash market yesterday and were ¼ cent lower in the futures markets despite heavy buying by the Federal Surplus Commodity corporation. Government purchases aggregated 97,000 pounds in Chicago, including 46,000 pounds of extras [92 score]. About 123,000 pounds of extras were taken in the New York market.

The November contract for storage standards slumped ¼ cent on the Chicago Mercantile exchange to close at 24⅞ cents, the lowest price for the delivery since August, 1935, and fresh standards for current delivery were ¼ cent lower at 23¾ cents.

Cash Butter Also Lower.

The cash price for extras in Chicago sagged to 24½ cents before federal buying steadied the market. Receipts at Chicago totaled 1,531,154 pounds, or 335,000 pounds in excess of arrivals a year ago.

Egg futures showed strength, with the October refrigerators closing ¼ cent higher at 22⅞ cents a dozen. Storage packed firsts for current delivery gained ⅛ cent in the early trading, but reacted to close unchanged at 20⅜ cents.

Futures transactions on the Chicago Mercantile exchange in May involved 34,884,000 dozens of shell eggs, 18,412,000 pounds of butter, and 1,800 one hundred pounds bags of Idaho potatoes.

Transactions Show Increase.

These transactions were about 5 per cent larger than the total business done in May, 1937, Lloyd S. Tenny, business manager, announced. Egg dealings were 12 per cent larger than last year and the heaviest for a comparable period since 1935. Butter trades were also the heaviest for the month since 1935, but potato transactions were sharply below a year ago.

The open interest in egg futures increased 9,060,000 dozens during May to 35,160,000 dozens at the opening of business on June 1.

COTTON

Cotton futures slumped 60 to 90 cents a bale in North American markets yesterday. Moderate selling was caused principally by reports of favorable growing weather in the cotton belt. The decline at the Chicago Board of Trade ranged from 75 to 90 cents a bale.

Cash cotton declined 0.17 cent to 7.89 cents a pound in New York and 0.15 cent to 8.07 cents in New Orleans.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

by HOMER NEISZ

Good Year for Lawns.

June 6, 1938.

THIS has been an excellent year for lawns at the Tribune's Du Page county farm. The relatively long season of cool, wet weather has given the grass a good start. New lawns have become well established and old ones have formed a smooth, thick sod. The gardeners say the lawns never have been in better condition to withstand the summer weather.

While rains during the last three weeks interfered with corn cultivation and other field work, the abundance of moisture brought out such a rank growth of grass that the lawns had to be mowed twice a week.

No Crab Grass.

There has been no crab grass in the lawns this spring; cool weather has been unfavorable to its growth. The lawn grasses now are so well established that crab grass is not expected to give any trouble. Crab grass grows best during hot weather. Unless lawns are well established by July, it is likely to get a hold that will choke out the lawn grasses.

Grass has done especially well this spring under shade trees, where the lawns ordinarily require heavy sprinkling. Special seed mixtures containing a high percentage of rough stalked meadow grass are used for shaded areas. Kentucky bluegrass is used almost exclusively for open lawns.

Early tomato plants in one of the vegetable gardens at the farm now have young tomatoes on them nearly as big as hen eggs. The tomatoes are expected to start ripening in about three weeks. The plants were set early and protected with flower pots on cold nights. They showed no effects of the heavy frosts in May that killed all tender plants in the open.

The gardeners are making final plantings of tender vegetable crops and flowers that were started in the greenhouse and then transferred to cold frames. The practice is to set the main crop of these plants in the open as soon after June 1 as possible. Tomatoes, peppers, and eggplants were among those set in the vegetable garden. The flowers included tuberous rooted English begonias, zinnias, heliotropes, marigolds, sweet alyssum, lobelias, and dahlias grown from cuttings.

A Rhododendron Blooms.

A rhododendron set three weeks ago at the farm is in full bloom. This evergreen shrub is not common here and gardeners say it will grow in this region only when given special soil treatment and protection from northwest winds in winter. It requires a porous, acid soil that is rich in humus.

An attempt was made to provide the necessary soil conditions for the rhododendron by digging a hole four feet across and thirty inches deep and filling it in with a mixture of German peat moss, oak leaf mold, and porous, sandy soil. Acid producing sulphate fertilizers may be added later. The plant is sheltered by evergreens on the north and northwest sides. Only one of the plants is being tried. If it lives over winter, more may be planted next year. The plant it a hybrid variety known as Mrs. C. S. Sargent.

Pennsylvania.

Investors' Guide: I have been interested in Pennsylvania railroad stock for a long time and am considering buying some at the present price. Can you tell me how low and how high this stock has been in the last twenty years? Please tell me also the most and the least the road has earned in any year since 1928.—Miss J. T. G.

Answer: The highest price Pennsylvania railroad stock has reached in the last twenty years is $110 a share in 1929 and the lowest $6.50 a share in 1932. The low reached in the 1921 business slump was $32.25 a share.

Net income of the road in 1929 was $101,378,518, or $8.82 a capital share. The least earned in any full year following was $13,573,536, or $1.03 a share, in 1932.

This year has not started out in a very promising manner. Loss in the first quarter was $4,250,042, compared with net income of $6,442,639 in the corresponding period last year.

Cities Service.

Investors' Guide: Where should I send my old stock certificates for Cities Service common stock to exchange for the new $10 par shares?—W. W.

Answer: The Guaranty Trust company of New York City has been appointed agent to accept the Cities Service company's old common shares and to issue new certificates for one share of $10 par common stock in exchange for each ten shares of old no par stock in accordance with the recapitalization plan recently approved by stockholders.

Unlisted Quotes.

Investors' Guide: Do you supply quotations on unlisted securities? If so, please give me a quotation on the income bonds of the Montrose hotel in Kansas City.—P. K. C.

Answer: The Montrose hotel income 5s were recently quoted at 39 cents on the dollar bid.

Abyssinian Debt.

Investors' Guide: Did the Ethiopian government have bonds outstanding at the time of the Italian conquest? If so, what happened to the investors?—K. V. G.

Answer: According to leading sources of investment information, there is no official record of Abyssinian funded debt of any kind being outstanding at the time of the Italian conquest.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

The market for hogs rallied yesterday on light receipts despite a setback of 50 cents in wholesale prices of fresh pork. Offerings were below expectations, and with most local interests carrying fair sized buying orders live costs were increased mostly 10 cents.

A slight rise in wholesale prices of some cuts of beef yesterday was the result of the recent advances in cattle prices. Some cuts of beef were marked up as much as 50 cents per hundred pounds. Most cattle sold at steady rates. The upturn in live costs was halted, with grassy stock slipping a little.

THREE CONCERNS OMIT DIVIDENDS; TWO CUT RATES

United Corporation Defers Preferred Payment.

Three dividend omissions and two reductions were announced yesterday. Directors of United corporation, investing company, decided it was advisable to defer declaration of the 75 cents quarterly dividend due July 1 on the company's $3 preferred stock because of the decline and fluctuations in indicated market value of securities held in the portfolio.

Celanese Corporation of America directors took no action on the $3.50 semi-annual dividend due on the 7 per cent first participating preferred stock. The regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 for July 1 was declared on the 7 per cent prior preferred stock.

Another Dividend Omitted.

Canadian Celanese, Ltd., took no action on a common stock dividend although the usual $1.75 quarterly payment on the participating preferred was ordered paid June 30.

The Cannon Mills company reduced its July 1 dividend to 25 cents. Harvey Hubbell, Inc., will pay 20 cents on June 30, compared with a quarterly dividend of 30 cents on March 22.

An extra of 75 cents and the regular 25 cent quarterly dividend were ordered paid June 30 on Peter Fox Brewing company common stock.

Bond Stores, Inc., directors transacted only routine business yesterday, not discussing the dividend normally payable June 30.

2 Small Advertisements Sell 3 Blocks of Bonds

AN INVESTMENT FIRM specializing in the sale of state, municipal and land bank bonds published two small advertisements in The Times and reported that as a result it disposed of three blocks of bonds totaling $175,000. "As these advertisements appeared in The Times exclusively, we know quite definitely that the sale resulted from publication in your paper," said a letter from the firm.

When it is a question of what newspaper makes most sales, the answer is almost always The New York Times—a fact proved by more than 30 years of financial advertising leadership in the country's principal market.

WARNS BUSINESS IT MUST FIGHT FEDERAL POLICY

Get Government Out, Emery Urges.

Des Moines, Ia., June 6.—[Special.]—Bankers and business men must take off their coats, roll up their sleeves, and fight now to get the government out of business or they will find there will be no such thing as private business, De Witt M. Emery, president of the National Small Business Men's association, declared before the Iowa Bankers' association annual convention here today.

De Witt M. Emery.

"Government in business is like crab grass in your lawn," said Emery. "If you do not check or kill it, soon you have no lawn. Up until a year or so ago the popular idea was that only big business had worries. The small business man did not believe the little black could of government control would ever grow large enough to darken his whole sky.

Small Business Is Aroused.

"He has learned differently, and now, unless I am badly mistaken, he is aroused and determined to stem the trend toward centralized control.

"Day after day we see the administration invading the field of private business. It started quite modestly and innocently and grew faster than the famous bean stalk we've all read about. We are all confronted with a very serious situation. What are we going to do about it? That remains to be seen.

"I believe it's high time that all business men took off their gloves and fought back. We've already been asleep at the switch far too long. Too many of us have been afraid of our own shadows. We've been afraid of the probable consequences if we spoke out in meeting.

Charges Federal Intimidation.

"Thousands upon thousands of business men are still afraid to tell the simple truth about their dealings with the administration, and what the crazy New Deal laws and regulations have done to them and to their businesses. They are afraid to stand up and fight for what they know to be right, as they have seen how others who did fight have been persecuted.

"Yet we live in a democracy, the very foundation of which is the right of free assembly and freedom of speech. The old Tammany idea of buy 'em or scare 'em has gone far beyond Tammany—today it reaches from coast to coast.

"I don't know what you fellows are going to do, but for my part I'm going to put up the best fight I've got in me. And mark this, if they get me, if they chop my head off, they'll get you, too, no matter how far down in your collar you try to keep your neck.

Warns Business Must Fight.

"As I see it, business men today haven't any choice. If they continue to sit back and take what's handed to them it won't be long before the American system of private enterprise will pass out of existence. The administration has now injected the government so deeply into business that all the politicians need is one more grab and there won't be any more private business. Do you want that to happen? If not, you'd better take your coats off, roll up your sleeves, and get busy."

Much as officials may deny it, Emery said, politics can't help but be served in the Reconstruction Finance corporation lending program. Politics will seep in, he said, both in determining the personnel of those who pass on the loans and in deciding who qualifies for loans and who does not. Emery also assailed the concentration of power over the various lending agencies in the person of the President.

NORTH. PACIFIC SHOWS MILLION LOSS FOR APRIL

The Northern Pacific railway yesterday reported net loss for April of $1,068,597 compared with net loss of $423,076 in the corresponding month in 1937. Net loss for the first four months of 1938 was $4,792,425 against net loss of $2,283,323 in the first four months of 1937.

April gross revenues of $1,339,498 were reported by the Chicago Great Western railroad, compared with $1,511,083 in 1937. The net operating deficit for the month was $24,206 against net operating income of $31,402 in the same month a year ago.

European Banks, Markets Closed for Whitsuntide

British and European banks and financial markets were closed yesterday in observance of the Whitsuntide holiday which began Friday evening. Montreal markets will be closed Thursday, a legal holiday on the king's birthday.

Industrial Opportunities

Recent permanent changes of an industry in the ideal manufacturer's city of DeKalb, Illinois, 60 miles west of Chicago, make excellent home owning, contented factory workers available at once for new industry seeking location in this industrial center of the middlewest. Chamber of Commerce, De Kalb, Illinois, will furnish information.

Seek to Ease Control Over Grain Buying

The ability of Cargill Grain company to outbid members of the Chicago Board of Trade for grain at country points since expulsion of that firm from membership has stimulated agitation for changes in some of the market's rules governing country transactions, members said yesterday.

Cargill was expelled last March for refusing to sell part of its holdings of September corn last year when a corner in that contract appeared probable. Cargill, not bound by board of trade rules, has been getting large supplies of grain by outbidding members ¼ to ½ cent a bushel.

Suggested changes in present rules include abolition or modification of regulations prohibiting members from bidding against each other for grain at country points except in certain circumstances, members said. Other suggested changes include reduction of present minimum commission on country transactions.

Big Firms Favor Change.

Big elevator companies and others affected by competition from Cargill have been most in favor of changing rules, it was said privately, although officials of such companies declined to be quoted. Opponents to changes include small grain receivers who depend on commission charges and others not able to compete with the big firms if limitations on country bidding were eliminated.

Another of a series of meetings between cash grain and elevator men was held yesterday but no statement was made after the session. Petitions asking changes in the rules have been circulated and may be presented today ,it was said.

Present rules prohibit members during the session from bidding for grain in the country at prices in excess of last posted prices less minimum commission charges of 1½ cents a bushel on wheat, 1 cent a bushel on corn, rye, and soy beans, and ¾ cent a bushel on oats. A member may during the session, however, post a higher price at the exchange.

Certain Exceptions Provided.

After the session, members may not bid for grain in the country at prices in excess of closing prices, with certain exceptions, less the minimum commission charges. The exceptions permit higher country bids if a Chicago customer is willing to pay more than closing board of trade cash grain prices and at least five members have declined to supply grain at the higher price.

These rules, some members asserted, have put them at a disadvantage in competing with Cargill. Cargill can bid any price any time and does not have to charge the fixed commission if shading the commission is an advantage.

Before the present situation developed in connection with Cargill some firms had wanted the rules changed on the ground that restrictions on bidding had tended to build up other markets. These markets, it was said, waited every day until Chicago prices were known and then offered more, thereby diverting grain from Chicago.

The present rules governing country transactions have been in effect about 30 years.

COURT PREVENTS HALT IN PAYING SCHOOL WARANTS

Holders of two blocks of 1929 Chicago board of education tax anticipation warants were restrained by Judge Charles E. Woodward in federal court yesterday from interfering with payments previously approved for the Norfolk and Western railroad and the Union Trust company of Pittsburgh.

When tax collections proved insufficient to retire the warants, the railroad and the trust company won court orders for payment on a pro rata plan, although it had been customary for warants to be retired in numerical order. Charles B. Scovill Jr. and South East National bank, holders of $46,000 worth of the warants, brought suit to consolidate all litigation in the case.

Judge Woodward restrained Scovill and the bank yesterday from delaying the railroad and the trust company in collecting on claims aggregating approximately $1,700,000.

Chicago Stock Mart Urged to Push Changes

Arthur M. Betts, who yesterday was chosen chairman of the Chicago Stock exchange's board of governors on an unopposed slate at the annual election, declared that further revision of exchange trading rules is needed to protect the public, and predicted a "healthy increase" in the Chicago exchange's volume of business.

Arthur M. Betts.

He said the selection of the exchange's first paid president, provided under the new constitution, would be preceded by a thorough, open minded determination of the qualifications requisite for the office.

"The office," he said, "will offer a unique opportunity for public service. In the search for the best available material, the public as well as all members of the exchange will be invited to suggest possible candidates.

Urges Improved Technique.

"In these days of stagnant markets, we should examine critically our existing machinery and make improvements in our technique. The best opportunity for clear thinking and sound planning is afforded during subnormal conditions.

"A difficult practical problem faces both the SEC and the stock exchanges. Further progress in devising fair trading rules is essential. While adequately protecting the public against the operations of the few unscrupulous people, such rules should not be too technical or restrictive because of the danger they might hamper or discourage the normal, legitimate, wholesome functioning of honest and conscientious brokers. With a coöperative approach, I believe much good can be accomplished.

Predicts Growth of Exchange.

"Broad, continuous, wholesomely active security markets are indispensable to prosperity and progress. The industrial importance and wealth of Chicago and the middle west justify the functioning of the Chicago Stock exchange on a much more substantial scale than it has in the past. Therefore, as we perfect and improve its facilities to serve the public, I believe we can look forward confidently to a healthy increase in volume of business transacted on the Chicago Stock exchange."

Members yesterday also elected ten members to the board of twenty-four governors, and five members to serve one year on the nominating committee. Reëlected to the board for three year terms were Laurence H. Armour, William T. Bacon, John J. Bryant Jr., Richard W. Phillips, and Alfred E. Turner. Warren A. Lamson was reëlected to serve one year. Newly elected board members were Thaddeus R. Benson, retiring chairman; Herbert M. Weil and Hugh H. Wilson for three years, and Ralph Chapman for two years.

Those chosen on the nominating committee were Leeds Mitchell, chairman; John R. Burdick Jr., Wentworth P. Mackenzie, Winthrop H. Smith, and John C. Stewart.

DAVIS, CHICAGO, WILL HEAD DIRECTOR GROUP OF N. Y. STOCK MARKET

Paul H. Davis, head of the Chicago brokerage firm bearing his name, has been made chairman of the "out of town group" of directors of the New York Stock exchange, the exchange announced yesterday. It was explained that the out of town group was formed for the purpose of keeping before the exchange matters of special interest to firms belonging to the exchange but having offices outside New York City.

"The committee on public relations has requested the coöperation of the out of town group as a point of contact between the public and the exchange, especially in bringing to bear upon the exchange management the point of view of the country at large," Davis said in a statement issued in New York yesterday.

"The out of town group, to represent out of town firms most effectively, must be well informed and it is requested that firms submit their views, suggestions, comments and criticisms with utmost candor and freedom."

Including Davis there are six members of the out of town group.

Treasury Spending Since July 1 Passes 7 Billions

Washington, D. C., June 6.—(AP)—The treasury said today its spending in the fiscal year which began last July 1 has passed $7,000,000,000. With less than a month of the year remaining, however, expenditures, including debt retirement, were $800,000,000 below the amount budgeted for the complete twelve months. Spending, to date, has exceeded income by $1,498,917,023.

Waterman Co. Votes Office to Disowned Heir

New York, June 6.—[Special.]—Elisha H. Waterman, disowned in 1925 by his father, the late Frank D. Waterman, as heir to the fountain pen millions, today was elected executive vice president and director of L. E. Waterman & Co., which slammed the door on him thirteen years ago.

Elisha H. Waterman.

The man who turned dishwasher, cook, and counter man after being cast out, and later, until last May, wrote fiction in a Greenwich Village flat, returned to the lower Broadway offices of the firm today for the first time.

Wields Voting Power.

There, as a beneficiary of a $5,000,000 trust holding 60 per cent of the stock, he was chosen to fill the vacancy created by the death of his father. His election as vice president and election of his brother, Frank D. Jr., the "good son," as president, were announced at the same time.

When the politically prominent Frank D. Waterman died May 6 he cut Elisha off with $100. However, a legal representative of the Waterman clan announced May 15 that the family would make no effort to prevent Elisha from receiving his part of the trust fund, created by his great-uncle, L. E. Waterman, founder of the fountain pen company. Elisha's father had shared in this trust during his lifetime.

Old Document Aids Him.

The document by which Elisha returned to a place of power in the firm was filed in 1901.

The feud between Elisha and his father began when the elder Waterman was defeated for mayor of New York City by James J. Walker in 1925, and it grew so bitter that Elisha's first wife, the late Evelyn Aubrey Waterman, horsewhipped her father-in-law in the lobby of his office building.

U. S. Grants More Funds for Rural Electrification

Washington, D. C., June 6.—(AP)—The rural electrification administration allowed $1,200,000 today for eight projects involving construction of power lines to serve rural areas.

NEW LAW HIKES SOME LEVIES ON CAPITAL GAINS

Effects of Revenue Changes Analyzed.

The revenue act of 1938, which became a law at midnight May 27 without the President's signature, will bring heavier levies on capital gains in some cases than the levies provided under the predecessor law, according to an analysis made yesterday by tax experts.

The capital gains provision was the center of a controversy between the President ond Senator Pat Harrison [D., Miss.], chairman of the finance committee, who said that Roosevelt was "misinformed" in connection with his illustrations of taxes on profits on securities sales under the new law.

The analysis disclosed that for individuals in the lower income or middle income brackets, the 1938 act will require in some cases heavier tax payments and in other instances smaller payments on capital gains than were formerly required, depending on the length of time that the securities have been held.

Alternative Methods Provided.

For persons whose income is in the higher brackets—for example, $75,000 or more a year—an alternative method of competution reduces the tax on capital gains below what it was under the 1936 act, which the new law displaces.

To illustrate, assume that Mr. X has a net taxable income in 1938 before considering capital gains or losses of $10,000, after making all deductions for dependents, personal exemption, charitable contributions, etc. If he sells in 1938 at a profit of $5,000 securities which he bought in 1931, he will have to pay $60 more total income tax than he would have paid under the 1936 act.

This follows from the fact that the new law provides that 50 per cent of the gain or loss realized on the sale of capital assets held two years or longer must be taken into account in arriving at the final taxable net income figure, whereas the former law provided that only 40 per cent of the gain or loss must be considered on assets held for from five to ten years.

Example of Heavier Levy.

Under the law just passed, Mr. X would have net taxable income of $10,000 plus 50 per cent of $5,000, or a total of $12,500. This would require a normal income tax of $500 and surtax of $480, or a total income tax of $980. If the 1936 act were still in effect, only 40 per cent of the $5,000 capital gain, or $2,000, would be taken into net income, making a total taxable net income of $12,000. On this, the income tax would amount to $920, or $60 less than the new law calls for.

The rates of normal tax and surtax on net income are the same in both laws, so the difference between the tax payable under the two laws in this example results entirely from the changes in capital gains provisions.

Similarly, the new bracketing of the percentages taken into account in relation to the lengths of time the assets have been held means that a man in Mr. X's station would pay a higher tax under the new law on gains on sales of assets held from 12 to 18 months, and on those held for more than 10 years.

Other Effects Cited.

For capital assets held from eighteen months to two years and from two years to five years, Mr. X would pay a lower tax on capital gains under the new law than under the former one.

Two Oil Firms' Business Dips During 1938

Two companies engaged in the production of petroleum products yesterday reported reduced business in the first quarter of this year compared with that of the first quarter of last year. Several other companies engaged in miscellaneous lines also reported less favorable results for various interim periods compared with a year ago.

The Mid-Continent Petroleum corporation reported for the first quarter of this year a consolidated net profit of $468,311, which was equal to 25 cents a share, against $1,233,025, or 66 cents a share, in the like 1937 period.

For the first three months of this year the Eason Oil company had a loss of $46,530 after interest, depreciation, depletion, normal federal income tax, and state taxes, whereas in the corresponding 1937 period it had a net profit of $39,323.

Mine Earns Less.

The Alaska Juneau Gold Mining company estimated that its May profit after operating expenses and development charges but before depreciation, depletion and federal taxes, was $206,300, against $289,800 in May, 1937. For the first five months of this year the profit on the same basis was estimated at $813,200 compared with $1,209,500 for the like period of last year.

A. G. Spalding & Bros. for the quarter ended April 30 had a net loss of $128,648 compared with a net loss of $52,680 a year ago.

The Hummel Ross Fibre corporation in the twelve months ended April 30 had a net profit of $374,765 after interest, depreciation, depletion, normal federal income taxes and surtax on undistributed profits. No comparison with the corresponding period of last year was available.

RECEIVER ASKED FOR ASSOCIATED UNDERWRITERS

Appointment of a receiver for the Associated Underwriters, Inc., 135 South La Salle street, was sought in a suit filed in the Superior court yesterday. The action was filed in behalf of fourteen investors in Chicago Lloyds, now out of business but formerly managed by the Associated Underwriters.

Attorney Raymond Fischer, who drafted the suit, asserted the plaintifs had invested $100,000 in the Lloyds firm by underwriting insurance. They charge in the suit that business irregularities attributed to the Associated Underwriters resulted in losses to them, and that the defendant company failed to comply with terms of powers of attorney granted to it by each plaintif.

Alberta Province Defaults on Maturity of $2,000,000

OTTAWA, Ont., June 6.—[Special.]—Confirmation was obtained today from official sources that the province of Alberta has defaulted a maturity of £411,000 [about $2,055,000] of 4 per cent sterling debentures payable in London and Canada June 1. The understanding here is that as in the case of several previous defaults the province is offering to continue interest payments at about one-half the rate on the face of the debentures.

'SUBTLE' RULE OF IMPLEMENT PRICES CHARGED

Trade Commission's Report Submitted.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 6.—Conditions and practices restrictive of competition in the farm implement industry were reported to congress today by the federal trade commission in the first instalment of findings of an investigation to determine whether there is a farm machinery monopoly.

Reserving conclusions and recommendations to a further instalment, the commission did not disclose the existence of a monopoly, but dwelt upon the concentration of control in a few companies and upon manufacturers' pricing practices which were pronounced a newer and subtler means of controling competition than the old-fashioned combine in restraint of trade.

Concurrently the senate judiciary committee favorably reported the O'Mahoney resolution to create a commission of eleven to investigate monopolies generally, in accord with the President's recommendation.

Next Congress to Get Report.

The commission, which is to report to the next congress, is to be composed of three senators, three representatives, and five administrative department heads. The resolution would provide $100,000 immediately for the expense of the inquiry and $400,000 more to be allocated by the President on recommendation of the commission.

The trade commission reported that "the bulk of production of farm implements and machines has now become concentrated in the hands of a relatively small number of large manufacturers, of which the following eight are the principal "long line" companies: International Harvester company, Chicago; Deere & Co., Moline, Ill.; J. I. Case company, Racine, Wis.; Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company, Milwaukee; Oliver Farm Equipment company, Chicago; Minneapolis-Moline Power Implement company, Minneapolis; the Massey-Harris Co., Inc., Racine, Wis., and B. F. Avery & Sons Co., Louisville, Ky."

Ranks Deere & Co. Second.

"International Harvester company is by far the most important manufacturer of most types of implements and machines," the commission said. "Deere & Co. is second in importance, and no single manufacturer is third in importance for more than a few types.

"Although International Harvester company's production of implements is greater by far than that of any other company, its proportion of the total production of harvesting machines, in which it held a monopoly when it was formed through consolidation of the five largest manufacturers of such machines in 1902, has been decreasing. For example, it produced 56.5 per cent of the country's grain and rice binders in 1936, as compared with 90 per cent in 1902.

"Of mowers, it produced 53 per cent in 1936, as compared with 80 per cent in 1902. For some other implements, however, its proportion has increased in recent years.

Makes More Harrows.

"For instance, it produced 25.9 per cent of the total number of disc harrows in 1909, and 38.7 per cent in 1936. It produced 20.8 per cent of the hay loaders in 1909 and 35.1 per cent in 1936."

"In certain manufacturing companies," the commission reported, "a

Stocks, Bonds

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 6.—Stock market prices improved further today, but advances were small as profit taking and selling, reputedly based on unfavorable developments, wiped out a large part of early gains. In an extension of Saturday's rise forenoon prices ran up fractions to 3 points. At the close the increases rarely exceeded 1 point. Best prices were registered around midday.

Volume ran to 467,330 shares, with most of the activity coming on the rise and slowing perceptibly on the decline. The early buying was occasioned by the continuing favorable implications contained in the administration's spending-lending bill, according to some observers.

Steels, motors, coppers, and high priced specialties were leaders in the upswing and in the recession. United States Steel, up nearly 2 points at one time, closed with a major fractional gain. Bethlehem, Youngstown, and Crucible closed modestly higher, but Republic showed no change.

Small fractional improvements appeared in the leading copper shares, with Anaconda and International Nickel popular trading mediums. In the motors, Chrysler gained almost 1 point after being several points higher, and General Motors moved along fairly evenly to register a smaller gain. Both issues were active.

In the power and light shares, United corporation preferred slumped 4 points on dividend deferment, and the common stock was fractionally lower. This weakness was communicated to the remainder of the section with the result that best prices were not maintained.

Carrier shares backed down in the afternoon after marking up modest improvements earlier. Interest was at a low ebb. Chemicals scored conspicuous advances.

New York Bonds.

New York, June 6.—(AP)—Bonds held up well today because sellers took a relatively small part in the proceedings. The volume was $3,262,275 face value, the smallest since May 6, 1918, and compared with Friday's $4,075,200.

Considering the paucity of buying interest, the list gave a good account of itself with many corporate issues up fractions to a point or more and United States governments obligations ahead 1-32d to 9-32ds.

Traders shopped around for issues which have been mentioned as favorably situated by reason of improved prospects. Some of the western carrier liens were in moderate demand on calculations of increased revenues from the large farm harvests. As a whole, however, the market reflected reluctance of trading forces to wade in deep while the business outlook remains clouded.

The foreign list made a number of sizable advances.

Chicago Stocks.

More advances than declines occurred yesterday on the Chicago Stock exchange. Volume totaled 43,000 shares, of which 33,100 were Commonwealth Edison rights, compared with Friday's turnover of 42,000 shares, including 32,700 Edison rights. Of the 52 issues traded, 23 advanced, 13 were lower, and 16 unchanged.

THE TRIBUNE average of twenty representative stocks closed at 8.13, up 0.16 from Saturday's close, and the highest close since May 25.

Borg-Warner climbed 1½ points on a turnover of 350 shares. The volume leader, Butler Brothers, moved up ⅛ to 6. Commonwealth Edison stock finished at 25⅜, up ⅜, but the rights slipped 1 cent to 26 cents. Middle West at 6 and Chicago corporation at 1⅞ were unchanged.

Bank Stocks.

Chicago bank stocks were firm yesterday. First National advanced $1 a share to $164 bid, $167 asked. Continental Illinois National rose $1.50 a share to $56.50 bid, $57.50 asked. American National gained $3 at $165 bid, $175 asked. City National and Harris Trust and Savings bank were unchanged. Northern Trust declined $5 a share at $490 bid, $505 asked.

Commodities

Commodity futures markets mostly were higher yesterday, except for weakness in hides and cottonseed oil. Crude rubber futures gained 0.26 to 0.29 cent a pound, with the July delivery closing at 11.53 cents. Wool tops were active and 0.8 to 1.2 cents higher at the close, and cocoa futures were unchanged to 0.01 cent higher.

Hides dropped 0.10 to 0.15 cent a pound in the New York futures market. Cottonseed oil was easy in sympathy with lower prices in lard and cotton futures, closing 0.03 to 0.05 cent lower.

Metal markets were strong, except tin futures, which broke 0.20 to 0.30 cent a pound. Copper futures closed 0.08 to 0.13 cent a pound higher; lead futures gained 0.08 to 0.11 cent, and zinc futures were up 0.11 to 0.14 cent a pound.

The export copper price was about steady around 8.66 cents a pound, with trading light. Electrolytic copper was quoted unchanged at 9 cents a pound, valley base delivered.

Raw sugar advanced 0.05 cent in the spot market on a sale of 1,000 bags of Philippines for June-July shipment at 2.75 cents a pound. Futures were listless, however, closing 0.01 cent lower to 0.01 cent higher.

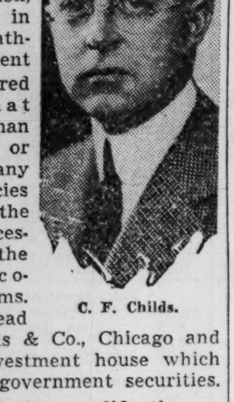
Only Big Debt Is Added, Childs Declares.

Declaring that the Roosevelt administration's program has come back almost to its starting place, which was marked by distress, distrust, and depression, C. F. Childs, in his June monthly investment bulletin, declared yesterday that nothing less than modification or reversal of many of its policies will restore the confidence necessary to solve the nation's economic problems.



C. F. Childs.

Childs is head of C. F. Childs & Co., Chicago and New York investment house which specializes in government securities.

He explained that modification or reversal of many of the administration's policies and substitution of more orthodox principles are necessary for the restoration of confidence to a degree sufficient to obtain genuine coöperation of capital and labor.

Sees Efficiency Sacrificed.

"Agriculture, business, industry, commerce, and finance have sacrificed years of efficiency under resurrected, restrictive political experiments that have proved fallacious during the last several thousand years." Childs continued. "As restrictions create instabilitythey deter capital from investing in new productive enterprise. However, more managed economy and greater regulation is an indicated prospect.

"The administration's program since its beginning, has come back almost to its starting place, which was marked by distress, distrust, and depression. The only difference is that it has piled up a mountain of government debt with which the country was not burdened before."

Assails Monetary Juggling.

Childs declared that economic troubles will not be remedied by monetary tonics to stimulate consumer purchasing power. Action, other than monetary juggling, is required to revive enterprise and restore prosperity, he declared.

"The way to create buying power and to reduce unemployment is by increasing production, abolishing inflexible wage scales and resisting artificial price control," he added.

Childs asserted that as excessive taxation raises the cost of production, sales volume is diminished, and fewer sales mean less employment.

TREASURY KEEPS GOLD IMPORTS FROM CREDIT USE

Washington, D. C., June 6.—(AP)—The treasury, in effect, has been "sterilizing" its new gold again. Since its "inactive fund" was closed out April 14 and a $1,400,000,000 hoard of inactive gold released into credit channels, treasury statements show $93,500,000 of gold has been acquired.

That amount of gold has been added to the treasury's general fund, where it is shut off from the stream of credit much the same as was the gold in the "inactive fund."

The main purpose of this new step, officials said today, is to build up a pile of unpledged gold for sale to any foreign government that might want it. No such sales have been made recently, but France bought about $40,000,000 of American gold last winter.

Ordinarily, the treasury pays itself back for the cost of gold purchases by depositing paper equivalents of the metal in the federal reserve system. Now, it is paying out money for the gold bullion which it buys without "cashing in" on the gold's credit value. The effect is to offset the influence on credit of gold imports from abroad.

OFFER SUBSIDY OF 15 MILLIONS TO DOLLAR LINE

Washington, D. C., June 6.—(AP)—The maritime commission offered the Dollar Steamship Lines, Inc., Ltd., of San Francisco, a $15,000,000 subsidy today. It allowed the company ten days in which to accept or reject the offer.

The proposed contract would give the ship line approximately $3,000,000 of federal aid annually for five years. Chairman Emory S. Land said the commission also proposed to advance the company $1,500,000 to recondition the fleet of 13 vessels whose operations would be subsidized under the contract.

The proposals to the shipping company were contained in resolutions adopted by the maritime commission and the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Nebraska Utility Denies Sale to PWA Projects

J. E. Davidson, Omaha, president of the Nebraska Power company, denied yesterday published reports that the company is planning to sell its power plants and service to PWA financed state hydroelectric projects which have been described as a "Nebraska Little TVA." The Nebraska Power company, which serves Omaha, produces about 60 per cent of the state's power.

I.C.C. Approves $2,122,000 Loan by RFC to Railroad

Washington, D. C., June 6.—(AP)—The interstate commerce commission authorized the Galveston, Houston and Henderson Railroad company today to borrow $2,122,000 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation. The commission also found the road was not in need of reorganization.

Steel Output Points Higher; Put at 26.2 Pct. of Capacity

Steel mill operations are scheduled at 26.2 per cent of capacity this week, a shade above the 26.1 per cent of a week ago, according to estimates made yesterday by the American Iron and Steel institute.

The current figure is more than a point above Iron Age's estimate last Thursday that operations were at 25 per cent of capacity, the lowest level reached this year. The previous 1938 low was 25½ per cent during the week beginning Jan. 3.

Output Recedes Since March.

A month ago mills were running at 30.4 per cent of capacity. The year's high of 35.7 per cent was touched at the end of March.

Although suffering from the strike against leading independent producers, the industry was operating at 76.2 per cent of capacity a year ago, up 1.6 per cent from the preceding week. In the corresponding week of 1936 mills were scheduled at 69½ per cent, an increase of 1.3 points from the preceding week.

Operations in Other Years.

Operations three years ago were at 39½ per cent, a decline of 2.8 points. Four years ago the rate was 57.4 per cent.

The United States Pipe and Foundry company has received an order for 1,500 tons of cast iron pipe from Oakland, Cal., another for 800 tons for a California pipe line, and is low bidder on about 900 tons of cement lined pipe for New York City.

May production of open harth and Bessemer steel ingots totaled 1,806,805 gross tons, the lowest since February, the American Iron and Steel institute reported today. April production was 1,925,166 tons, and the May, 1937, total was 5,151,909 tons.

COAL HEAT SHOW DEPICTS VICTORY OVER DIRT, TOIL

New Furnace Empties Own Ashes.

What coal has been doing to meet the competition of other fuels is set forth in an exhibition at the Hotel Sherman in connection with the annual convention of the American Retail Coal association which will be opened this morning. More than 3,000 coal merchants from the area bounded by the Alleghenies, the Rockies, Canada, and the Gulf of Mexico are expected to attend.

"We have been in about the same position as America's railroads," George I. Methe, president of the association, declared last night. "Just as the railroads once enjoyed a virtual monopoly in transportation, so we had a virtual monopoly in fuels. Automobiles, trucks, and airplanes ended the railroad monopoly and oil and gas ended ours.

Stokers Help in Fight.

"The coal industry is meeting its competition with machines—stokers—and with new clean fuels, with the result that it is easy to run a furnace with coal as it is with other forms of fuel and it is as clean."

There are eighty-two exhibitions dealing with coal and its use. One of these is a new stoker which not only feeds a furnace with bituminous coal but it takes the ashes out.

This stoker was developed by a Pocahontas coal firm. In connection with its use, coal of the rice size—about a half the size of marbles—is put into a bin or hopper from which it feeds into a worm screw. An agitator in the bin or hopper keeps the coal from clogging.

Dumps Ashes Automatically.

The worm screw conveys the coal into a retort, or fire box. An agitator in the retort keeps cinders from forming. When the coal is consumed the ashes drop into another worm screw device which takes them outside the furnace and dumps them into buckets.

Other exhibits include various preparations of coal for cleanliness. One exhibit is of packaged coal, in which the coal is wrapped by machinery in heavy paper. It can be piled up in a coal room as cleanly as can packages of groceries in a pantry.

ALUMINUM CO. DENIES CHARGE OF PRICE FIXING

New York, June 6.—[Special.]—Counsel for the Aluminum Company of America today denied all the charges of price fixing, monopoly, and collusion made by the government in its suit alleging violation of the antitrust law.

"The government has put upon the company a criticism including every act in its sixty years of existence, declaring that each act had a malevolent motive," William Watson Smith, company attorney, told the jury in his opening statement. "We deny every charge made by the government regarding malevolent intent."

Smith added that if the charges were true, "every one of the defendants would have been guilty of contempt of court for twenty-six years," referring to a consent decree entered into that long ago forbidding the company to fix prices or engage in monopolistic practises.

FREIGHT VOLUME LOWER, LARGELY DUE TO HOLIDAY

A decline in railroad freight trafic last week, attributed largely to Memorial day, was shown yesterday by the first roads to report car loading figures. Declines from year ago figures, however, were little different than in the week ended May 28.

The Santa Fe reported that its own line loadings last week were 17.7 per cent less than a year ago, compared with a decline of 18.3 per cent for the preceding week. Total loadings of the Rock Island were 9½ per cent less than a year ago, compared with a decline of 12.7 per cent for the week ended May 28.

Give United Cigar-Whelan Official Option on Stock

New York, June 6.—[Special.]—Stockholders of United Cigar-Whelan Stores company today approved the granting of an option to the president of the company to purchase 225,000 shares of authorized common stock. Allen L. Woodworth, the president, said that operations for April were "in the black" and that he hoped a similar showing would be made for May. He said the sale trend was improving in the retail field, and added that a plan is under way to reduce costs by about $580,000 for the year.

Business Bits

John S. Neale, chief engineer of the Chicago Board of Underwriters for the last 14 years, has resigned to become engineer of the protection department of Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc. He will take up his new work on June 16. Neale will have charge of examination, testing, and classification of retardant and fire resistive building materials. He was born in Saugus, Mass., and was a civil engineering graduate of Tufts college in 1915.

Arthur J. O'Hara, manager of the investment research department of the Northern Trust company will be elected president of the Investment Analysts Club of Chicago tonight at the annual meeting to be held at the Great Northern hotel. Past presidents of the club will be honored at the presidents' dinner which the organization gives each year.

One the slate of nominees with O'Hara are Dr. Paul L. Morrison for vice president of the club, Charles A. Capek for secretary, and Richard K. Cartlidge for treasurer.

Election of James Carstairs of Philadelphia as chairman of the board of Carstairs Brothers company, Inc., was announced yesterday. He is a great grandson of Thomas Carstairs, who founded the family's whisky business in 1788. He announced that the company expects to expand operations to a point where it will be a major factor in the American liquor industry, and said merchandising and advertising plans will be announced soon.

Herbert Friedlich, Chicago attorney, was elected a director of the Brunswick-Balke-Collender company yesterday. He succeeds Harold Wessel, who resigned.

The Provident Life and Accident Insurance company announced appointment of Don Compton as agency manager of the accident department of its Chicago office.

TERMS RAIL IDLE INSURANCE BLOW AT OLD WORKERS

Washington, D. C., June 6.—(AP)—Charles D. Young, vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, told a senate committee today that the railroad unemployment insurance bill would be unfair to long service employés. He explained the first employés to benefit by such a system would be those of one or two years' service.

By the time the unemployment trend effects employés of long service, Young told the interstate commerce committee, the proposed insurance fund would be exhausted.

The house interstate commerce committee completed hearings on a similar bill last week. The senate bill was offered by Senator Wagner [D., N. Y.] and Chairman Wheeler [D., Mont.] of the senate interstate commerce committee. Questioned by Wheeler, Young said railroad brotherhoods favored the measure only because "the men are not informed" about its probable effect.

The bill also was opposed by the treasury department, which contended it would be unwise to separate any special group of employés from the regular unemployment benefits established by the social security act.

U.S.Crop Insurance Agency Picks Minneapolis Manager

Washington, D. C., June 6.—(AP)—The Federal Crop Insurance corporation today appointed John H. Fraser of Minneapolis, Minn., as manager of its branch office in Minneapolis for the spring wheat area. Roy M. Green, corporation manager, said the office would be opened for business June 15, and would employ 100 persons. For the last seven years Fraser has been branch office manager in Williston and Grand Forks, N. D., for the Farmer's National Grain corporation.

WHEAT FUTURES LOWER; TRADING LACKS INTEREST

Break at Winnipeg Affects Prices; Corn Sags.

CHICAGO GRAIN FUTURES

	Yesterday.	Saturday.	Year ago.
Wheat	$0.71⅛	$0.72	$1.06
Corn	.56¾	.57⅛	1.15¾
Oats	.26⅝	.27⅛	.38
Rye	.51	.51¾	.86
Soy beans	.85	.85	1.52⅝

Wheat futures closed ⅝ to ¾ of a cent a bushel lower at the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday after moving within a price range of 1⅝ cents a bushel throughout an unusually dull session. The dullness of trading was attributed to general lack of speculative interest and to the fact that the Liverpool market still was closed for the Whitsuntide holidays.

A break of 1¼ to 2½ cents a bushel in Winnipeg wheat futures was a depressing factor in the Chicago market, according to traders. The sharp downturn in Winnipeg futures was said to have reflected a recession in premiums on cash there. The demand for cash wheat was slack because of the British holiday.

Kansas City Gets New Wheat.

Another depressing factor was the receipt in Kansas City of the first car of new wheat this year. Shipments previously had been received in several smaller markets, but none in any of the big terminal markets. The receipt of the wheat in Kansas City, traders said, indicated that the season for hedging sales on the new crop was at hand. Wheat closed 1 to 1¼ cents a bushel lower in Kansas City.

Traders found little in weekly wheat statistics to start grain prices moving in either direction. World shipments of wheat last week were about 8,473,000 bushels, or 600,000 bushels below the preceding week and about 3,000,000 below the corresponding week last year. The visible supply of the United States decreased 2,235,000 bushels to 28,004,000 bushels, the loss running close to the change in the preceding week and in the corresponding week a year ago.

Corn Futures Decline.

Corn futures declined ⅜ to ½ cent a bushel in transactions which were said to be principally local in character. The setback occurred despite the fact that country offerings of cash grain were very light, only about 3,000 bushels having been booked to arrive.

Traders in the corn pit expressed some disappointment that visible supplies were shown in weekly statistical reports to have decreased only 1,311,000 bushels to 24,149,000 bushels, a smaller reduction than in the preceding week. Chicago corn stocks declined only about 91,000 bushels despite heavy shipments from here last week.

Trading in oats and rye was dull and closing prices were about ½ cent a bushel lower.

SALES OF CHAIN STORES DECLINE FROM YEAR AGO

Sales of leading chain store organizations which reported yesterday showed sharp declines compared with a year ago. S. S. Kresge company reported May sales totaled $10,862,364, a decrease of 16.4 per cent from May, 1937, and F. W. Woolworth company disclosed that for the month sales amounted to $22,714,431, a 7.5 per cent drop from the corresponding month a year ago.

Companies which reported yesterday included:

MOST EUROPEAN CURRENCIES GIVE WAY TO DOLLAR

The United States dollar gained yesterday against leading European currencies as a result of further complications in the European political situation. Changes were small, however, with most continental markets closed for the Whitsuntide holidays.

The pound closed 5-16 of a cent lower at $4.94 7-16, and the French franc dipped 0.00¼ cent to 2.77½. The belga and the Swiss franc each lost 0.01 cent.

No engagements of gold abroad were reported yesterday for shipment to New York. Arrivals at New York totaled $959,000 of gold from England.

Price for Treasury Bills Declines from Week Ago

Washington, D. C., June 6.—(AP)—The average accepted price for 91-day treasury bills dropped this week to 99.99, compared with 99.994 a week ago. Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau attributed the lower price to the fact that the treasury sold $100,000,000 worth of the securities this week and only $50,000,000 last week. Last week's price, which was equivalent to borrowing money at .025 per cent, was the best ever obtained by the treasury. This week's price was equivalent to .040 per cent.

NEW LAW HIKES SOME LEVIES ON CAPITAL GAINS

Effects of Revenue Changes Analyzed.

centages of recognized gain or loss to be taken into account under the 1938 act and the prior law:

Length of time asset held—	Percentage of Gain or Loss Taken Into Account. 1938 act.	1936 act.
Less than 12 months	100%	100%
More than 12 but less than 18 months	100%	80%
18 months to 24 months	66⅔%	80%
2 to 5 years	50%	60%
5 to 10 years	50%	40%
More than 10 years	50%	30%

The alternative method of computing the tax on capital gains provides for a levy at the flat rate of 30 per cent of the recognized long term capital gain, after applying the percentages in the above table. The capital gains, in this case, are not included in the regular taxable net income.

Two Methods Compared.

To illustrate the advantage of this alternative method for an individual in a higher income bracket, assume that Mr. Y has a net taxable income of $60,000 after all deductions for dependants, personal exemption, etc., but before considering capital gains or losses. Assume that he sells in 1938 for a $20,000 profit stocks bought in 1931. If he includes 50 per cent of the $20,000 gain in his net income, using the same method that Mr. X followed, he would have taxable net income of $70,000, on which he would have to pay an income tax of $17,660, consisting of $2,800 normal tax and $14,860 surtax.

The new law provides, however, that if the alternative computation results in a smaller tax, the individual shall pay the lesser amount. By this procedure, Mr. Y computes his income tax on $60,000, which amounts to $13,360. On 50 per cent of the $20,000 capital gain, or $10,000, he then takes 30 per cent, which amounts to $3,000. Adding this to the $13,360 tax above, he arrives at $16,360 for the total income tax under the alternative method, or a saving of $1,300, compared with the first procedure.

Under the 1936 act, in which no alternative procedure was provided, the income tax for Mr. Y would have totaled $16,720. In other words, the alternative method in the 1938 law means a saving to him of $360 over what he would have paid formerly, whereas without this provision he would have had to pay more under the new law.

This alternative becomes more advantageous to the taxpayer as his income increases, because it sets maximum rates at which long term capital gains may be taxed, whereas the surtaxes in higher brackets under the other method of computation are greater than the maximums, and increase as the income rises.

15 Per Cent After Two Years.

The maximum in the 1938 law are 15 per cent [30 per cent of 50 per cent of the gain] for assets held more than two years, and 20 per cent [30 per cent of 66 2-3 per cent] for those from 18 to 24 months.

Without the alternative, however, a man with a net income of more than a million dollars [before including capital gains] would have had to pay 36.5 per cent [73 per cent of 50 per cent] on assets held more than two years, and 49 per cent [73 per cent of 66 2-3 per cent] on those held from 18 to 24 months. The 73 per cent applies on income up to 2 millions.

The 1938 law did not make any revision in the method of taxing corporations for capital gains and losses, but revised only the procedure applying to individuals.

COURT TO STUDY VOTING OF STOCK IN CHESAPEAKE

New York, June 6.—(AP)—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today took under advisement a motion filed by the Guaranty Trust company to dismiss an application brought by Robert R. Young, chairman of Alleghany corporation, for an injunction restraining Guaranty Trust from voting controlling stock in the Chesapeake corporation which it holds as trustee at a special meeting of Chesapeake corporation called for April 4 last over Young's protest and subsequently adjourned several times.

The court has not yet handed down its decision in Young's application for an injunction. Today's motion to dismiss was opposed by attorneys representing Young. Guaranty Trust's counsel argued that the issue was now academic since individual stockholders of the Chesapeake and Ohio railway, none of the contention, came forward in numbers large enough to neutralize the power of the block of Chesapeake and Ohio stock owned by the Chesapeake corporation.

'SUBTLE' RULE OF IMPLEMENT PRICES CHARGED

Trade Commission Gives Report to Congress.

few stockholders have large voting control, especially in some of the smaller companies where the stock is closely held. Among the larger companies, nine stockholders controled 37.9 per cent of the voting stock of International Harvester company, and fourteen stockholders controled 49.1 per cent of the voting stock of Deere & Co."

The report does not indicate close relationship among the larger companies through common ownership of stock or interlocking directors or officers.

Price Policies Called Similar.

The commission reported similarity of price policies resulting from concentration of the bulk of production in a few companies.

"For most implements and machines," says the commission, "International Harvester company and Deere & Co. generally are regarded by other manufacturers as the 'price leaders' of the industry. Announcement of prices by other manufacturers is delayed until the prices of these leaders are published.

"This practice, in turn, is facilitated and made possible by extensive exchanges of prices among individual manufacturers. It is claimed by the manufacturers, however, that such exchanges are not made until prices have been definitly decided upon and made known to the trade.

Report Extensive Exchanges.

"The practices of following the leaders in pricing activities, such as extensive exchanges of prices and specifications, and standardization of design and construction of implements, have been substituted for the older, cruder, and more obviously illegal agreements by which manufacturers sought coöperatively to control or restrict competition and enhance prices prior to 1920, as shown in the commission's 1920 report on 'causes of high prices of farm implements.'

"As to standardization as a price factor, the very fact of similarity in design and construction of implements and machines tends to produce similarity, if not uniformity, in prices because implements having no distinguishing characteristics cannot well command higher than ordinary prices except through established custom or special sales promotion. For this reason, standardization, if strictly adopted, tends to produce price uniformity.

Use of Pressure Alleged.

"'Full-line forcing,' or the use of coercive measures to enforce exclusive dealing in the products of certain large manufacturers, has extensive adverse effects upon the interests of small manufacturers, retailers and farmers. The commission's study indicates that although many dealers handle certain competing products along with those of a large long-line manufacturer who is their chief source of supply, there are numerous instances where employés of a large manufacturer have brought pressure to induce individual dealers to stop handling competing lines.

"In several instances investigated, it was found that a dealer, desiring to supply his customers with machines of some manufacturer other than his principal long-line supplier, secretly stored such competing machines and 'bootlegged' them to his trade.

Fear for Contract Cited.

"The basis for enforcement of exclusive-dealing is fear on the part of the retailer that if he does not comply with the demands of his principal supplier, his dealer contract will not be renewed for the ensuing year.

"Elimination or restriction of competition of smaller manufacturers by full-line forcing methods has a tendency to strengthen the dominant position held by a few large manufacturers, and competition becomes progressively weakened both as to price and service to dealers and to farmers.

"At the request of organized retailers the principal manufacturers have adopted the practice of issuing price lists which are, in effect, suggested retail prices for the guidance of retailers in selling.

"This price plan of the manufacturers, however, has not entirely eliminated direct price competition among dealers. Some dealers give less expensive service, or otherwise operate at lower expense than others, and sometimes charge less than the suggested retail prices."

OFFICIALS REFUSE COMMENT.

None of the officials of the companies named in the federal trade commission's report on price fixing activities of the farm equipment manufacturers would comment on the report yesterday.

H. C. Merritt, president of the Farm Equipment institute, said that because the commission's report covers only a part of the investigation, "pending the time when the release is made of the complete report, any comment would be premature."

New York Central Railroad Wins Safety Rating Award

New York, June 6.—[Special.]—The E. H. Hartman memorial award was presented today to F. E. Williamson, president of the New York Central system, in recognition of the system's having attained in 1937 the highest safety rating of the large railroads. In a fourteen year period ended Jan. 1, 1938, the New York Central operated 43,474,596,000 passenger miles without a passenger death.

House Balks at Senate's Over-Counter Broker Bill

Washington, D. C., June 6.—(AP)—The house refused today to consider a senate bill authorizing the Securities and Exchange commission to approve self-regulation of over the counter stock brokers. The bill may be called up again before adjournment.

Cold Room Chick Brooding.

In recent years a new method of artificial brooding has been developed which is said to encourage early feathering and hardy growth of chicks. It consists of providing a warm "hover" four or five feet in diameter, under which the chicks can run when they get cold, and leaving the rest of the room unheated. It has been found that chicks will prowl around in the cold and then run beneath the curtain of the heated hover just as they would seek shelter under a hen.

Poultry raisers who favor this method claim that it more nearly duplicates natural brooding and inures the chicks to changing temperatures. It is said day old chicks thrive under this plan even when weather is so cold as to freeze water in the unheated portion of the brooder room, although it is sometimes necessary to place the feed and water beneath the hover if the cold is extreme. Chicks a week or ten days old will venture out from under the hover when the room temperature is at the freezing point.

The cold room brooding system, sometimes nicknamed cold storage brooding, is said to be adaptable to electricity as well as to coal and oil heating. The temperature under the hover is kept at 100 to 105 degrees, equivalent to that of a hen's breast.

Only Big Debt Is Added, Childs Declares.

C. F. Childs.

Declaring that the Roosevelt administration's program has come back almost to its starting place, which was marked by distress, distrust, and depression, C. F. Childs, in his June monthly investment bulletin, declared yesterday that nothing less than modification or reversal of many of its policies will restore the confidence necessary to solve the nation's economic problems.

Childs is head of C. F. Childs & Co., Chicago and New York investment house which specializes in government securities.

He explained that modification or reversal of many of the administration's policies and substitution of more orthodox principles are necessary for the restoration of confidence to a degree sufficient to obtain genuine coöperation of capital and labor.

Sees Efficiency Sacrificed.

"Agriculture, business, industry, commerce, and finance have sacrificed years of efficiency under resurrected, restrictive political experiments that have proved fallacious during the last several thousand years." Childs continued. "As restrictions create instabilitythey deter capital from investing in new productive enterprise. However, more managed economy and greater regulation is an indicated prospect.

"The administration's program since its beginning, has come back almost to its starting place, which was marked by distress, distrust, and depression. The only difference is that it has piled up a mountain of government debt with which the country was not burdened before."

Assails Monetary Juggling.

Childs declared that economic troubles will not be remedied by monetary tonics to stimulate consumer purchasing power. Action, other than monetary juggling, is required to revive enterprise and restore prosperity, he declared.

"The way to create buying power and to reduce unemployment is by increasing production, abolishing inflexible wage scales and resisting artificial price control," he added.

Childs asserted that as excessive taxation raises the cost of production, sales volume is diminished, and fewer sales mean less employment.

TREASURY KEEPS GOLD IMPORTS FROM CREDIT USE

Washington, D. C., June 6.—(AP)—The treasury, in effect, has been "sterilizing" its new gold again. Since its "inactive fund" was closed out April 14 and a $1,400,000,000 hoard of inactive gold released into credit channels, treasury statements show $93,500,000 of gold has been acquired.

That amount of gold has been added to the treasury's general fund, where it is shut off from the stream of credit much the same as was the gold in the "inactive fund."

The main purpose of this new step, officials said today, is to build up a pile of unpledged gold for sale to any foreign government that might want it. No such sales have been made recently, but France bought about $40,000,000 of American gold last winter.

Ordinarily, the treasury pays itself back for the cost of gold purchases by depositing paper equivalents of the metal in the federal reserve system. Now, it is paying out money for the gold bullion which it buys without "cashing in" on the gold's credit value. The effect is to offset the influence on credit of gold imports from abroad.

OFFER SUBSIDY OF 15 MILLIONS TO DOLLAR LINE

Washington, D. C., June 6.—(AP)—The maritime commission offered the Dollar Steamship Lines, Inc., Ltd., of San Francisco, a $15,000,000 subsidy today. It allowed the company ten days in which to accept or reject the offer.

The proposed contract would give the ship line approximately $3,000,000 of federal aid annually for five years. Chairman Emory S. Land said the commission also proposed to advance the company $1,500,000 to recondition the fleet of 13 vessels whose operations would be subsidized under the contract.

The proposals to the shipping company were contained in resolutions adopted by the maritime commission and the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Nebraska Utility Denies Sale to PWA Projects

J. E. Davidson, Omaha, president of the Nebraska Power company, denied yesterday published reports that the company is planning to sell its power plants and service to PWA financed state hydroelectric projects which have been described as a "Nebraska Little TVA." The Nebraska Power company, which serves Omaha, produces about 60 per cent of the state's power.

I.C.C. Approves $2,122,000 Loan by RFC to Railroad

Washington, D. C., June 6.—(AP)—The interstate commerce commission authorized the Galveston, Houston and Henderson Railroad company today to borrow $2,122,000 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation. The commission also found the road was not in need of reorganization.

Steel Output Points Higher; Put at 26.2 Pct. of Capacity

Steel mill operations are scheduled at 26.2 per cent of capacity this week, a shade above the 26.1 per cent of a week ago, according to estimates made yesterday by the American Iron and Steel institute.

The current figure is more than a point above Iron Age's estimate last Thursday that operations were at 25 per cent of capacity, the lowest level reached this year. The previous 1938 low was 25½ per cent during the week beginning Jan. 3.

Output Recedes Since March.

A month ago mills were running at 30.4 per cent of capacity. The year's high of 35.7 per cent was touched at the end of March.

Although suffering from the strike against leading independent producers, the industry was operating at 76.2 per cent of capacity a year ago, up 1.6 per cent from the preceding week. In the corresponding week of 1936 mills were scheduled at 69½ per cent, an increase of 1.3 points from the preceding week.

Operations in Other Years.

Operations three years ago were at 39½ per cent, a decline of 2.8 points. Four years ago the rate was 57.4 per cent.

The United States Pipe and Foundry company has received an order for 1,500 tons of cast iron pipe from Oakland, Cal., another for 800 tons for a California pipe line, and is low bidder on about 900 tons of cement lined pipe for New York City.

May production of open harth and Bessemer steel ingots totaled 1,806,805 gross tons, the lowest since February, the American Iron and Steel institute reported today. April production was 1,925,166 tons, and the May, 1937, total was 5,151,909 tons.

COAL HEAT SHOW DEPICTS VICTORY OVER DIRT, TOIL

New Furnace Empties Own Ashes.

What coal has been doing to meet the competition of other fuels is set forth in an exhibition at the Hotel Sherman in connection with the annual convention of the American Retail Coal association which will be opened this morning. More than 3,000 coal merchants from the area bounded by the Alleghenies, the Rockies, Canada, and the Gulf of Mexico are expected to attend.

"We have been in about the same position as America's railroads," George I. Methe, president of the association, declared last night. "Just as the railroads once enjoyed a virtual monopoly in transportation, so we had a virtual monopoly in fuels. Automobiles, trucks, and airplanes ended the railroad monopoly and oil and gas ended ours.

Stokers Help in Fight.

"The coal industry is meeting its competition with machines—stokers—and with new clean fuels, with the result that it is easy to run a furnace with coal as it is with other forms of fuel and it is as clean."

There are eighty-two exhibitions dealing with coal and its use. One of these is a new stoker which not only feeds a furnace with bituminous coal but it takes the ashes out.

This stoker was developed by a Pocahontas coal firm. In connection with its use, coal of the rice size—about a half the size of marbles—is put into a bin or hopper from which it feeds into a worm screw. An agitator in the bin or hopper keeps the coal from clogging.

Dumps Ashes Automatically.

The worm screw conveys the coal into a retort, or fire box. An agitator in the retort keeps cinders from forming. When the coal is consumed the ashes drop into another worm screw device which takes them outside the furnace and dumps them into buckets.

Other exhibits include various preparations of coal for cleanliness. One exhibit is of packaged coal, in which the coal is wrapped by machinery in heavy paper. It can be piled up in a coal room as cleanly as can packages of groceries in a pantry.

ALUMINUM CO. DENIES CHARGE OF PRICE FIXING

New York, June 6.—[Special.]—Counsel for the Aluminum Company of America today denied all the charges of price fixing, monopoly, and collusion made by the government in its suit alleging violation of the antitrust law.

"The government has put upon the company a criticism including every act in its sixty years of existence, declaring that each act had a malevolent motive," William Watson Smith, company attorney, told the jury in his opening statement. "We deny every charge made by the government regarding malevolent intent."

Smith added that if the charges were true, "every one of the defendants would have been guilty of contempt of court for twenty-six years," referring to a consent decree entered into that long ago forbidding the company to fix prices or engage in monopolistic practises.

FREIGHT VOLUME LOWER, LARGELY DUE TO HOLIDAY

A decline in railroad freight trafic last week, attributed largely to Memorial day, was shown yesterday by the first roads to report car loading figures. Declines from year ago figures, however, were little different than in the week ended May 28.

The Santa Fe reported that its own line loadings last week were 17.7 per cent less than a year ago, compared with a decline of 18.3 per cent for the preceding week. Total loadings of the Rock Island were 9½ per cent less than a year ago, compared with a decline of 12.7 per cent for the week ended May 28.

Car loadings, with comparisons, follow:

Give United Cigar-Whelan Official Option on Stock

New York, June 6.—[Special.]—Stockholders of United Cigar-Whelan Stores company today approved the granting of an option to the president of the company to purchase 225,000 shares of authorized common stock. Allen L. Woodworth, the president, said that operations for April were "in the black" and that he hoped a similar showing would be made for May. He said the sale trend was improving in the retail field, and added that a plan is under way to reduce costs by about $580,000 for the year.

Business Bits

John S. Neale, chief engineer of the Chicago Board of Underwriters for the last 14 years, has resigned to become engineer of the protection department of Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc. He will take up his new work on June 16. Neale will have charge of examination, testing, and classification of retardant and fire resistive building materials. He was born in Saugus, Mass., and was a civil engineering graduate of Tufts college in 1915.

Arthur J. O'Hara, manager of the investment research department of the Northern Trust company will be elected president of the Investment Analysts Club of Chicago tonight at the annual meeting to be held at the Great Northern hotel. Past presidents of the club will be honored at the presidents' dinner which the organization gives each year.

One the slate of nominees with O'Hara are Dr. Paul L. Morrison for vice president of the club, Charles A. Capek for secretary, and Richard K. Cartlidge for treasurer.

Election of James Carstairs of Philadelphia as chairman of the board of Carstairs Brothers company, Inc., was announced yesterday. He is a great grandson of Thomas Carstairs, who founded the family's whisky business in 1788. He announced that the company expects to expand operations to a point where it will be a major factor in the American liquor industry, and said merchandising and advertising plans will be announced soon.

Herbert Friedlich, Chicago attorney, was elected a director of the Brunswick-Balke-Collender company yesterday. He succeeds Harold Wessel, who resigned.

The Provident Life and Accident Insurance company announced appointment of Don Compton as agency manager of the accident department of its Chicago office.

TERMS RAIL IDLE INSURANCE BLOW AT OLD WORKERS

Washington, D. C., June 6.—(AP)—Charles D. Young, vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, told a senate committee today that the railroad unemployment insurance bill would be unfair to long service employés. He explained the first employés to benefit by such a system would be those of one or two years' service.

By the time the unemployment trend effects employés of long service, Young told the interstate commerce committee, the proposed insurance fund would be exhausted.

The house interstate commerce committee completed hearings on a similar bill last week. The senate bill was offered by Senator Wagner [D., N. Y.] and Chairman Wheeler [D., Mont.] of the senate interstate commerce committee. Questioned by Wheeler, Young said railroad brotherhoods favored the measure only because "the men are not informed" about its probable effect.

The bill also was opposed by the treasury department, which contended it would be unwise to separate any special group of employés from the regular unemployment benefits established by the social security act.

U.S. Crop Insurance Agency Picks Minneapolis Manager

Washington, D. C., June 6.—(AP)—The Federal Crop Insurance corporation today appointed John H. Fraser of Minneapolis, Minn., as manager of its branch office in Minneapolis for the spring wheat area. Roy M. Green, corporation manager, said the office would be opened for business June 15, and would employ 100 persons. For the last seven years Fraser has been branch office manager in Williston and Grand Forks, N. D., for the Farmer's National Grain corporation.

WHEAT FUTURES LOWER; TRADING LACKS INTEREST

Break at Winnipeg Affects Prices; Corn Sags.

CHICAGO GRAIN FUTURES

	Yesterday.	Saturday.	Year ago.
Wheat	$0.71⅛	$0.72	$1.06
Corn	.56¾	.57⅛	1.15¾
Oats	.26⅝	.27⅛	.38
Rye	.51	.51¾	.86
Soy beans	.85	.85	1.52⅜

Wheat futures closed ⅝ to ¾ of a cent a bushel lower at the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday after moving within a price range of 1⅝ cents a bushel throughout an unusually dull session. The dullness of trading was attributed to general lack of speculative interest and to the fact that the Liverpool market still was closed for the Whitsuntide holidays.

A break of 1¼ to 2½ cents a bushel in Winnipeg wheat futures was a depressing factor in the Chicago market, according to traders. The sharp downturn in Winnipeg futures was said to have reflected a recession in premiums on cash there. The demand for cash wheat was slack because of the British holiday.

Kansas City Gets New Wheat.

Another depressing factor was the receipt in Kansas City of the first car of new wheat this year. Shipments previously had been received in several smaller markets, but none in any of the big terminal markets. The receipt of the wheat in Kansas City, traders said, indicated that the season for hedging sales on the new crop was at hand. Wheat closed 1 to 1¼ cents a bushel lower in Kansas City.

Traders found little in weekly wheat statistics to start grain prices moving in either direction. World shipments of wheat last week were about 8,473,000 bushels, or 600,000 bushels below the preceding week and about 3,000,000 below the corresponding week last year. The visible supply of the United States decreased 2,235,000 bushels to 28,004,000 bushels, the loss running close to the change in the preceding week and in the corresponding week a year ago.

Corn Futures Decline.

Corn futures declined ⅜ to ½ cent a bushel in transactions which were said to be principally local in character. The setback occurred despite the fact that country offerings of cash grain were very light, only about 3,000 bushels having been booked to arrive.

Traders in the corn pit expressed some disappointment that visible supplies were shown in weekly statistical reports to have decreased only 1,311,000 bushels to 24,149,000 bushels, a smaller reduction than in the preceding week. Chicago corn stocks declined only about 91,000 bushels despite heavy shipments from here last week.

Trading in oats and rye was dull and closing prices were about ½ cent a bushel lower.

SALES OF CHAIN STORES DECLINE FROM YEAR AGO

Sales of leading chain store organizations which reported yesterday showed sharp declines compared with a year ago. S. S. Kresge company reported May sales totaled $10,862,364, a decrease of 16.4 per cent from May, 1937, and F. W. Woolworth company disclosed that for the month sales amounted to $22,714,431, a 7.5 per cent drop from the corresponding month a year ago.

Companies which reported yesterday included:

MAY.	1938.	1937.
Consol Retail Strs.	$ 658,792	$ 767,550
Crown Drug	681,206	754,705

MOST EUROPEAN CURRENCIES GIVE WAY TO DOLLAR

The United States dollar gained yesterday against leading European currencies as a result of further complications in the European political situation. Changes were small, however, with most continental markets closed for the Whitsuntide holidays.

The pound closed 5-16 of a cent lower at $4.94 7-16, and the French franc dipped 0.00¼ cent to 2.77½. The belga and the Swiss franc each lost 0.01 cent.

No engagements of gold abroad were reported yesterday for shipment to New York. Arrivals at New York totaled $959,000 of gold from England.

Price for Treasury Bills Declines from Week Ago

Washington, D. C., June 6.—(AP)—The average accepted price for 91-day treasury bills dropped this week to 99.99, compared with 99.994 a week ago. Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau attributed the lower price to the fact that the treasury sold $100,000,000 worth of the securities this week and only $50,000,000 last week. Last week's price, which was equivalent to borrowing money at .025 per cent, was the best ever obtained by the treasury. This week's price was equivalent to .040 per cent.

NEW LAW HIKES SOME LEVIES ON CAPITAL GAINS

Effects of Revenue Changes Analyzed.

centages of recognized gain or loss to be taken into account under the 1938 act and the prior law:

Length of time asset held—	Percentage of Gain or Loss Taken Into Account. 1938 act.	1936 act.
Less than 12 months	100%	100%
More than 12 but less than 18 months	100%	80%
18 months to 24 months	66⅔%	80%
2 to 5 years	50%	60%
5 to 10 years	50%	40%
More than 10 years	50%	30%

The alternative method of computing the tax on capital gains provides for a levy at the flat rate of 30 per cent of the recognized long term capital gain, after applying the percentages in the above table. The capital gains, in this case, are not included in the regular taxable net income.

Two Methods Compared.

To illustrate the advantage of this alternative method for an individual in a higher income bracket, assume that Mr. Y has a net taxable income of $60,000 after all deductions for dependants, personal exemption, etc., but before considering capital gains or losses. Assume that he sells in 1938 for a $20,000 profit stocks bought in 1931. If he includes 50 per cent of the $20,000 gain in his net income, using the same method that Mr. X followed, he would have taxable net income of $70,000, on which he would have to pay an income tax of $17,660, consisting of $2,800 normal tax and $14,860 surtax.

The new law provides, however, that if the alternative computation results in a smaller tax, the individual shall pay the lesser amount. By this procedure, Mr. Y computes his income tax on $60,000, which amounts to $13,360. On 50 per cent of the $20,000 capital gain, or $10,000, he then takes 30 per cent, which amounts to $3,000. Adding this to the $13,360 tax above, he arrives at $16,360 for the total income tax under the alternative method, or a saving of $1,300, compared with the first procedure.

Under the 1936 act, in which no alternative procedure was provided, the income tax for Mr. Y would have totaled $16,720. In other words, the alternative method in the 1938 law means a saving to him of $360 over what he would have paid formerly, whereas without this provision he would have had to pay more under the new law.

This alternative becomes more advantageous to the taxpayer as his income increases, because it sets maximum rates at which long term capital gains may be taxed, whereas the surtaxes in higher brackets under the other method of computation are greater than the maximums, and increase as the income rises.

15 Per Cent After Two Years.

The maximum in the 1938 law are 15 per cent [30 per cent of 50 per cent of the gain] for assets held more than two years, and 20 per cent [30 per cent of 66 2-3 per cent] for those from 18 to 24 months.

Without the alternative, however, a man with a net income of more than a million dollars [before including capital gains] would have had to pay 36.5 per cent [73 per cent of 50 per cent] on assets held more than two years, and 49 per cent [73 per cent of 66 2-3 per cent] on those held from 18 to 24 months. The 73 per cent applies on income up to 2 millions.

The 1938 law did not make any revision in the method of taxing corporations for capital gains and losses, but revised only the procedure applying to individuals.

COURT TO STUDY VOTING OF STOCK IN CHESAPEAKE

New York, June 6.—(AP)—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today took under advisement a motion filed by the Guaranty Trust company to dismiss an application brought by Robert R. Young, chairman of Alleghany corporation, for an injunction restraining Guaranty Trust from voting controlling stock in the Chesapeake corporation which it holds as trustee at a special meeting of Chesapeake corporation called for April 4 last over Young's protest and subsequently adjourned several times.

The court has not yet handed down its decision in Young's application for an injunction. Today's motion to dismiss was opposed by attorneys representing Young. Guaranty Trust's counsel argued that the issue was now academic since individual stockholders of the Chesapeake and Ohio railway, bone of the contention, came forward in numbers large enough to neutralize the power of the block of Chesapeake and Ohio stock owned by the Chesapeake corporation.

'SUBTLE' RULE OF IMPLEMENT PRICES CHARGED

few stockholders have large voting control, especially in some of the smaller companies where the stock is closely held. Among the larger companies, nine stockholders controled 37.9 per cent of the voting stock of International Harvester company, and fourteen stockholders controled 49.1 per cent of the voting stock of Deere & Co."

The report does not indicate close relationship among the larger companies through common ownership of stock or interlocking directors or officers.

Price Policies Called Similar.

The commission reported similarity of price policies resulting from concentration of the bulk of production in a few companies.

"For most implements and machines," says the commission, "International Harvester company and Deere & Co. generally are regarded by other manufacturers as the 'price leaders' of the industry. Announcement of prices by other manufacturers is delayed until the prices of these leaders are published.

"This practice, in turn, is facilitated and made possible by extensive exchanges of prices among individual manufacturers. It is claimed by the manufacturers, however, that such exchanges are not made until prices have been definitly decided upon and made known to the trade.

Report Extensive Exchanges.

"The practices of following the leaders in pricing activities, such as extensive exchanges of prices and specifications, and standardization of design and construction of implements, have been substituted for the older, cruder, and more obviously illegal agreements by which manufacturers sought coöperatively to control or restrict competition and enhance prices prior to 1920, as shown in the commission's 1920 report on 'causes of high prices of farm implements.'

"As to standardization as a price factor, the very fact of similarity in design and construction of implements and machines tends to produce similarity, if not uniformity, in prices because implements having no distinguishing characteristics cannot well command higher than ordinary prices except through established custom or special sales promotion. For this reason, standardization, if strictly adopted, tends to produce price uniformity.

Use of Pressure Alleged.

"'Full-line forcing,' or the use of coercive measures to enforce exclusive dealing in the products of certain large manufacturers, has extensive adverse effects upon the interests of small manufacturers, retailers and farmers. The commission's study indicates that although many dealers handle certain competing products along with those of a large long-line manufacturer who is their chief source of supply, there are numerous instances where employés of a large manufacturer have brought pressure to induce individual dealers to stop handling competing lines.

"In several instances investigated, it was found that a dealer, desiring to supply his customers with machines of some manufacturer other than his principal long-line supplier, secretly stored such competing machines and 'bootlegged' them to his trade.

Fear for Contract Cited.

"The basis for enforcement of exclusive-dealing is fear on the part of the retailer that if he does not comply with the demands of his principal supplier, his dealer contract will not be renewed for the ensuing year.

"Elimination or restriction of competition of smaller manufacturers by full-line forcing methods has a tendency to strengthen the dominant position held by a few large manufacturers, and competition becomes progressively weakened both as to price and service to dealers and to farmers.

"At the request of organized retailers the principal manufacturers have adopted the practice of issuing price lists which are, in effect, suggested retail prices for the guidance of retailers in selling.

"This price plan of the manufacturers, however, has not entirely eliminated direct price competition among dealers. Some dealers give less expensive service, or otherwise operate at lower expense than others, and sometimes charge less than the suggested retail prices."

OFFICIALS REFUSE COMMENT.

None of the officials of the companies named in the federal trade commission's report on price fixing activities of the farm equipment manufacturers would comment on the report yesterday.

H. C. Merritt, president of the Farm Equipment institute, said that because the commission's report covers only a part of the investigation, "pending the time when the release is made of the complete report, any comment would be premature."

New York Central Railroad Wins Safety Rating Award

New York, June 6.—[Special.]—The E. H. Hartman memorial award was presented today to F. E. Williamson, president of the New York Central system, in recognition of the system's having attained in 1937 the highest safety rating of the large railroads. In a fourteen year period ended Jan. 1, 1938, the New York Central operated 43,474,596,000 passenger miles without a passenger death.

House Balks at Senate's Over-Counter Broker Bill

Washington, D. C., June 6.—(AP)—The house refused today to consider a senate bill authorizing the Securities and Exchange commission to approve self-regulation of over the counter stock brokers. The bill may be called up again before adjournment.

Cold Room Chick Brooding.

In recent years a new method of artificial brooding has been developed which is said to encourage early feathering and hardy growth of chicks. It consists of providing a warm "hover" four or five feet in diameter, under which the chicks can run when they get cold, and leaving the rest of the room unheated. It has been found that chicks will prowl around in the cold and then run beneath the curtain of the heated hover just as they would seek shelter under a hen.

Poultry raisers who favor this method claim that it more nearly duplicates natural brooding and inures the chicks to changing temperatures. It is said day old chicks thrive under this plan even when weather is so cold as to freeze water in the unheated portion of the brooder room, although it is sometimes necessary to place the feed and water beneath the hover if the cold is extreme. Chicks a week or ten days old will venture out from under the hover when the room temperature is at the freezing point.

The cold room brooding system, sometimes nicknamed cold storage brooding, is said to be adaptable to electricity as well as to coal and oil heating. The temperature under the hover is kept at 100 to 105 degrees, equivalent to that of a hen's breast.

HELP WANTED—MEN.

Salesmen.

MEN FOR A PERMANENT POSITION.

My company has authorized me to employ 10 men immediately who live on the north or northwest side of Chicago and suburbs, test them out for several days while in training, without any expense or cost whatsoever to these men and place them immediately in our north side branches on a permanent basis with liberal participation in the profits with no investment.

Steadiness and good character needed; not ability to talk, nor a clientele, nor any previous experience. We are not advertising for salesmen, because our method of putting our prospect into the market is so unusual that it must be taught especially, but it is so simple to learn that no time need be lost in getting started. While getting started men of average ability must be willing to get along on reasonable weekly commission earnings.

You learn from practical men earning substantial incomes every week. We do not require men with electrical unit sales experience because this work is so different from sales jobs as interpreted by the great majority of men. However, to be accepted you must be willing to work hard and study to qualify for the larger pay schedules. Call at Ainslie Hotel, 3206 West Ainslie-street. Mr. Hogan, Tuesday a. m., 10:30 to 11.

ARE YOU

an experienced salesman with ability, an aggressive worker? This is the best proposition in Chicago for a live one.

We have to offer, provided you can qualify, a connection with the livest, depression-proof sales organization in the city. We will approve 30 applicants for these positions. Money advanced. Live leads furnished, largest rate of commission paid; finest properties to work on; highly organized and systemitized management; experienced closers to follow work in field. Our salesmen can and are making now $100, $200, and $250 a week, and some more.

Apply to this organization if you are a worker and want to make money.

LEADS FURNISHED

Will employ 6 men with selling experience, age 25-45 only. Requires men who are energetic about their work. Not wishing men, but men who say "I will" and follow through. Plenty of money and abundance of opportunity to men who co-ordinate the working of brain and body. This is educational work which pays a substantial commission from the beginning and offers opportunity for both local and out of city connection with expense advance. We use a protected lead file system and all prospects are well qualified. Also unusual opportunity for 2 men having had life insurance debit experience, for our debit dept. Apply Tuesday, 11 to 12, 2 to 5, Harding Hotel, 2d floor, Parlor A.

THE FINEST OPPORTUNITY IN THE UNITED STATES AWAITS YOU IF YOU CAN SUCCESSFULLY MEET THE REQUIREMENTS OF THIS AD. FIRST OF ALL YOU MUST BE WILLING TO LEARN THIS BUSINESS THOROUGHLY FROM THE GROUND UP SO THAT WE CAN PLACE YOU IN ONE OF SEVERAL POSITIONS OF RESPONSIBILITY NOW OPEN. WE HAVE SO ARRANGED OUR COURSE OF TRAINING THAT YOU CAN EARN $45 PER WEEK COMMISSION WHILE LEARNING. DO NOT ANSWER THIS AD UNLESS YOU ARE SINCERE AND WILLING TO START WORK AT ONCE.
THE RUDOLPH WURLITZER CO.
SEE MR. MOFFITT, 1:30 P. M. TUESDAY. NO OTHER TIME. 111 S. WABASH.

WANTED.

Two exceptional salesmen. An excellent opportunity is open in Chicago for two powerful men with unquestioned record. These men must have force, imagination, courage, and ability to talk and present a startling profit story to retail merchants. Product is in its infancy, being electrical profit making equipment that sells at more than $1,000. It is being used by the nation's leading merchants. Men selected must be in position to finance themselves sixty days on straight commission. Earnings well over $5,000. For interview call Mr. Brookman at Hotel Sherman, Tuesday.

NORTH SIDE MEN. WEST SIDE MEN.

STUDEBAKER—1937 PRESIDENT 8 COUPE. The car Studebaker owners make more than favorable comment on and a car that seems to give very satisfactory performance. Traded to us for a larger car. You will like this coupe at first glance—it bears out the fact that the former owner accorded it the best of care—both mechanically and physically. Very attractive deep-toned finish. White-wall tires with heavy tread. Mechanical refinements include automatic overdrive transmission—a proven gas saving and power increasing arrangement. This car is blue-booked for $660. Our price is $575.
Chrysler Factory Branch. 2234 S. Michigan.

STUDEBAKER — COMMANDER SEDAN. Here is a car that you really will be proud to own. 1935 model that was in storage a great part of the time while owner traveled.
